

OBITUARY: Mary Dian Molton, Former Faculty & Staff, Parent of Alumni '72

Beloved wife and mother, Mary Dian Molton, passed away at age 93 in the care of St. Anthony's Senior Living community on the night of November 26, 2023. Mary Dian had long graced our city as an educator, author, psychiatric social worker, Jungian psychotherapist, and PBS television executive at Kansas City's Channel 19 and in Denver at Rocky Mountain Broadcasting Network. During her long career she also served as a teacher at Pembroke Country Day School (Now Pembroke Hill) and as headmistress at the Loretto Academy. She earned her Bachelor of Arts at the University of Connecticut, received advanced degrees from the University of Missouri at Kansas City and the University of Kansas, and did extensive coursework at the C. G. Jung Institute in Zurich, Switzerland, all in service to her passionate lifelong concern for the well-being and self-knowledge of others. Her published works include Four Eternal Women: Toni Wolff Revisited, a Study in Opposites, and a memoir, About Franz: Remembering C. G. Jung – a Son's Story. An exceptionally creative, loving, and devout woman, her life has inspired in untold ways, and she will be sorely missed. Mary Dian is survived by her husband, Dr. Warren Molton, her children and their spouses, Stephen (and Pamela Galvin), Jennifer Molton '72 (and Bruce Kellogg), David (and Jessica Molton); her grand-children Eric Siemers (Jenni Hogan) and Aaron Siemers (Courtney Lewis); and five great-grandchildren, Anna, Ethan, Landon, Westyn, and Landree.

Service is at St. Andrews Episcopal Church, Meyer Blvd at Wornall Rd, KCMO, Wednesday, Dec. 27th at 2 p.m.
