GRESHAM-BARLOW SCHOOL DISTRICT BOND OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE

Minutes of October 25, 2017 Meeting #2

The Gresham-Barlow School District Bond Oversight Committee met at 6:00 p.m., Wednesday, October 25, 2017 in the conference room of the Gresham-Barlow Facilities Department, located at 2020 SE Fleming Avenue, Gresham, OR.

Members in attendance were: Rebecca Merchant, Brianna Bigham, Jason Dugan, Sharon Estes, Norm Hancock, Rick Searls, John Vandermosten, Karen Johnston, and George Seaman. Members: Michael Harris and Bess Wills were absent.

The following central office administrators were present: Mike Schofield.

Guests: Rick Rainone, Cornerstone Management Group, Inc., John Hartsock, School Board Member, and Shirley Vandermosten, community member.

WELCOME AND INTRODUCTIONS

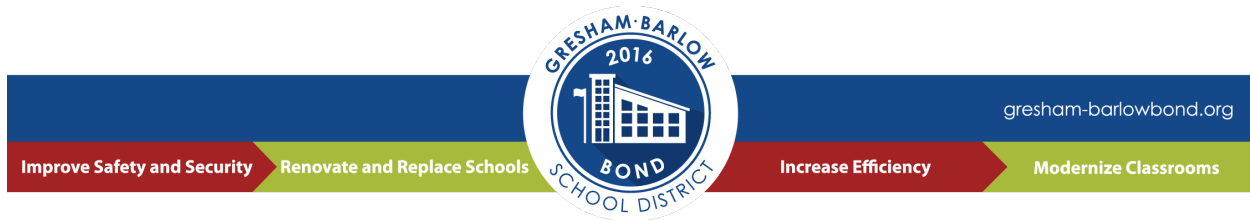

Committee Chair Rebecca Merchant called the meeting to order at 6:02 p.m., welcoming all present to the second Bond Oversight Committee meeting. Introductions were exchanged.

PROJECT PRESENTATIONS

NORTH GRESHAM ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Matthew Guthrie, with BBT Architects, presented where they currently are at in the process, how they received input on what the new school should be like, and issues that they are currently encountering with property grading. He showed the bus loop that separates cars and busses, and where the new staff and visiting parking will be on the new site. The new building will be situated on the site to block the east wind from the playgrounds and fields. He also showed the educational arc, grade level clusters, organization outline, and circulation of the building.

Bob Trapa, with Bremik Construction, discussed the budget and bidding process, concept stage, design and development stage, and construction process. He reported that the project is currently on target. One outreach for local contractors has already completed and will do another soon. Rick Rainone, with Cornerstone, clarified for the committee that 'local' has been identified as east of I-205.

Rebecca Merchant asked if the building being built to go up another story or is it being built to expand. Rick Rainone responded that it's built for a 550-student capacity; you don't want to go much larger than that for an elementary school.

Karen Johnson asked how much input the city has had on the changes that have been made. Mr. Rainone responded that the city is not on the design committee; they deal with land use. However, the district has been informing the city of changes.

EAST GRESHAM ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Elizabeth Delorme, with DLR Group, presented the new site plan, which outlined the new bus loop, where parking for visitors and staff would be, and where the new building would be relative to Dexter McCarty Middle School. She also showed the layout of the first and second floor of the new building, along with interior and exterior design concepts. Ms. Delorme let the committee know that the district would have design and development soon.

Mr. Rainone informed the committee that a study was conducted to ensure that the new site would not interfere with any future rebuild or renovation of DMMS. Mr. Rainone also let the committee know that city originally wanted the district to build a wall to buffer the noise of students from neighbors that back up to the site. With the help of acoustic architects, the city has since decided that the vegetation surrounding the site will suffice.

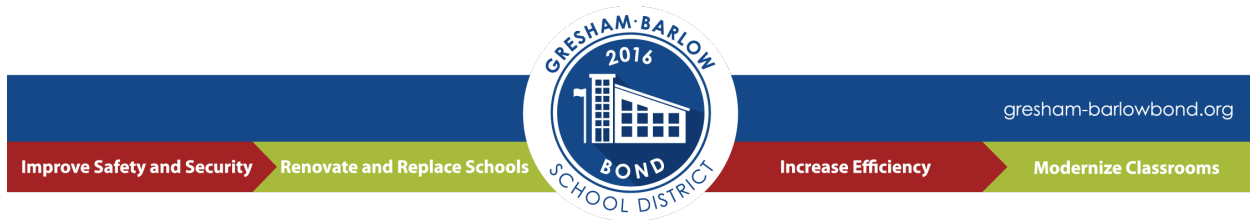

Shirley Vandermosten (guest) asked if vegetation has been selected. Mr. Rainone responded that the city and landscape architects are working on a selection of trees.

