Summary Explanation and Background

A Cherokee County School District student is a regional essay contest winner!

Mill Creek Middle School seventh-grader Saanvi Lamba is the Cherokee County winner for the Metropolitan North Georgia Water Planning District's 22nd annual essay contest open to all metro Atlanta middle schoolers.

Students this fall were invited to write an essay about the river basin where they live, what makes it important to them and their community and why learning about river basins is important to water stewardship. Saanvi wrote about the Etowah River Watershed, its history and the importance of protecting it as a primary source of drinking water and a habitat for many native fish species and animals.

Saanvi, her family and school staff have been invited to the State Capitol for the Metropolitan North Georgia Water Planning District awards ceremony.
