

Procedures for Peer Revision

Lesson Series 6

Peer Revision Process

'Never Give Up' draft with revision notes pp. 2-5
'Never Give Up' final draft pp. 6-9

Never Give Up

If you knew an ~~an~~ animal that gets beat by his master, would you help him? Marty in the ^{fiction} ~~nonfiction~~ book Shiloh ^{by Phyllis Reynolds Naylor} did do something to help an animal. Helping ~~the~~ a dog named Shiloh was a very complicating ^{hard} thing to do. ~~though.~~

Marty was a kid who lived on a prairie beside the town of Shiloh, North Carolina. One summer day Marty discovers a beagle. The beagle was shy

1 of 4

and didn't come to him until ~~he~~ ^{Marty} whistled. Marty noticed ^{he} ~~bruise~~ ^{Marty} marks on the dogs side ^{and he knew that Judd} and ^{he} ~~knew~~ ^{Judd} ~~Travers~~ ^{Travers} was his owner. ^{Judd} Travers was cruel ~~Travers~~ a cruel man, was ^{to} ~~not~~ animals and lived about a mile away from his ~~owner.~~ ^{Marty.}

Marty brought Shiloh
home and built a pen
for him out of chicken-wire. Everyday [★] Marty would collect cans and find jobs ^{to make money} ?

so ~~his~~ ^{for} he could feed Shiloh without ~~on his own so his parents~~ ^{his parents} knowing about the dog.
~~wouldn't know about the dog.~~

+ why need money
+ how do all this without parents knowing

? Who is Travers?

Fix this area

~~Nervously~~ Marty would always ^{? How sneak off} sneak off to feed Shiloh ^{when} his parents weren't around.

One night Marty

hears Shiloh yelping, so he ran to see what ^{sp} happend and a german Shephard had attacked Shiloh. Marty's dad was mad to learn ~~Marty~~ ^{he} kept the dog without him knowing. Marty and his dad took Shiloh back to Judd Travers. Will Marty ever get Shiloh back? ^{Get} Shiloh is awesome. It will keep you

↑

on your toes hoping no one finds Shiloh. This ~~non~~ fiction

? life lessons.

book has many lessons [^] of life

One would be never give up because Marty never gave up ↑ I ~~recommen~~ this book to any- ^{trying to} get Shiloh

one who likes ~~non~~ fiction stories.

Explain +
a lesson

4 of 4

Never Give Up

by Corbin S.

If you knew an animal that gets beat by his master, would you help him? Marty in the fiction book Shiloh, by Phyllis Reynolds Naylor, did do something to help an animal. Helping a dog named Shiloh was a very complicating, hard thing to do.

Marty was a kid who lived on a prairie beside the town of Shiloh, North Carolina.

1 of 4

One summer day Marty discovers a beagle. The beagle was shy and didn't come to him until Marty whistled. Marty noticed bruise marks on the dog's side. Marty knew that Judd Travers was his owner. Judd Travers was cruel to animals and lived about a mile away from Marty.

Marty brought Shiloh home and built a pen for him out of chicken-wire. Everyday, Marty would collect cans and find jobs to make money so he could feed Shiloh without his parents knowing about the dog. Marty would always sneak off to feed Shiloh when his parents weren't around.

One night Marty hears Shiloh yelping, so he ran to see what happened and a German Shephard had attacked Shiloh. Marty's dad was mad to learn he kept the dog without him knowing. Marty and his dad took Shiloh back to Judd Travers. Will Marty ever get Shiloh back?

To find out, you have to read this awesome book. It will keep you on your toes hoping no one will find Shiloh. This book has many life lessons. One would be never give up because Marty never gave up trying to get Shiloh back. I recommend this book to anyone who likes fiction stories.

4 of 4