BIOGRAPHY

I am so happy to teach students Art! Since its inception, I have loved working here at Rising Scholars Academy where the mission of the school is clearly defined and all who work here strive to reach agreed upon goals. Before becoming a part of South Texas ISD, I taught a variety of grade levels and subjects in both public and private schools. I graduated from the University of Texas Pan American in 1992 and have enjoyed teaching for 28 years.

I have been married for 35 years and have one son (and two dogs). Together we enjoy spending time at the beach and traveling when we have the chance.

It is my hope that those who enter this class feel valued and secure. I know that all students will grow in many ways as the year progresses and I feel blessed to be a small part of that.
