OFFICE

IN HOT WATER
Beginning his new job last fall as our principal, Mr. Lenander rapidly endeared himself to both faculty and the students. His even temper, his understanding kindness, and his efficient yet tactful management have made him a true friend and guide. We are proud to have him the leader of Humboldt.

Principal Lenander confers with his aides, Miss Hoffmann and Miss Ericsson.

When Mrs. Barron speaks, the men listen. The men? Messrs. McDonough, Ramstad, Powles, and Neihart.
To Miss Bigue

Miss Blanche Bigue, teacher for forty-four years at Humboldt, will resign this June from teaching. Her hundreds of friends, once students in her classes say, however, that she can never resign. To think of Humboldt is to think of Miss Bigue. We will always remember her poise, her wisdom, her buoyancy, and her insight.

No, Miss Bigue can never say "Goodbye". She is a part of all that is the best at Humboldt.

Even teachers read! Miss Bauleke, Mrs. Samson, Mr. Meier, Mrs. Ryan.

Junior Class

Essential to the success of the Junior-Senior Prom, is the hard working Junior Class. They devote a whole year of time and energy selling popcorn balls, beanies, buttons, and basketball tickets to finance the Prom. A splash party and roller skating party are two other money-making events they sponsored.

Beautiful Indian head rings have been established by the class as a traditional emblem of graduation.

Officers are Dick Wasko, president; Ruth Neumann, vice-president; Jacqueline Warnlof, secretary; Bill Gerberding and Elaine Neumann, co-treasurers.

Mrs. Hilda Samson and Miss Ora Hoy are the advisers.
Sophomores

Becoming oriented into high school life and all that it means is the main undertaking of the class of '48. Mrs. Doris Barron and Mr. Jerome Aga are the advisers. The officers of the sophomore class were president, Jean Olin; vice-president, Janet Smith; secretary, Nancy Luft; and treasurers, Carol Kahnert and Donald Shipley.

Office Force

To give students practical business experience and to provide Humboldt offices with much needed clerical help are the purposes of the office practice course. The three offices provided for this training are those of Mr. Roy Isacksen, Miss Mildred Ericsson, and Miss Minnie Hoffman.

Attending to callers and to the telephones, keeping records and files, sorting Ericsson, and Miss Minnie Hoffmann.

The German Club

The purpose of the German Club is to develop a spirit of comradeship and to acquire some skill in speaking German.

At the meetings, which are held monthly during the class period, German records are played, songs are sung, and interesting sketches of German authors and composers are given.

The club is under the direction of Miss Amanda Whaley. Officers are Shirley Kraut, president; Ruth Remele, vice-president; Barbara Kober, secretary; and Allan Mirsky, treasurer.
What makes a library quiet? What gives it the atmosphere of serene efficiency and keeps it functioning?

At Humboldt thirteen library pages, under the direction of Mrs. Alice Knauss, check books in and out, shelve returned books, and do the thousand little things that keep the library running smoothly. This year 423 new books were prepared for circulation by these pages.

Required qualities in a library page are scholarship, dependability, and cooperative attitude, as well as neatness and accuracy.

The Forum

The Y Forum, sponsored by the Department of Education and the Y.M.C.A. jointly, is in its first year of existence. Each high school has a representative on every panel.

The main purpose of the Forum is to present timely information to the general public, not solving, but only discussing both sides of the problem. The Forum encourages, through its activities, constructive thinking by its members and the audience.

Among panels presented were "Labor and Politics," "Dates and Mates," and "Movie Morals." In the last panel, "Looking Ahead," the valedictorians of all schools took part.

These forums have been given before such groups as the Rotary Club, Lions Club, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.
Canteen tonight! This has been the familiar chant almost every Friday.

Sponsored by the P.-T.A., the Canteen with its ping pong, cards, checkers, and dancing provided recreation for the teen-agers.

Boys clustered around the game tables and ignored the dance floor the first few weeks. In a short time, however, game tables were deserted and the girls had male partners.

