LIFE '67

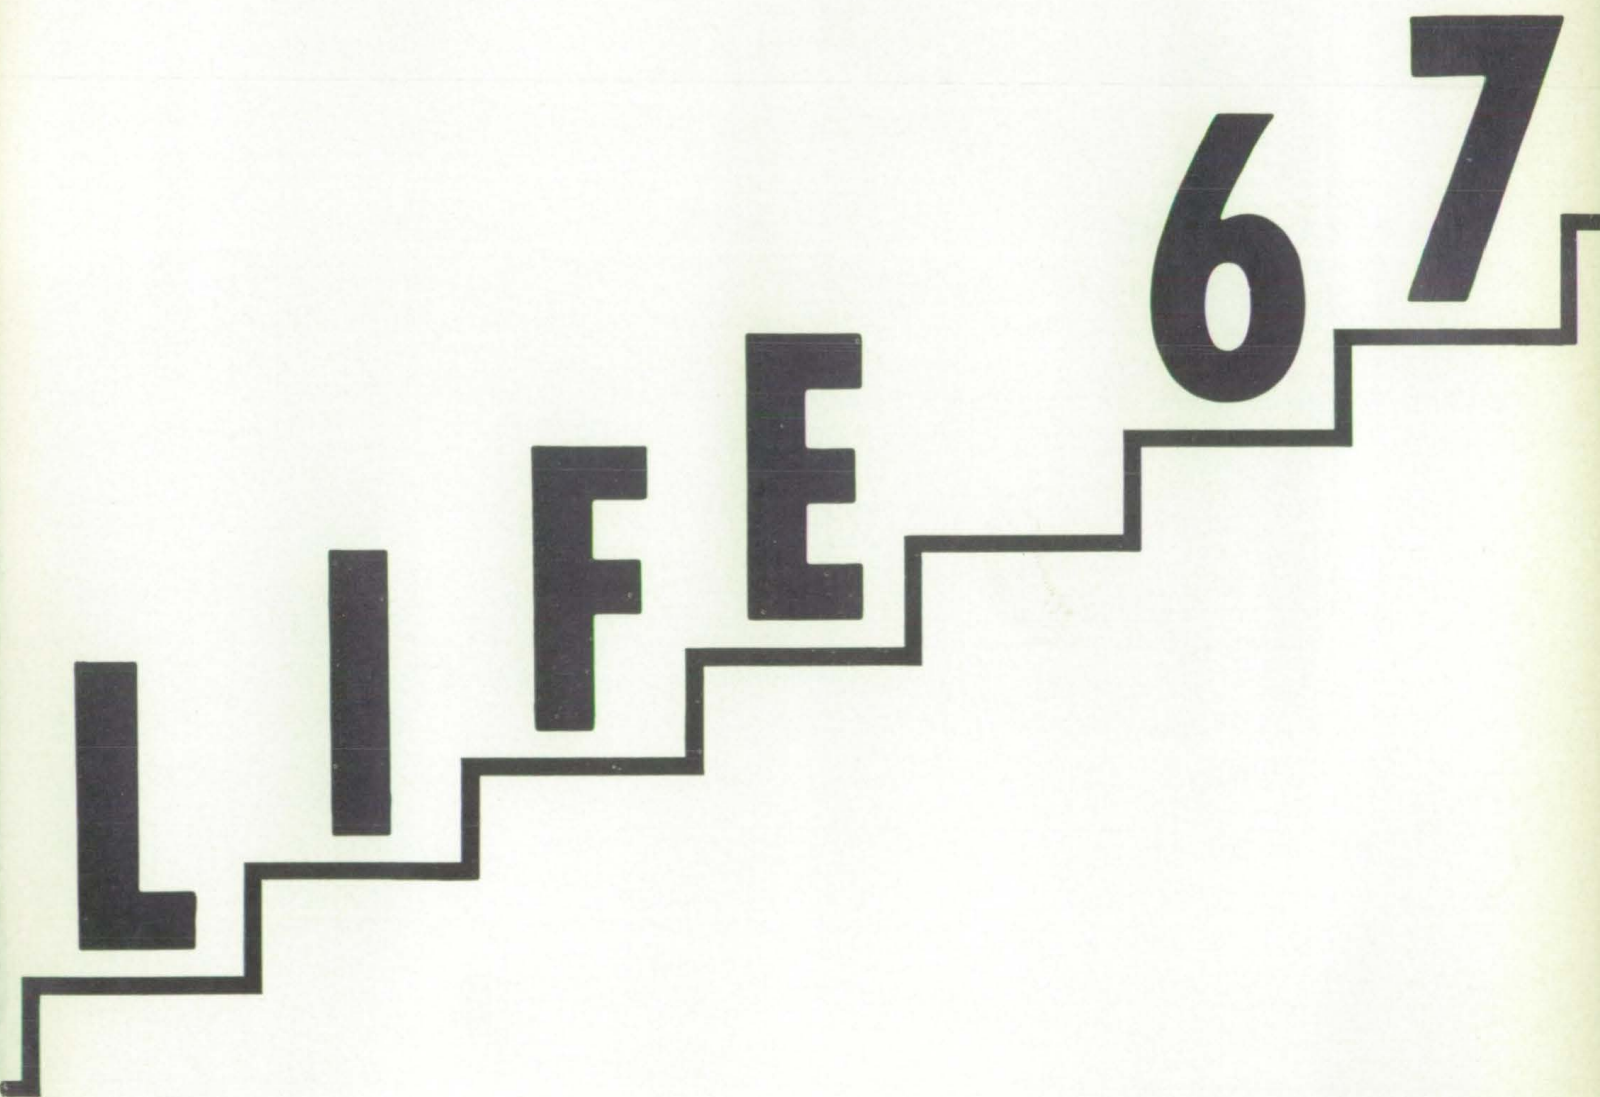

HUMBOLDT'S 1966 CITY-CHAMP

SHIP FOOTBALL TEAM & BAND

DOWN

Walking through the halls of Humboldt, listening at the classroom doors, we have found, in some form or other, young people exposed to education. We have seen classes in silence, panels in debate, smiling teachers, puzzled students, and, we have seen as Bel Kaufman did, students going "Up The Down Stair Case".

FACULTY

MR. ADOLPH INGEBRETSON
Principal

Because this has been Mr. Adolph Ingebretson's last year as principal of Humboldt, the student body wishes to dedicate Life '67 to him. Mr. I, as most Humboldt students know him, has, over the past thirteen years, become a memorable part of Humboldt High School. He has established a relationship of mutual respect and friendship with the student body because of his sense of humor, honesty, and frankness. We are sorry he will be leaving us, and our appreciation for his devotion to Humboldt and all concerned makes us proud to honor our principal at this time.

