A LOOK AT LEADERSHIP – Each week we will feature a Leadership related lesson or activity occurring at Fenton Charter Leadership Academy. In this section of the newsletter, you will find the most recent, innovative, and creative events and activities happening at FCLA. This week we are excited to share a lesson that involved our terrific Transitional Kindergarten students.

The students in Mrs. Mack's TK class are already practicing being little leaders by taking ownership of their classroom jobs! Jobs are chosen every Monday and each student will perform that job throughout the week. These jobs help build a sense of community as the students are helping their fellow classmates and their teachers with many different tasks around the classroom. Some jobs include things like calendar leader, door holder, lunch helper, office messengers, and many more! There is even a substitute job in case a friend is absent! Students can't wait to find out their new job each week and take so much pride in fulfilling that role each day. Whether they are leading the class in calendar songs, leading the line to lunch, or helping to sweep up at the end of the day, these 4-year-olds are practicing leadership, responsibility, and independence as they model these important jobs throughout the school!

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES – Parent Conferences will be held the week of November 13 -17, 2023. Students will be on a minimum day schedule the entire week with dismissal at 11:45am. (TK-2) and 12:05 p.m. (3-6). During your conference, the teacher will discuss student progress and growth, show examples of assignments and assessments that contributed to the report card grades, as well as provide strategies for supporting your child's learning at home. These meetings are a wonderful opportunity to strengthen home-school collaboration. It is recommended to bring a list of questions to your conference and take notes during the meeting in order to follow-up.
