

2000 Hall of Fame Inductee

Steven Z. Levy

Class of 1967

Steven Levy graduated from Colgate University and received his master's degree from Adelphi University. Currently, he is a teacher, consultant and author of several education-based publications including the book, "Starting from Scratch," which chronicles one classroom's struggle to build its own curriculum.

Steven Z.
Levy
Class of 1967

Over the years, he has taught all of the academic subjects including music and art. He has taught every grade from kindergarten through college and has been hailed for his innovative and creative lesson plans and projects.

In 1993, Levy was named the Massachusetts "Teacher of the Year." In 1994, he received the Walt Disney Company American Teacher Award for Outstanding Elementary Teacher. He has served as consultant to seven new schools in five different states. Levy currently resides in Massachusetts.