WHAT'S SO GREAT ABOUT THE 80'S?

...and what does it have to do with IWA students?

While every yearbook must have a theme, how well does each theme fit with the school's students? After considering many different ways to represent this past year as it ran right by us, it became clear that each and every one of the students here at IWA was born in the 80's. Each page in this yearbook serves as a little window back to the era in which you were born, as well as the highlights of the past school year.

We flashback to the Prom and being "Pretty in Pink," we remember watching the Smurfs, and "being" Smurfs, and we'll never forget our teachers who were "simply the best," and definitely "better than all the rest."

As each day goes by, we only grow closer to each other as friends and as part of a big IWA family. Through growth, triumphs, tribulations, and learning from those around us, we have become one. We've proved that we can stick together through changes, adapt to new ideas, and survive the four most outstanding and educational years of our lives. Being here at IWA has certainly left us with many wonderful memories to last a lifetime, so why not have the yearbook reflect an entire lifetime?

This book truly serves as a retrospective of not only the year as a whole, but also what we're made of. From the 80's to 2004, our lives proceed.

Seniors Richard Fritz, Ryan Duncan, Priscilla Esparza, Jeremy Basaldu, and John Hayes share a memorable bonding experience together at the burning of the A.

Transformers: ★ Angels in Disguise ★

Thanks to great minds who work behind the scenes, everything at school always seems to be perfect. Those “transformers” may not always be in our classrooms, but they are always in our hearts. Great recognition is well deserved to those such as Sister Anna Marie Espinosa, Sister Irma Gonzalez, and the entire Incarnate Word Academy School Board.

SHOUT, SHOUT...

LET IT ALL OUT!

BEFORE THE GOODBYES, THE SENIOR CLASS IS ALWAYS FILLED WITH SCHOOL SPIRIT AND PRIDE, BECAUSE AS HIGH SCHOOL COMES TO AN END, THIS IS THE LAST OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW JUST HOW MUCH FUN THE WHOLE EXPERIENCE REALLY IS. IT'S TIME TO SHOUT, LET IT ALL OUT, AND LEAVE YOUR LASTING MARK IN ALL THE MEMORIES OF EVERYONE WHO HELPED YOU ALONG THE WAY OF YOUR FOUR YEAR JOURNEY BEFORE FINALLY GOING SEPARATE WAYS.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 2004
LET'S LOOSE FOR A CHEESY
GROUP PHOTO.

Erin Merkl: "The show must go on."

Bridget Costello: "Scars heal, glories fade, all we're left with are the memories made. Pain hurts, but only for a minute, life is short, so go on and live it."

Jeremy Basaldu: "We are all just marionettes being forces to dance by invisible strings."

Ivan Leon: "Species come and go, but the earth stands forever fast." -In Flames

Ryan Brister: "And when the day is done, what you receive is the sum of what you took out from what you put in." -311

Sarah Quick: "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." - Eleanor Roosevelt

Melinda Pammit: "Sounds like a party out there, no worries! no cares! Things look good around here!" - Roger Creager

SENIORS 04

Senior year is a time for memories, excitement, fun, and building relationships that will hopefully last lifetimes.

Although most classes go through changes, it's the ability to adapt to those changes and accept losses and gains that really makes a group of people special, and this year's class is nothing short of that.

Through the rough times and the smooth, from the starting line, all the way to the "final frontier," 2004 belongs to us now and forever.

Massie Mahzoon-Hagheghi: "For some, life lasts a short while, but the memories it holds, last forever." -Laura Swenson

THE FINAL

FRONTIER!!

Joe Galatzan: "The sole thing that one possesses throughout their entire life is hope."

Priscilla Esparza: "I want maps of people's brains, translated into English, so I can learn how to not make them frown."

Bailey Allison: "It's all fun and games until someone hits a Porsche Cayenne."

Elisabeth Nordby: "Between the best and the worst of times is where the dance of life truly takes place."

