INSTRUCTION

Supplementary Materials/Selection and Adoption

Supplemental instructional texts or materials may be used to support the basic text or materials for the following reasons:

- A. To provide more complete coverage to meet District curriculum requirements.
- B. To provide for meeting the various learning styles and levels of students.
- C. To provide for meeting the diverse needs of students with a language disability.
- D. To provide for meeting the diverse educational needs of students reflective of a condition of cultural pluralism.

In no case shall the supplemental materials replace the basic texts or materials adopted by the Board.
