Ashley has been a School Psychologist for 15 years.

While originally from Montana, life adventures have created opportunities in Texas and New Jersey before returning to beautiful Montana!

She holds her B.A. in Psychology and Human and Family Development from the University of Montana (Go Griz!) and her M.A. in School Psychology from Trinity University in San Antonio, TX.

Outside of the schools, Ashley and her family enjoy traveling, coordinating kids sporting and extra-curricular activities, camping, watching movies, cooking, and playing with their dogs.

Her favorite part about being a School Psychologist is the students, of course!