 This year the IWA
 French Club has gone beyond the boundaries of regular club activities and ventured out of the country to FRANCE! The trip was amazing and many of the French club members were lucky to attend.

While visiting, they got the Missions to Mexico

Each year I.W.A.'s Mission team travels into the heart of Mexico to serve and enlighten. Students volunteer to go on this journey and help spread the word of the Lord during Holy Week, teaching the people in their villages about the Passion of Christ. During this week, the students had a great time and really grew as individuals.

Mad about...Club Med!

Is there a doctor in the house? Not quite yet, but J.W.A.'s Medical Club, Club Med, is giving light to students who hope to be in the medical field someday.

After a fun-filled field trip to Texas A&M's nursing center, the students continued having a great time learning about all things MEDICAL.

It's a total eclipse of the Art

Beautifying the school and making it look cool is the golden rule of the Art Club here at I.W.A.. On their field trip to Houston this past year, they had a colorific time learning about art and brought home many wonderful memories.

Octagon Club 2004

Every student at IWA is required to reserve some of their time for community service, but the Octagon Club really goes the extra mile. They go out of their way to spend most of their free time lending a helping hand around their communities and donating much needed supplies to charity. Such a generous and active club, Caddyshacked!

The IWA golf team is definitely something to talk about! With an outstanding team consisting of 5 boys and 5 girls, they made it all the way to state this year and had a really great season.

HOOSIERS!

Though many challenging teams have been played in the past year, the boy's basketball team stuck together. They displayed tremendous ability and skill against many opponents. In the words of one Incarnate Word senior, "they're awesome!"

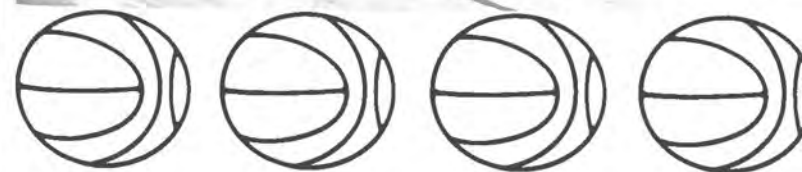

Some of the varsity guys on the basketball team line up and watch as one of their teammates goes for a free throw.

These girls shook it up!

When it comes to game, these girls have got it. When it comes to earth shaking moves, these girls are the masters. IWA's girl's basketball team has really gone above and beyond expectations, leaving the season with a spectacular outcome. TOTALLY BOSS!

Angels don't just fly...

Kevin Duerr, Mindy Pammit, Danny Shea, Coach Sue Anne Pyle, Amanda Bertuzzi, and Julie Romano are the IWA swim team.

...they can swim too! IWA's swim team has accomplished so much and gone so far with their competitions. With much dedication and persistence, the team practiced long hours and had an awesome season.

After a successful state meet, the team retired leaving only a wonderful year to be remembered.

The swim team smiles while in the pool after a dedicated practice.

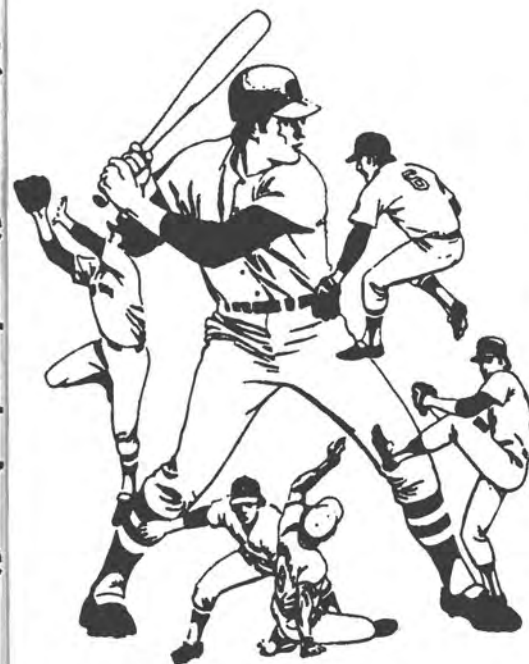

Mindy Pammit and Danny Shea proudly display their medals at the last swim meet.

