

Gregg Berger

Class of 1968

Gregg Berger has for decades been a nationally and internationally recognized voice actor, appearing in all performance mediums while teaching and writing.

Berger has starred in three pilots for CBS and has had numerous co-starring and featured roles on camera in episodic television and films.

Gregg Berger

Class of 1968

His voice has been attached to iconic animated and video game characters, in such beloved franchises as Garfield, the Simpsons, Men in Black, the Rugrats, Star Wars and the Transformers.

For many years, Berger was proudly associated with Famous Fone Friends, making calls in requested animated character voices to children who were patients in pediatric hospitals.

Berger is the author of “Think Globally... Act VOCALLY!” and teaches in Los Angeles.