What students say about the IB:	What colleges say about the IB:
Brian Keegan, 2002 IB graduate: "The IB offers preparation for learning and communicating in an increasingly interconnected and globalized market." Dafni Panopoulou, 2007 IB graduate: "The IB's multiculturalism, creativity, action and service have made me seek these components later on in life—in university, in the ethos of the company I work for, in my working environment and in my social network." Rohit Pothukuchi, 2008 IB graduate: "One of the more beneficial features of the IB is the multitude and diversity of subjects that you can select. You develop some skills in a variety of areas—the diversity of perspectives I gained helped me have a more creative and broad approach at university."	University of Michigan, Cliff Sjogren, former Director of Admissions: "A transcript that reveals a student's enrollment in International Baccalaureate courses serves notice to the admissions officer that the applicant is someone who accepts rather than avoids educational challenges ..." Michigan State University, Pamela Horne, Director of Admissions: "My eyes light up when I see 'International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme' on a transcript. Students who apply to Michigan State University with IB credentials are assumed to be mature, curious, and creative. They have proven to be successful in a rigorous program that is both broad and deep in its content and intellectual challenge.." Duke University, Christoph Guttentag, Director of Admissions: "One of the advantages of an IB curriculum is its structure and quality. It is a coordinated program, well established, well known and well respected. We know the quality of IB courses, and we think the IB curriculum is terrific."