Advisors are Mr. Ellsworth Peters and Mr. John Neihart. The officers are Shirley Meade and Gordon Nash, co-chairman; Beverly Lindgren, secretary, and Marjorie Thalin, treasurer.
The Historical Society has the responsibility of keeping records of all former Humboldt graduates and a service file of all non-graduates. These records contain all the information connected with a person such as addresses, achievements, medals won in war, marriage, death, or injury. A special scrapbook is kept for sports and social activities also.

Throughout the year, each Historical Society member must contribute two hours' work a month to keep this important file alive.

Qualifications for membership are scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

Officers of the society, which is under the direction of Miss Katie Pearson, are Marjorie Thalin, president; Charles Smith, vice-president; Maxine Radant, secretary; and Myrtle Reed, treasurer.

The second year shorthand students comprise the Sharks of Shorthand Club. To qualify for this club a girl must have two years of shorthand and typing training. The use of the dictaphone, good grooming, and correct office procedure are stressed. The purpose of this club is to fit its members for their entrance into the modern business world.

This year, movies on good grooming, telephone voice, different types of employers and their methods of dictation, and the care and use of typewriters and other office machines have been shown to prepare the stenographer or secretary for the many situations which she will meet in her business career.

Under the direction of a new leader, Mrs. Isabelle Jones, our band has been an inspiration to us all. After many hours of practice, they have shown us a fine arrangement of music at assemblies, the vaudeville, and the spring play.

Snafu. A trumpet duo and a saxophone trio have also played at various civic organizations.

This year has been a busy one for the members of the choir. Their spirited caroling at Christmas, long a Humboldt tradition, will be a lasting mem-

Everywhere Music
The choir's outstanding ability was also brought out by the presentation of "In Old Vienna" or "Pickles" on May 3. This musical comedy was the first presented at Humboldt for many years. Mrs. Jones was not only working with a cast that was entirely new to her, but also with pupils that were inexperienced. A preview of this operetta was given over WTCN on April 30. The choir has also sung at various P.T.A. meetings and churches. Their final appearance was on Commencement night when they sang at the auditorium.

A new idea to Humboldt is the Girls' Glee Club. This group of selected singers must come early to school in order to practice. Besides singing over WTCN on "Salute To Schools", they also participated in the Christmas Assembly.

Glee Club

Majorettes

Kneeling: B. Hudalla, B. Fehrmann.
Whether budding Bernhardts and Barrymores or merely stage-struck "extras", members of the Little Theater can be identified by their sincere love of grease paint, footlights, and all things connected with the work of "acting".

Major projects of the year are the annual spring play and a school assembly of one-act plays given by the expression students all under the direction of Mrs. Alta Carlson. Monthly meetings of the group are red-letter days for its members. Plays, skits, monologues, dramas, and musical programs give members a chance to perform for an audience and develop individual talents.
Situation Normal

Take one fifteen-year-old war veteran; add a suspicious maiden aunt, a wolfish army private, a shrunken cannibal's head, a bloody Jap flag, and a hard-boiled detective; mix well, and you should have an inkling of what Snafu was like.

The title of this year's spring play, Snafu, was taken from an army term meaning Situation Normal, All Fouled Up. The plot concerns the misadventures of an under-age army sergeant who returns to his family to be "rehabilitated."

Snafu ran two nights, March 28 and 29, instead of the usual single performance, and was a financial and artistic success.

A party for the entire cast was held in May.

A scene from Snafu. Marylu Petersen and Ed Hoffman stare at the returning runaways, Marjorie Thalin and Phil Peters.
The Girls' Athletic Association promotes healthful and recreational activities under the leadership of Mrs. Alta Carlson.

By participating in field hockey, soccer, basketball, volleyball, ping-pong, baseball, dancing, hiking, and other sports, the girls gain points for letters. The total of 750 points entitles them to a high school letter and 500 additional points wins a city letter.

All the girls in the pictures have either won their letters or made the first team in various sports this year.
Two of the leading service clubs at Humboldt are the Hi-Y and the Girl Reserves.