Mr. Arley Ludwig
Assistant Principal

As Assistant Principal, Mr. Ludwig aids Mr. Ingebretson in the administration of Humboldt. During the year, he was in charge of discipline, programming, and scheduling of the student body.

EVENTS

"Monroe Died

Humboldt's cheerleaders and mascot add to the halftime parade and festivities.

The splendor and excitement of coronation began our homecoming 1966. With surroundings in Oriental fashion, the most beautiful Geishas at Humboldt appeared before the student body.

From the candidates and their escorts to the last person viewing this "Oriental Fantasy", tension was reigning at its peak when the crown and honor of Homecoming were placed upon Chris Melbye.

A farewell smile from retiring Queen Sandy.

Monroe died

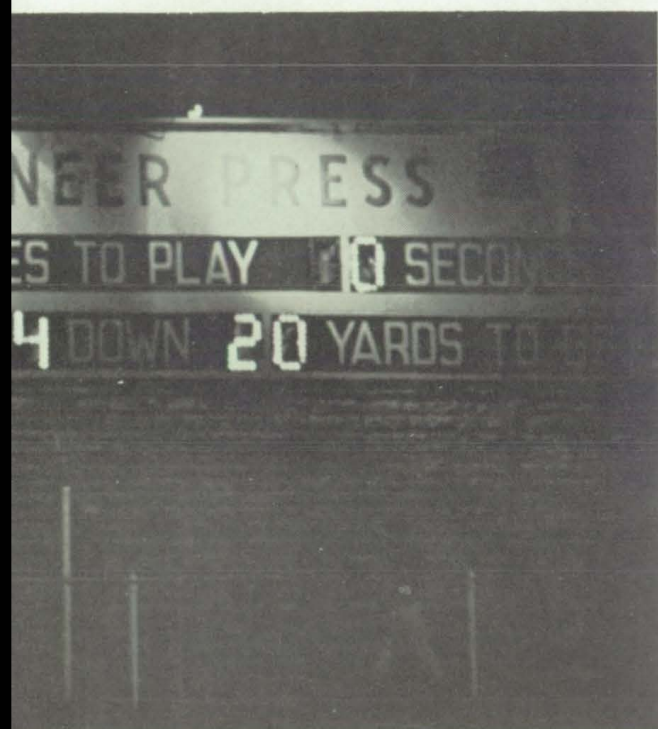

A hug, a smile, and a tear at a moment of happiness for our new Queen Chris.

