New Summer Courses

Social Studies - Redesign*

Common Thematic Focus - Alternative Perspectives

Starting with current issues, students will compare different perspectives in

- World History and Geography
- US History and Geography
- Economics
- Government

Key Redesign Principles:

1. Data driven curriculum
2. Cultural Relevance
3. Embedded Supports
4. Project and Inquiry-Based Activities
5. Teachers as instructional leaders & facilitators

Common Framework - Daily instruction

- Opening Huddle
- Direct Instruction with Visual Aids
- Reading Apprenticeship
- Interactive Activity
- Formative Assessment
- Student Choice Activity
- Closing Huddle

Social Studies Redesign - World History*

Driving Questions:

- How has increased global interaction impacted people and the environment?
- How did revolutions result from new concepts of the relationship of individuals and governments?
- What are the consequences of military conflict for countries and their populations?

Compared to a “Western” view on world history, what is/was the African perspective?

- Today (Current Global Issues)
- Between 1500s and 1800s? (Global Age)
- Between the world wars? (Global Crisis and Revolutions)

Led by Pat Jenkins (retired Skyline teacher), assisted by Kay Wade (district content lead) and Cheryl Plouffe (Skyline teacher)*

NEW Free SAT Prep

Dates

- June 26th and 28th (week of registration)
- July 13, 20, 27 (3 Saturdays); July 29 (optional make-up/SAT test practice)
- 10:00 am - 2:00 pm each day

Content

- Which resources can help me prepare for the SAT?
- How can I leverage linked College Board/Khan Academy accounts for SAT practice, tracking improvement and identifying strategic growth areas?

Resources

- Students' College Board account
- Khan Academy
- Small/whole group direct instruction (based on coach dashboard data)

By invitation only via Dr. Allen for 10th grade students with 9th grade PSAT scores of 800-900*
