Madeira Hall of Fame Inducts Six

The Madeira High School (MHS) Athletic Hall of Fame inducted six new MHS alumni in its 2023 class, bringing the total of Hall of Fame members to 176.

The Madeira High School Athletic Hall of Fame was created in 1991 to honor former athletes, coaches, and past or present contributors to the athletic program. Inductees are selected by a committee based solely on accomplishments while at Madeira High School.

The December 1 ceremonies featured a catered banquet in the MHS cafeteria. Following dinner, emcee Jim Gulick introduced each member who spoke about their time spent at Madeira. The inductees were then introduced in the MHS gymnasium at half time of the Madeira varsity basketball game: Amanda Davis MHS '02, Leesa Dooley MHS '08, Zack Jansen MHS '13, Keith Norris MHS '75, Tony Ramirez MHS '07, and Tom Walter MHS '74.

The new members received a plaque with their picture and accomplishments, a lifetime pass to all Madeira High School events, and a commemorative brick to be placed in the Hall of Fame Plaza at MHS.

The Hall of Fame Committee consists of John Cravaack, Jeanne Gulick, Todd Hicks, Dave Schlensker, Pam Mack Scott, Cyndi Underwood and Jon Unger. For more information, please see www.madeiracityschools.org/Athletics.
