Additionally, college admissions and career goal courses should be given priority. Students should consider taking Concurrent Enrollment and Advanced Placement courses. With parent and counselor prior written permission seniors on track for graduation may register for a minimum of 6 credits with no fewer than 4 classes per semester. These 6 credits do not include Release Time (Seminary), Home Release, Aides, or other non-graded classes (see Senior Year Registration Requirement below for further details). 2. COURSE CATALOG: Read the course descriptions carefully to determine prerequisites or recommended progressions, grade level, amount of credit, general description of the course, fees required, and special registration instructions. 3. CREDIT EARNED: Determine if the courses you select are taught for one or two semesters. The course descriptions in this booklet will identify how many credits are earned when the course is successfully completed. Semester: .50 credits Yearlong (2 semesters): 1.00 credits 4. FEES: Many courses have fees associated with them. Please refer to the specific course description for details. For an example, the cost for all Advanced Placement

IV

(AP) Exams is $95 and all students who register for an AP class are encouraged to take the exam. *Fees are subject to changes upon board approval. 5. CLASS CHOICE: Students should choose their classes carefully. Teacher positions are gained, modified, or lost based off of enrollment numbers. 6. CLASS CHANGE Policy: a. A student may change the level of a course (e.g., English 9 HNR to English 9) at any time in the school year. The student’s current grade transfers to the new course without adjustment. b. A course dropped in the first two weeks of a semester will not be listed on the transcript. A course dropped after the second week of term 1 or 3 but before the midterm will result in a ‘withdrawal’ (W) and will not affect grade point average (GPA). c. A course dropped after the midterm will result an ‘F’ or an ‘I’ on the transcript for the term. An ‘F’ and an ‘I’ affect GPA. d. Parent requests for class drop/change based on teacher choice may be accommodated at the conclusion of the term. 7. INCOMPLETE OR INCORRECT GRADES: A teacher may assign an ‘incomplete’ (I) to a term based on extenuating circumstances. Course work must be completed by the last day of the following term, or October 15 if the affected grade was received in term 4, to award a grade. An incomplete will be converted to an ‘F’ after the deadline. b. An incorrect grade must be identified and changed by the last day of the following term or October 15 if the affected grade was received in term 4. 8. TRANSFERING CREDIT: Students entering from Out of District schools: a. Students who transfer into the district will have their incoming grade(s) assigned to the appropriate term(s). b. Students who transfer in after the midterm without a grade will be assigned a ‘no grade’ (NG). If there are extenuating circumstances and the students can demonstrate sufficient mastery of the content, the teacher may use their discretion to determine if a ‘P’ would be an appropriate option. A ‘P’ conveys credit for graduation but does not affect the grade point average. 9. EARLY GRADUATION: Students interested in early graduation should see their counselor at least one semester in advance of graduating to go over early graduations requirements. 10. WORK CREDIT: Students interested in Work Credit should see their counselor for a Work Credit referral.

This course will examine the ways the ideas, thoughts, and emotions surrounding sports are expressed in text. In this course, we will aim to examine and analyze how the role of sports evolved in our society, and why we are all so drawn in.

VOICES FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Join us as we travel to exotic locations through short stories from around the world. Explore fascinating multicultural fiction from Africa, India, China, Japan, and Latin America. Authors include Khushwant Singh, Yukio Mishima, Carlos Fuentes, Nadine Gordimer, and more in Other Voices, Other Vistas by Barbara H. Solomon. Hear authentic voices from distant lands and allow yourself to be immersed in the culture and heritage they embody. All students are welcome aboard!

DYSTOPIAN LITERATURE

When reading about future systems and scenarios that seem hopeless, we are really reading about the way humanity can triumph over those dystopian scenarios. Students will explore the worlds of dystopian literature and develop an understanding of the mindset of fear that inspired these warnings. The course will begin with a discussion of the dystopian model of fiction in general--its tendency toward envisioning oppressive societies and regimes--and students will reflect on why writers create such alternative models of the world. do it? This course pulls back the veil on one of the forms of storytelling: the personal narrative. It is a short-focused piece on a topic like how wonderful it is to eat only one potato chip or the day in and day out struggle of living with anxiety. SECONDARY MATH I (9-10) YEARLONG #61030000

RECOMMENDED PROGRESSION: STUDENT’S FILE-HOLDER OR CURRENT SPED MATH TEACHER RECOMMENDATION.

CREDIT FOR GRADUATION: 1.0 MATH

The fundamental purpose of Mathematics I is to formalize and extend the mathematics that students learned in the middle grades. The critical areas, organized into units, deepen and extend understanding of linear relationships, in part by contrasting them with exponential phenomena, and in part by applying linear models to data that exhibit a linear trend. Mathematics 1 uses properties and theorems involving congruent figures to deepen and extend understanding of geometric knowledge from prior grades. The final unit in the course ties together the algebraic and geometric ideas studied. The Mathematical Practice Standards apply throughout each course and, together with the content standards, prescribe that students experience mathematics as a coherent, useful, and logical subject that makes use of their ability to make sense of problem situations.

The focus of Mathematics II is on quadratic expressions, equations and functions; comparing their characteristics and behavior to those of linear and exponential relationships from Mathematics I as organized into 6 critical areas or units. The need for extending the set of rational numbers arises and real complex numbers are introduced so that all quadratic equations can be solved. The link between probability and data is explored through conditional probability and counting methods, including their use in making and evaluating decisions. The study of similarity leads to an understanding of right triangle trigonometry and connects to quadratics through Pythagorean relationships. The Mathematical Practice Standard apply throughout each course and, together with the content standards, prescribe that students experience mathematics as a coherent, useful, and logical subject that makes use of their ability to make sense of problem situations.
