

How Northwest's Child

came to be:

Northwest's Child was established by Darcy Doyle-Hupf when she began a search for a 13 year old boy named Max with severe Autism and Downs Syndrome. He was non-verbal, diapered and required a great deal of supervision. After all efforts to find a program to meet his needs were exhausted, Darcy saw the need in a program like Northwest's Child. In 1991, NWC opened it's doors as the first of it's kind non-profit extended day program for school aged children & teens with severe/profound developmental and physical disabilities.

The goal back in 1991 remains the same goal today; Northwest's Child is a non-profit dedicated to the mission of serving not only the day to day primary needs of each student, but also the educational, social and vocational needs as well.

Northwest's Child

Northwest's Child provides a safe nurturing place for children and teens with moderate to severe special needs. NWC is a valuable extension to each student's school day and increases their chances of mastering the many goals they strive to achieve.

More about Northwest's Child

- NWC is a year round program, that adjusts its schedule to serve clients when schools have early dismissals and breaks.
- NWC staff work with our students on the IEP (individualized education program) goals created by their schools.
- NWC focuses on community integration by frequent outings, fieldtrips & volunteers
- Adapted, individualized Curriculum

What sets us apart?

- Year round, high quality care
- Extended educational program
- IEP goals and objectives
- Family advocacy
- Yearly Program-Sponsored Prom
- Personal care needs
- Daily field trips & community integration

"I'm just so grateful for the care my son receives. My whole family was impacted in a positive way because of the wonderful loving care for my son. Thank you is not enough!" - anonymous NWC parent

Aaron's Place

Aaron's Place was created to address the serious need for full day services for young adults with special needs that have recently graduated from high school. Aaron's Place is named after a former student, Aaron, who lived with a degenerative disability and made it his goal to live to 21. He did just that, and Aaron's Place is now a place for us to honor Aaron's memory and provide a full day to adults, 21 years of age and older, with special needs.

More about Aaron's Place:

- We offer independent living skills, community integration, socialization and peer friendships
- Volunteering
- Daily fieldtrips in the greater Seattle/ King County and Snohomish area
- All personal care needs are met (feeding, personal hygiene)