John Vandermosten asked if the site would have increased exterior lighting. Ms. Delorme responded that there would be a lot more lighting.

Brian Shoemaker, of P & C Construction, informed the committee that partnering with local companies is important to the district and to P & C Construction, which was founded in Gresham in 1961. They're hoping their presence in the community it will help bring in local contracts. He informed the committee that they have hired someone to help promote the project to get local companies excited, advertise, and do invites to get the word out about the project.

Mr. Shoemaker updated the committee on their involvement with keeping the project on budget. DLR has created several documents over the last 12 months. Each time they issue a new drawing, P & C Construction evaluates the drawings, at each stage, to ensure changes and additions still align with the budget. If it looks like it could go over, they will look at 'nice to have items' and bid out a more cost effective item, but also bid 'nice to have items'. On bid day if there is some wiggle room 'nice to have items' can be revaluated.

John Vandermosten asked if the project was going to be a partnership. Mr. Ranione responded that there would not be a partnership agreement; however, the district is trying to have a partnership relationship moving into the construction phase.

Karen Johnston asked what the exterior screens were going to be made of. Ms. Delorme responded that they would be made of perforated metal screening. Mr. Rainone added that whatever material is selected, it has to be easy to maintain.

Mr. Rainone informed the committee that the district has hired a security consultant. They will be working with architects to see if there are ways to make the buildings safer.

CONTRACTING 101

Mr. Rainone discussed the selection process for CM/GC. He let the committee know that the selection process went through board approval. The district selected the design and build process, because you get a higher quality building if you go this route. The district might go this route on some of the safety and securities systems. It puts the owner in control of the CM/GC process.

PROJECT UPDATES

CFO, Mike Schofield, went over the bond budget and committed budget summary. He also let the committee know that included in their packet was a bond project status report for each of the current projects. The report outlines a description of each project; status; design and construction schedule; the original estimate and cost to date; critical issues with the project; and a summary status.

Mr. Schofield let the committee know that the furthest ahead in design is East Gresham Elementary School. He also let the committee know that past budget concerns at Gresham High School and Sam Barlow are now inline. Planners went back to staff and identified 'we got to have' and 'nice to have' items, which brought us more inline with the budget.

Mr. Schofield informed members that safety and security bids came in. Work will be in swing shifts, when students are not there. The goal is to have the project done before the end of the calendar year.

COMMENTS AND QUESTIONS

Mr. Schofield thanked everyone for their part in the process and their support of the district.

Chair Merchant adjourned the meeting at 7:40 p.m.

RE: No. 13 – OSBA Resolution, Board of Directors Positions 17 and 18, and Legislative Policy Committee (LPC) Representatives

EXPLANATION: The Oregon School Boards Association (OSBA) has referred one resolution to its member school boards for consideration this year. If approved, the resolution will reorganize the Oregon School Boards Association as a non-profit corporation and adopt the proposed 2017 bylaws.

In addition, in the Multnomah County region, there are two board of directors positions open, and member school boards are asked to vote on the candidates who have filed for those positions.

Following is a slate of candidates representing Multnomah County school districts:

OSBA Board of Directors, Position 17

Michelle Vo, Corbett 39
Mary Botkin, Multnomah ESD

OSBA Board of Directors, Position 18

Kris Howatt, Gresham-Barlow 10
Uncontested

Member school boards have also been asked to vote on the three representative positions open for the Legislative Policy Committee.

Following is a slate of candidates running for the LPC Representative positions:

LPC Position 17

John Lindenthal, Reynolds 7
Uncontested

LPC Position 18

Amy Kohnstamm, Portland 1J
Dave Carter, Parkrose 3

LPC Position 19

John Hartsock, Gresham-Barlow 10
Rita Moore, Portland 1J

Under OSBA's governance structure, member school boards are required to take official action on the proposed resolution and slate of candidates by casting one vote (meaning this is a board vote, not an individual vote).

The voting period opens in mid-November each year, following the fall regional dinner meeting. The Gresham-Barlow school board traditionally delays its vote until early December, because it falls after the annual OSBA convention where more information about candidates and resolutions can be acquired.

This information is now being presented for first reading and board action. The board secretary must submit the completed ballot online no later than December 15, 2017.
