

Title: School District-Community Relations

The Board of Directors assumes the responsibility of initiating and building positive relationships with its many stakeholders, including, but not limited to, students, parents, volunteers, employees, the business community, other governmental bodies, civic organizations, human services agencies, other educational institutions, and the general public.

The Board directs the Superintendent to seek regular opportunities to formally engage the community in conversation regarding topics of interest in the District. The District will invite citizen involvement in the schools.