Amanda Bertuzzi goes the extra mile, putting her all into swimming as fast as she can during a competition.

...and it's out of the park! This year, the I.W.A. Angel Baseball team has kept busy impressing the crowds.

Right, the guys prepare to go back out on the field. Below, the boy's junior varsity and varsity baseball teams pose for a group shot with the coaches.

A Field of Dreams!

Pitching their way into a field of dreams, they ended the season with a slam and went out as champs.

...And I ran, I ran so far away!

Endurance. Stamina. Resilience.

That's what it takes to be on the IWA track team. They run, they jump, and they throw hard.

After a lot of practicing, the team competed against many schools from all over the region and emerged triumphantly sending Bridget Costello, John Hayes, and Ashley Kasner to state competition.

Left, Michael Juarez runs like the wind at a track meet, ready to beat the competition.

Hit me with your best shot

It's all in the arms for these girls when it comes to Softball. I.W.A.'s Lady Angels Softball team has been at it all season, hitting the competition with their best shots.

Thanks to a great team, g n a r l y coaches, and a w e s o m e effort, the s e a s o n ended with celebration.

The GIRLS are back in town!

Although the girl's soccer team has undergone many significant changes since last year, they have stuck together and definitely proved to be victorious.

Always united, the girls have shown awesome team spirit and have taught everyone how it's really done.

Soccer is a BATTLEFIELD

After weeks in training and long hard practices, the soccer team's efforts undoubtedly paid off. Constantly working hard on challenging moves and strategies can be tough, but these guys stayed very supportive of each other and really had IWA team spirit.

All of the team members did outstanding jobs, and being the final year for many of the team's lead members, it was surely a year to remember for the senior soccer men.

The guys take a break in the shade before going back on the field.

The team says a prayer after playing a good game.

Everyone knows that it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game, and this past year, the Lady Angels Volleyball team really showed that they play with a lot of heart.

Girls just want to have FUN!

They practiced long hours each day and came out on top in the end, showing that what mattered most were teammates, effort, and having fun. We're proud of our volleyball team and congratulate them on a great year!

SCHOOL SPIRIT!

Homecoming 2003

A Night to Remember...

Homecoming is a great chance for students to gather and celebrate the efforts of their sports teams. This year's decor and theme seemed to be 100% suitable for us to enjoy it and dance among the stars.

A couple of seniors enjoy the music and show their rhythm on the dance floor.

Some of the girls on the basketball team pose for a group picture between all of the dancing.

When the moon hits your eye like a big pizza pie...

The school-wide favorites gather together and give big smiles for the camera.

Favorite's Dance 2004 proved to really be a memorable evening. The night's theme was appropriately "That's Amore" on Valentine's Day and love was in the air. Once again IWA students enjoyed the dancing and we can't wait to see what theme will arise next year!

Clockwise from top right, Chrissy Hoffman and John Hayes share a few words, Caroline Nye and her date smile for the camera, Ms. Espinosa, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Trevino, and Sister Judith take tickets at the door, and a few of the basketball girls have fun and share the dance floor.

That's Amore!

Angels Among the Stars

Prom is a wonderful time of the year for everyone to get all dressed up and have great fun with good friends. This year's prom theme was "Angels Among the Stars" and by the looks of it, these Angels really did dance the night away among the stars.

Clockwise from top left: students from the junior class and their dates round up for a group shot; Alonso Mackrizz congratulates his date, Caroline, on her winning Prom Queen; Bailey Allison and date take a break and smile for a cute photo; Clarissa Ortiz, Amanda Hoffman, and Priscilla Esparza pause between dances for a quick photo together.

IWA Spirit Club!

