Initial and Summative ELPAC Domain Exemption Decision Tree

Initial and Summative ELPAC Domain Exemption Decision-Making Tool

Student Name: _____ Grade Level: ____ Academic Year: _____

Each year, Section 504 plan and individualized education program (IEP) teams may use this resource to determine if an English learner (EL) student or a potential EL student has a disability that precludes meaningful participation in one or more of the Initial and Summative English Language Proficiency Assessments for California (ELPAC) domains (i.e., Speaking, Listening, Reading, and Writing). For the Initial and Summative ELPAC, a student may only be exempted from one domain per composite, with a maximum of two domain exemptions allowed. To receive a score, a student must be assessed in the remaining domains within each composite Instructions: Complete parts A, B, and C to determine if a student is eligible for a domain exemption.

Part A

Does the student have a documented disability in their Section 504 plan or IEP?

No	Yes
Stop. Do not continue. The student should participate in the Initial and Summative ELPAC.	Proceed to Part B.

Part B

Evaluate each domain separately. Confirm that the ELPAC is accessible for the student based on the supports defined in the California Assessment Accessibility Resources Matrix document at https://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/tg/ca/documents/caaccessmatrix23.docx and consult pages 50–57 in the 2023–24 ELPAC Information Guide at https://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/tg/ep/documents/elpacinfoguide24.docx to identify accessibility resources for each domain and sample scenarios. Enter your responses below for each domain.

Language Composite: Oral

- Domain: Listening Is the domain accessible? ☐ Yes ☐ No
- Domain: Speaking Is the domain accessible? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Language Composite: Written

- Domain: Reading Is the domain accessible? ☐ Yes ☐ No
- Domain: Writing Is the domain accessible? ☐ Yes ☐ No
