

DR. BRANDON ZASLOW

TONJA BYROM

DESIGNATED ENGLISH LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT

SINA AZIZI

SVETLANA LAZAROVA

Participants will learn to identify and develop learner proficiency using a wide variety of real-world and academic tasks in the interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational modes of communication. They will learn to design lessons, and activities focusing on the development of macro- and micro-skills for each mode of communication. They will learn mode-specific assessment procedures and use rubrics to evaluate the contribution of macro- and micro-skills to real-world and academic performances.