Although they're not in the club section, Spirit Club isn't one to be forgotten! Since they specialize in all things spirit, they belong in the middle of the action. They decorated for numerous occasions such as games and pep rallies. This club did a super job of keeping our spirit soaring.

This year's spirit has been off the hook and here's just how peppy I.W.A. pep rallies have been, thanks to Mr. Lugaresi, Spirit Club, faculty, and all of YOU!

Pep Rallies...

Germanfest '04

Student volunteers chat before they are needed to lend a helping hand at the festivities.

This year's Annual I.W.A. Germanfest was a blast! There were a w e s o m e speakers as well as a wonderful audience. Special thanks to all students and those who helped make it a big success!

IWA President, Sister Anna Marie Espinoza greets guests at the school's annual Germanfest event.

The auctioneer keeps the audience entertained during the live auction.

Sister Martha visits with a guest while viewing items on display for the silent auction.

Born in the USA!

Beginning this year, Incarnate Word started a new tradition of honoring veterans. This ceremony involved Incarnate Word students gathering around to commemorate the valiant efforts of those who fought bravely for our country. Students brought out a flag from each military branch as their respective songs were played in the background.

Some of the students prepare to carry the military flags, each representing one different branch of the military.

Clockwise from right, three veterans join us in celebrating and remembering all of the United States veterans, a few military men chat over coffee after the ceremony, Caroline Nye shares a moment with the veterans, and a few students salute and show their respect during the ceremony.

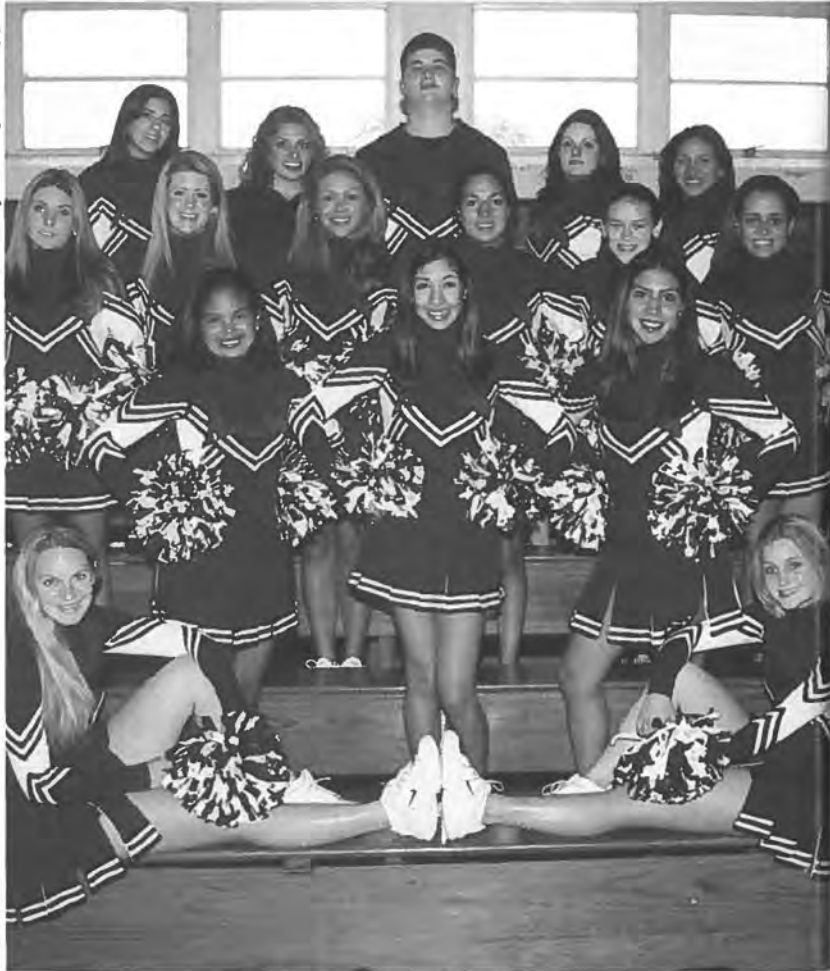

J.W.A. Angel Specialties

As all of us know, J.W.A. is one of a kind! Being so unique in the way we operate, there are a few particular clubs, events, and classes that no other school in Coprus Christi has. We definitely make a name for ourselves, so watch out for these awesome angels!