Sponsored by the Y, the Girl Reserves is an altruistic organization with open membership. The Humboldt chapter at present has an enrollment of 50 girls.

Serving in many capacities, the Girl Reserves conducted a doughnut sale for Y.W.C.A. campers, presented a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family, and worked on the city-wide World Fellowship Dance. They also ushered at the Women’s Institute programs. Mrs. Frances Cochran served as adviser the first semester, and Miss Priscilla Rugg the second semester.

The Hi-Y took care of running the new projector and obtaining films. They repaired the juke box, sponsored a tag day for new records, supervised the gym during lunch shifts, and produced a minstrel show. Biggest undertaking of the year was their assistance with the recreational program carried on at Humboldt every Thursday night.
Working with heads, ears, and dummies would seem a job strictly for an anatomy class, but the Arrow staff deals with these things regularly. The newspaper slang term for every part of the paper is one of the first things a cub reporter learns in journalism class.

Most of the year in journalism is spent scurrying after news and features, furiously typing stories, and sweating over headlines. In breathing spells between issues the staff finds time to criticize the paper and discuss ways of making the paper better.

The money-making project of the Arrow this year was Cupid Cablegrams, Inc., which netted enough money to furnish needed flash bulb equipment for the staff camera. To encourage literary composition at Humboldt the paper also sponsored a writing contest. Winners were awarded cash prizes.

Membership in Quill and Scroll, national honorary society, is a student’s reward for excellent work on a school publication. He must, at the same time, maintain an average of B in all his studies.
Life Story

Work on the 1946 Life started in the fall with selecting the staff, getting ideas, and planning the theme.

In the winter came senior questionnaires, picture-taking and a circulation drive. Artists made pen and ink drawings and cartoons.

Then as spring drew near, the staff spent long hours on tedious precision work of cutting and pasting. In room 203 the staff wrote copy, identified pictures, read proof, and made the dummy.

Finally the deadline, and "Humboldt Life" went to press!
Red Cross

There will always be work for the Red Cross and now more than ever since the war's end. Knowing the need for money, bright colored arts and crafts and wood shop articles for the men still overseas and those in hospitals, the Junior Red Cross buckled down to help supply these things.

Working to their utmost for the March Red Cross drive, home room representative urged students to contribute money to reach the Humboldt quota.

Guiding and directing the workings of the Junior Red Cross was Mrs. Geraldine Raymond. Officers and delegates to the monthly meetings of the Junior Red Cross City Council were Tom Melbye, president; Dorothy Rembold, chairman and also secretary of the city council; Patricia Doud, Dick Gustafson, Norman Youness, and Margaret Hemmersbaugh.

Latin Club

The Latin Club tea was the highlight of this year's activities of the organization. At this time the Clara Iddings' Award was presented to Jane Ann Klingel. She has the highest scholastic rating of a graduating Latin student.

SENIOR OFFICERS

Standing: Betty Lou Lindgren, Margaret Young, Maxine Radant, Beverly Tidemann.
Sitting: David Kenney.

Of the three years the class of '46 spent at Humboldt, their junior year was the most exciting and the most profitable. Miss Arlene Menk, class adviser, originated the idea of selling Christmas corsages. The class also sold Humboldt buttons, popcorn balls and basketball tickets, and sponsored roller skating parties.

Senior class officers are Dave Kenney, president; Margaret Young, vice-president; Betty Lou Lindgren, secretary; and Maxine Radant and Beverly Tidemann, co-treasurers.

Tribute to Miss Menk

We are grateful to you, Miss Menk, for your unfailing guidance during our entire life at Humboldt. In your quiet and careful manner you have helped us with our problems, and your encouragement has carried us through many difficulties.

All students who have labored with you know you, Miss Menk, as one of the most gay, likeable, and cooperative persons. Besides your careful leadership, your friendship will always be something to remember.

So may we say, Miss Menk, very sincerely and simply—many thanks.

