Self-Reported Academic Record

Welcome to the Rutgers Self-Reported Academic Record (SRAR). The Rutgers SRAR allows you to enter, track, and submit your academic record electronically to Rutgers University. You may start the SRAR at any point but can submit it only after you submit the application for undergraduate admission.

If you already have a MyRutgersFuture account or have previously started the SRAR, please log in to the SRAR with the same account credentials (email address and password) which you have already established.

If you have applied using the Rutgers application and have not yet started the SRAR, log in with the same email address and 8-character password that you used for your application for admission.

If you have applied using the Coalition for Access, Affordability and Success application and have not yet started the SRAR, create a SRAR account using the same email address you used for the Coalition application. Note that while you can start the SRAR, please wait three business days before attempting to submit the SRAR.

Due to higher volume of traffic during this time of year, you may experience delays while attempting to complete your SRAR. As with all other supporting documentation, the SRAR is required to be submitted no later than two weeks after the application due date.