Hey, hey MICKEY!

With all of the events that have taken place with our cheerleading squad this year, they have done an excellent job keeping the IWA school spirit high and lively. Thanks cheerleaders!

The cheerleading squad gathers together for a group picture on the gym bleachers.

The girls smile as they strike their final poses at the end of an exciting pep rally.

Amanda Hoffman gives her all when it comes to spirit at the burning of the A.

Priscilla Esparza just busts a move during one of the school pep rallies.

A few of the cheerleaders clap while chanting in unison to inspire and pep up the crowd.

IWA Choir...

IWA's mascot is the angel but we aren't just represented by them... we can sing like them too! The 2004 IWA Concert Choir is outstanding in many ways. They have won numerous awards for their singing abilities and are recognized for their extraordinary voices. Good job on making this year an incredible year!

OCEAN BOWL

EXPLORING NEW REEFS!

THE OCEAN BOWL TEAM IS DEFINITELY ONE OF THE ACTIVITIES IN WHICH THIS SCHOOL EXCELS ABOVE MOST OTHERS. THEY'VE TRAVELED ALL OVER THE NATION AND WON 4TH PLACE AT NATIONALS. OCEAN BOWL IS A GREAT REFLECTION OF THE SCHOOL'S ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE.

Left, the A team proudly holds their 4th place national award. Above, a few of the members are taken by surprise with a snapshot. Below, the A team is all smiles, showing off their trophy.

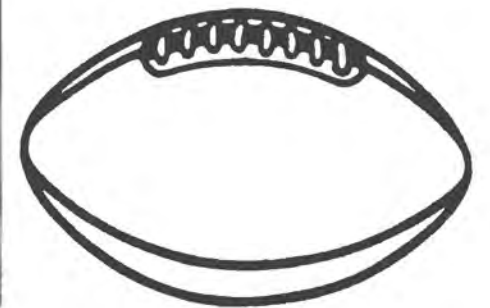

★ Student Council... ★ adding another brick in the wall

2004 has been a wonderful year for IWA's Student Council. With so many great minds at work, they managed to come up with some awesome ideas and put together some really fun events, such as movie night and the Powderpuff football game! Our student council has done miracles this year and only made our school that much better. Thanks guys!

Math at I.W.A. adds to the success of the school. Sister Catherine Brehony, Mr. Eleazer, Miss Espinosa and Mrs. Knief are tubular teachers and make math totally out of this world. Starting with Algebra I and continuing through AP Calculus, math here is always an excellent challenge.

In the past, history at I.W.A. has obtained many awards in TAPPS competition and this year, students continued to make history in the classes.

Back to the FUTURE?

The history dept. here covers a multitude of cool subjects and history continues to be a strong part of I.W.A. present and future.

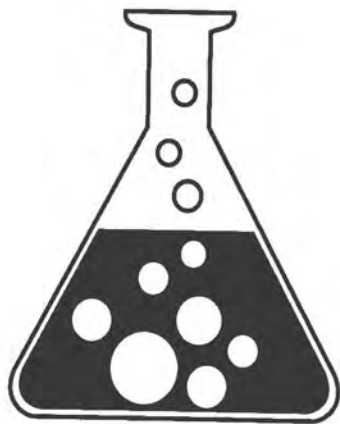

She blinded me with SCIENCE!

Right, Mrs. Duzich and her first period class wash out the animal cages and clean up the room a bit.

I.W.A. Science classes are all the rage! Each class is really hands on and is such a great learning experience for every student. Science is gnarly!

