Brittany has been a school psychologist for 6 years. She has also worked in ABA clinics and provided counseling services. Her students know her as Dr. LD.

Her master's degree is from the University of Northern Iowa and her doctorate degree is from the University of South Dakota.

She is involved with the Montana Association of School Psychologists (MASP) on different committees and leadership roles. She loves being a school psychologist, working with her students, and being involved with different school supports.

In her spare time, you will find her with her family somewhere outside (hiking, biking, dog-walking, snowboarding, kayaking) or listening to her collection of vinyl records.
