Mr. Ostreicher – “Before we get to the public portion, I would like to congratulate the High School Basketball Team for being champions this year.”

Mr. Ostreicher

Mr. Inzelbuch – “As we speak this evening, they are playing at Winslow. We sent two busses along with our SRO Officer Guzman. Let’s hope they win and then on Friday they will be, I believe at Rutgers.”

Mr. Inzelbuch

Mr. Ostreicher – “We are trying to get an update as to what the score is as we speak. We haven’t been successful in getting through. But we really congratulate them for their play on Monday night. Everything was fantastic.”

Mr. Ostreicher

03/10/10

Mr. Inzelbuch – “Mr. President, I want to remind you. Ms. Silva and Mr. Andersen have a teacher coming this evening to make a presentation.”

Mr. Inzelbuch

Ms. Silva – “I’d like to bring to the public Luz Perez who is an exemplary bilingual teacher at the Middle School. And one of the reasons I want to bring her up is because the skills and the methodology used by Mrs. Perez are those that are needed throughout the district. And as we can pinpoint these people who are demonstrating that kind of service throughout, I know that the Lakewood schools will start to move even faster than they already are. So it is with great pleasure and pride that I bring up Mrs. Perez who will tell us a little bit about what she does.”

Ms. Silva

Mr. Inzelbuch – “Through the Chair. I just spoke with Ms. Yuli. We need to get our prayers together. Our team is not winning at the moment. They are losing 39-24. So if we could all take a moment to have a prayer for our team. Ms Yuli was screaming that is home court advantage of the other team. I think she used the word they are cheating, but I don't know for sure."

Mr. Inzelbuch

Mrs. Perez – "One thing I do want to say is thank you to everyone for being here and to the administration and my colleagues for nominating me as teacher of the year. But first and foremost our bilingual program is a three level program. Our goal is to educate the students and to get them going so they can achieve in every subject area in their native language. Our first level is port of entry which we administer their complete Spanish language because they are coming in from a new country without skills and mastering their own skills will help them acquire the English skills. Level two is using their Spanish skills and immersing them into English. So they can be quickly immersed into a full English classroom considering that we only have two years in the Middle School for them to acquire as much English as possible. Level 3 is full immersion with very little support in English allowing them to master all their subjects in English with Level text and the support of the teacher who is always there. As a bilingual teacher in Lakewood

Mrs. Perez

Middle School I have the support of other teachers.

03/10/10

Our students do have all their subjects and we try to get them to acquire all the skills needed not only for mastery of everyday, if not for academic mastery and also to acquire the skills needed to fulfill the New Jersey Core Content Standards and the NJASK. And we work very hard to get that with help from our peers. Thank you."

RECOGNITION OF THE PUBLIC

Public Recog.

Roxanne Martin – "26 Seminole Drive. I'm getting a run around here with this book issue. I called the Board of Education and get transferred back to the school. I call the school and get transferred back to the Board of Education. My child still does not get to take a book home. The principal called me today just before I came here. Your child should be able to get a book. We will make an exception for her. You're gonna make an exception for one child. To me that's ridiculous. Every child should have a book. You've got children out there that can't take notes. They're gonna fail. So don't make an exception just for my child because I've got a big mouth. You make an exception for every child. Get some books. I'm paying half my taxes in school taxes and I can't have a book sent home for my kid."

Ms. Silva – "From what I understand at the Middle School, children who request the book to be taken home, although the homework is not contingent upon it because they do other activity. I spoke to the principal and the vice principal about this very issue. So it isn't an exception. Any child who requests it, is getting the book."

Ms Silva

Mr. Thomas – "Through the Chair. I'll beg to differ for her. The reality is I have to go back to the very simple fact that I have been having a big mouth myself about these textbooks since September. We've got the book that shows us what we have and what we should have. We've got reports but anytime I have all that and I still have parents sharing with me that they have to ask specifically for their child to have a book to take home, when I as a parent who had a child out of school for three days, had to literally beg to have books as a Board member to come home, I know that what they are saying is true. And I'm only saying that not for us to have an adversarial relationship, but for us to begin to structure the way in which we make decisions going forward. We must openly and honestly admit that we have not done a good job as it relates to textbooks up until now, but we have an opportunity to do something different here. And what I'm saying is, we are right in the middle of the budget striking process. If you're going to say we will have the books we need going forward, the truth of the matter is you must budget for it. So if we are not budgeted to have adequate books going forward, the same issue will undoubtedly occur and I don't think all the learning can occur in the classroom. Some kids zone out and do better with a book at home so we're going to have to look at this because you can't keep hearing it. Obviously we don't have answers because people are still not able to get what they need. If they think their kid needs a book to work with their parents at home, they should be able to have one. So I don't know what the answer is, but I just want to have a plan for the people that acknowledges there is all different types of learning. Some kids are good. I wasn't good. I didn't even listen to teachers in class. Let me just be real. They talked, I drew in class. I didn't even take notes. I listened and what I retained in class was good, but what I got when

Mr. Thomas

03/10/10
Public Recog.
Cont.

I went through the chapter was more helpful to me. I don't know why I did that, but it's what I did. So if I did that and was able to do okay, there are probably some other kids just like me and they need that book. So I want to know we will be talking about the books in our budgeting process. We will be addressing the issue that we need a certain amount of money in that budget so we can have books going forward. I agree with all that I've heard from September to now. We have had a textbook issue and we still have one and we must address it going forward. So I hear you and right now we will make sure that at least in your instance whatever that textbook is, your child needs right now, that you get it right now. Know that we the Board will be looking at it with a much broader view so that all the children get what they need. That's my job and I will sit back there and fight for what we need to get the textbooks that are necessary."