Senior, John Tyson, grins and bears it during Physics, showing how gnarly he thinks science classes are at I.W.A.

With a special thanks to Miss Cortinas, Mrs. Edwards, Sister Eileen, and Sister Pat, the J.W.A. language arts department is totally worth talking about. Through grammar, reading, and dedication, learning about language this year has been nothing less than spectacular!

It's a small world...

Foreign languages bring pieces of the world together. Here at our school, we have a variety of languages to choose from such as Spanish, Latin, French, and German. Learning about other cultures is an important part of education and these teachers are experts at what they do. Foreign languages are giving us something to talk about!

Journalism Class

Under the guidance of Miss Cortinas, I.W.A.'s journalism has been able to reach people all over the campus. Through hard work and lots of typing, they've done a great job on three newspapers this year!

Senior Priscilla Esparza works on The Halo during class.

Miss Cortinas helps Cullen Crochet make corrections on his story for the school newspaper.

Art Studies-

Conducted by Mrs. Towers, the I.W.A. Art class dives into a wonderful world of colors each and every day. With activities such as sculpting, painting, and sketching, this class is bound to turn out our future Picassos, Monets, and Dalis.

Rockin the Casbah during Junior retreat!

The 2004 Junior retreat really “rocked the casbah!” During their long day of activities and great learning experiences with awesome speakers, the Juniors got to chill. Growing closer to each other over the last 3 years has been super awesome for this great Junior class.

CLASS OF 2004 SENIOR RETREAT

The time finally arrived for the class of 2004 to attend their very last class retreat. With activities like dancing and funny skits, it was surely one of the most memorable retreats for every senior.

Ring and Rose Ceremony

Tradition is a strong part of I.W.A. and each year, the high school celebrates the Ring and Rose ceremony. This is the time for the graduating Seniors to pass the torch to the Junior class, who will become next year's leaders. At the last school-wide mass, it was lovely and very memorable as the Seniors sang "The Rose" for the Juniors. The Juniors accepted their roses and their class rings were blessed.

SENIOR FUN 2004

Brandon Hoy: "Video games don't affect kids. If Pac-Man affected us as kids, we'd all be running around darkened rooms, munching magic pills, and listening to repetitive electronic music."

Ricardo Gutierrez: "Learn as if you were going to live forever. Live as if you were going to die tomorrow." - Mahatma Gandhi

Marie Perez: "I hope life isn't a big joke because I don't get it." - Jack Handey

Sean Rocha: "Desire is the fuel. Knowledge is the map. Life is the journey."

Ben Montgomery: "Sink or swim, you've gotta give it a whirl." - John Michael Montgomery

Austin Buchan: "How do you expect children to learn if they can't even fit inside of the building?"

Victoria Perez: "Before you criticize someone, walk a mile in their shoes. This way, you'll be a mile from them and you'll have their shoes." - Jack Handey

Christina Saenz: "Don't cry because it's over...smile because it happened." - Unknown

Marguerite DeLoney: "Shoot for the moon because even if you miss, you'll still land among the stars."

John Tyson: "Being alive is to be able to be yourself and to stand by what you believe."

Joseph Salinas: "To be honest, I won't miss any of you."

Throughout the past year, I have dedicated a lot of time and effort into making this yearbook something interesting to remember the year. A few modifications were made as far as content and with the help of Laura Echeverry, I designed a really unique cover and theme. I would like to thank the Journalism class for their ideas and input, as well as, all of the people who assisted by donating pictures. I would also like to thank the 7th period Multi-Media class for their excellent contributions. To Mr. Bugaresi, thank you for taking the time to review the work. Your help was greatly appreciated. A huge thank you goes out to Miss Cortinas. Working with you was nothing but a pleasure and thanks to your guidance, we've managed to make this yearbook pretty awesome. To my Senior class of 2004, may your future fulfill your heart's desire. The past year was great and I couldn't have asked for a better group of students to graduate with.