In 1831"

Humboldt's reserves anxiously await the "action".

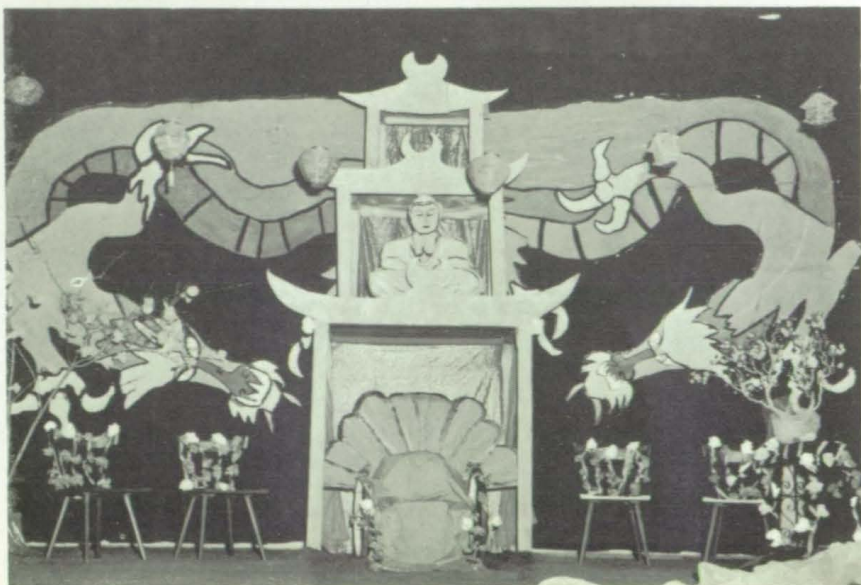

Monroe did die in 1831, and so it was proved to followers of the Green Wave. Humboldt scored its way to a valiant victory, 39-0.

The Royal Court reappeared in the evening to preside over the dance and the termination of the week's activities.

The disadvantages of femininity.

"Sno-Heaven In '67" began with the coronation of Sno-Day royalty. Amid the ice and snow of Baker Playground, junior Jim Hessler was selected as king, and sophomore Janice Johnson was crowned his queen. Prince and Princess, crowned by Winter Carnival royalty, were freshmen Bobby Otto and Shelly Casalenda. The huge mounds of snow and brisk weather set the stage for broomball, tug-a-war, skating, sliding, and the Sno-Day treasure hunt.

That evening, students danced in a heavenly atmosphere to the music of the Restless Souls. The royal party was ushered in and introduced to conclude a Sno-Day that was out of this world.

"96 Tears"

Who you pulling for?

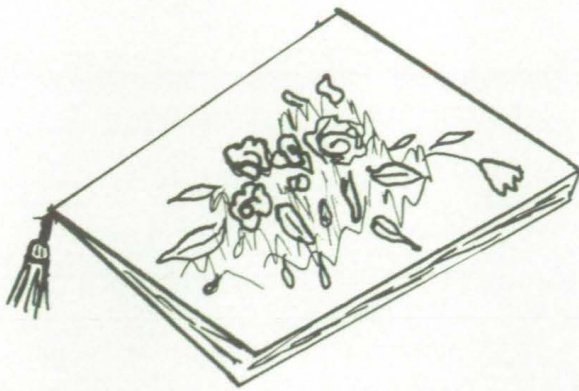

Wonderful! Wonderful!

"Wonderful, Wonderful!" was the theme of the 1966 Junior-Senior Prom sponsored by the junior class. Held in the North Star Ballroom on the University of Minnesota campus, couples danced to the music of Rod Aaberg. The fragrance of corsages, the rustle of long, flowing formals and the appearance of boys in crisp white jackets created a setting which will long be remembered by those in attendance. As the evening drew to an end, everyone agreed that the Prom was truly "Wonderful, Wonderful!"
