DESIRED RESULTS What students will know and be able to do
COURSE DESCRIPTION AND PURPOSE
In this course, students will learn how to communicate personal experience and observation through various genres, possibly including memoirs, short stories, children’s stories, satire, script writing, and poetry. Within each genre, students will evaluate both their own writing and the writing of their classmates. Grammar, mechanics, and revisions are stressed from clear, concise, effective writing.
ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS	ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
LITERATE INDIVIDUALS... READING: Study and explore a range of values, beliefs, and assumptions to answer questions and inform understandings; literate individuals respond to varying expectations of audience, task, purpose, and discipline. WRITING: Make strategic choices routinely for a range of authentic tasks, purposes, and audiences over extended and shorter time frames.	Unit 1: Personal Narrative/Memoirs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● How do I use narrative techniques to write a compelling text?</li> <li>● How does purpose and audience influence style?</li> <li>● How do I determine a story worth telling and develop its theme?</li> <li>● How do I use point of view in writing to strengthen storytelling?</li> </ul>

SPEAKING: Adapt speech to a variety of purposes, audiences, and situations in order to meet communicative goals.

LISTENING: Seek to understand a speaker and/or writer’s intended message and how their background, situation, or context influences what they say.

LANGUAGE: Demonstrate an understanding of how language functions in different contexts, and apply this knowledge to meet communicative goals (when composing, creating, and speaking), and to comprehend more fully (when reading and listening).

CLAIMS AND EVIDENCE: Make claims about subjects, and rely on evidence to support reasoning that justifies the claim, often acknowledging or responding to others’ (possibly opposing) arguments.

Unit 2: Fiction/Short Story

- What are the elements of fiction?
- What are the elements of narrative and/or fiction writing?
- How do I use genre-specific techniques to write a compelling text?
- How do I purposefully structure/craft a complete and focused work?

Unit 3: Poetry

- What are the similarities and differences between poetry and prose?
- How do I use poetic techniques to write a compelling text?
- How does purpose and audience influence style?
- Why are individual word choices and phrases significant in poetry?
- What is the purpose and place of poetry in our lives?

Unit 4: Satire

- What are the elements of satire and how are they used in writing?
- What purpose can/does satire hold in our lives?

PRIORITY STANDARDS

READING

Unit 1: Personal Narrative/Memoir

In this unit, students will read and analyze a variety of personal narratives in preparation for brainstorming their own final memoir(s). Students will develop a collection of at least three memoirs centered on a specific theme. As part of the drafting portion of this unit, students will focus on narrative elements such as point of view, imagery, figurative language, dialogue, and syntax. Throughout the process, students engage in a workshop environment and revise/edit their own personal narrative writing based on feedback from their peers.
