

TV/ Broadcasting Teacher

Television & Broadcast Arts Major Description

Students who major in Television & Broadcast Arts explore and navigate through the ever-changing field of visual communications. From film to television, to online content, TV broadcasting offers students the opportunity for hands-on experience in front of and behind the camera in all aspects of video production. The Major guides students from the evolution of an idea, into a fully planned project, through production and into post-production, editing and marketing. Students see their ideas come to life and become visual content creators. This course prepares students for college programs and careers in video production.

Students Applying to Television & Broadcast Arts Should Consider the Following Interests:

- Ability to handle expensive camera, sound, and lighting equipment in a safe and responsible manner.
- Desire to write stories and transform them into a visual realm.
- Willingness to film after school events such as concerts, plays, exhibitions, and more.
- An interest in how film, television, and media are used to shape our society.
- Strong desire to use the information and skills mastered in this Major towards a degree and/or profession in media communications.