03/10/10

Public Recog.Cont.

Mr. Gonter – "Through the Chair. To echo on Lenny, we had a finance meeting to go over the new budget for next year and one of the items that we did look at is textbook line and we made sure that more money was put under that line than what was budgeted. Because we do not want to sit here and hear parents complain, not that they don't have a right to do so. We want every child to have the proper books."

Mr. Gonter

Mr. Inzelbuch – "Good news, the score is now 21 to 30 but there is only five minutes. So again a moment of silence."

Mr. Inzelbuch

Glen Kerber – "I'm sorry to say I'm here for books again too. My daughter did get the book that she was promised, but the other ten kids in the class did not get it. They keep emailing me and my daughter asking why they didn't get one. I went down to Ms. Yuli. Didn't actually get to talk to her, but was told to tell the kids to come down. The emails I got after that was after what happened after the meeting, I don't want to go talk to her. They are intimidated by her. They don't want to go down and ask for the books directly. Now for ten kids why can't the books just come to them without things going on."

Mr. Kerber

Ms. Silva – “I will go to the school and distribute the books myself. But from what I understand the teacher has a certain methodology which works. According to the stats that we’ve looked at according to the students that come out of his class, they do very well using his methodology. But I hear you. If you want the books, you will definitely have it. I asked Ms. Yuli to make sure that those ten kids have it. I don’t know if they’ve chosen not to have it, but I will report to the high school tomorrow.”

Ms. Silva

Public Recog. Cont.

Annette Kearney – “15 St. Andrews Court. Real simple. I just want to know when the meeting notes will be updated on the website and I know you have a lot going on, but it is now March 17. When will those be updated. The second thing is at the last meeting on your agenda it was about a special meeting being held on Friday, March 26 to hold a public hearing for the 2010-11 budget. Is it always 8:00 a.m. opposed to later at night when we the working people may not be able to attend. And a lot of us own homes and pay taxes but 8:00 a.m. we are at work. So I was just wondering if that was the norm.”

A. Kearney

Mr. Inzelbuch – “Through the Chair. Where are we up to with the Board minutes?”

Mr. Inzelbuch

Ms. Romano – “I believe that on tonight’s agenda we have approval for January 4 and 13 and they will be sent to the website tomorrow.”

Ms. Romano

Mr. Finger – “Through the Chair, as far as the minutes are concerned. We can only post them after the Board approves them. We are up to date as far as the minutes that have been approved. As far as the public hearing, we’re bound by what the state has done. Unfortunately they adjusted the election calendar this year because the new Governor has extra time to come out with a budget address. Normally the budget address is done in February. He’s waiting until March 16. We will not get our state aid numbers until the morning of March 18. We have a meeting scheduled for the evening of March 18 to submit the preliminary budget to the County Superintendent. That has to be in by Monday March 22. The earliest date for a public hearing is March 26. That next week is spring break and no one will around to have a quorum. Friday night we can't get a quorum and we can't have a meeting on Saturday. Can't get

Mr. Finger

03/10/10

a quorum. The only time we can meet is Friday morning in order to get that public hearing done and get the budget sent in."

Mr. Ostreicher – "I should mention that the last time we had a Friday morning meeting was many, many months ago. Under the circumstances, this time it has to be done."

Mr. Ostreicher

Pastor Jackson – "Unity is the way we get things done. The one thing is the books. I know you keep hearing about it, but we have to keep talking about it until it's done. This is very funny because there is an agenda written out in the beginning of the year. Doesn't it require books? Shouldn't every student actually have books that they take home with them? Not leave in school. And I'm not trying to ruffle anybody's feathers, I'm just saying we shouldn't even be talking about this. We should be talking about something more. So we should go ahead and just knock the books out. Put the money where our mouth is, buy the books, get it out there to all the students and let us move on to something else right. Thank you very much for your time."

Pastor Jackson

Ms. Silva – "While books are essential and I have heard the public very clearly, we will as you heard added to the budget. It will take place. But a good builder also realizes that there has to be the instruction. You can have a lot of tools. It's like a hammer. If you don't know what to do with the hammer. So there's a lot of things taking place. A lot of 21st Century training going on for principals, teachers, ourselves here at the Board. All of that has to take place. We have to adjust a whole school system. Books are a part of it. And I'm not saying we are abandoning that part, but it's a big architectural picture."

Ms. Silva

Pastor Jackson – "You remind me of President Obama and the reason I say that is cause you have inherited a lot of problems. So I commend you. You are doing a good job and I'm just asking everyone to help you out and get those books."

Pastor Jackson

Public Recog. Cont.

Mr. Tift – “Last week I took a tour of the schools and also took a tour of Tiny Tots. An unannounced tour. That’s the way I like to come to the schools. I was quite impressed with Spruce Street School. The principal did not know I was coming, she took me for a tour of the school and into the classrooms. I saw every student learning. Smiles on the kids face. The school was clean and everybody was doing what they were supposed to be doing. Then I went to Tiny Tots for the first time and I saw kids with smiles on their faces learning, teachers teaching, aides doing what they do and I was quite pleased. That’s what I expected to see. Everybody doing what they were supposed to be doing. On occasion I will tour the other schools unannounced and give the reports like such to let you know what’s going on. Thank you.”

Mr. Tift

Mr. Inzelbuch – “At this point maybe we should entertain a motion to honor our basketball team at our upcoming March meeting. All in favor of bringing the basketball team here say ‘aye’. And sponsoring a cake for them.”

Mr. Inzelbuch

All members agreed.