—The Class of 1946

MISS ARLENE MENK
Carrying out their four-fold plan of citizenship, scholarship, leadership, and service, the Humboldt Chapter of the National Honor Society sponsored this year a clothing and food drive for needy people in Europe, attended the Supply Shoppe, sold tags for the Children’s Hospital, gave tutorial aid to worthy pupils, and started college advisory meetings for seniors. National Honor members are not only elected on the basis of scholarship but for their high qualities of character and leadership.

The biggest social event of the society is the initiation ceremony and tea for new members and their parents held early in the spring.

The Humboldt nine took to the sand lot last year decked out in new uniforms and a determined spirit. Winning 17 games and having eight conference victories out of a possible nine, the Indians were crowned co-champions with Washington High School.

After downing Johnson in the first round of the district playoffs, Humboldt went on to become district champions by defeating Mechanics 4-3 in a thriller under lights at Lexington ball park before a crowd of over 3,000.

Under Coach Roy Isacksen the team developed powerful hitting with several players batting over .500.

Entering the Carleton invitational baseball meet, the team succeeded in winning the State Class L title.

Ken Staples, catcher; Gene Stuhlman, pitcher; and Ron Knutson, first base, were placed on the mythical All-City team.

What the Humboldt Indians of '45 lacked in experience they made up in fighting spirit. Although they finished only eighth in the Conference race, the squad was more dangerous than the record would indicate. Improving steadily throughout the season, the Indians came up with a rousing last game splurge to down Mechanic Arts 12-0.

Coach John Neihart molded this year’s team from nearly all green material, with a “looking ahead to next year” attitude.

Fullback Bob Gill and tackle George Karn were awarded positions on the second team on the All-City selection by virtue of their rugged aggressive play and their fine sportsmanship. Dick Wasko, quarterback, received an honorable mention.

Ted Siroris of the local Neighborhood House assisted with the coaching duties this year. Siroris took over the reins of this year's squad and produced a better than average team. Many of the boys will see action on next year's A team.

Mass Meeting

Hockey

Developing speed and skill as well as scoring power, an underestimated Humboldt sextet skated to a berth as co-champions with Washington High School.

The amazing manner in which Bruce David made the switch from wing to goal guard was a fine example of coaching by John Neihart.

The Indians' first line of Roger Yackel, Bob Lick, and Larry Sharrow broke all prep scoring records in making 18 of the team's 24 goals. Lick collected fourteen points to lead the scoring league while Yackel and Sharrow tied for second with 9 points each.

Bob Lick's habit of being in the right place at the right time and defenseman Bob Gill's hard checking and skating ability placed these icemen on the All-City squad. Yackel, Sharrow, and Karn received honorable mentions.

This year Mr Jerome Aga took over the coaching reins of a fast depreciating gym team. The boys quickly responded, and although the squad finished far down in the standings, prospects for next year are bright.

Ed Ritchie was the discovery of the year. Norman Youness was the only experienced member of the team.

Dick Howlett assisted Mr. Aga with the coaching duties.
Basketball

The Indians' smooth passing and tricky ball handling was offset this year by their spotty shooting and the loss of several valuable players. Curt Heidenreich suffered a knee injury early in the season and Jerry Webb was unable to play in the sub-district game due to a siege of scarlet fever. Both boys were centers and over six feet.

Coach Roy Isacksen believes this year's Humboldt squad was the best last place team to occupy this conference position in many years.

Capt. Dale Vitalis and forward Dave Kenney were instrumental in the Indians' lone conference victory over their old rivals from Washington High School.

A Team

The swimming team came back this year with a mighty splash after several years of inactivity. Enthusiasm was bubbling over on all sides of the pool as the Humboldt tank men finished in third place. Phil Peters’ diving and the medley race team both took firsts in the city meet. Peters went on to the state meet where he placed eighth.

While scientists were busy splitting the atom, Humboldt’s tennis and golf teams succeeded in splitting their season. The golfers won three out of six while the racquet men took two out of a possible four.

Rog Yackel qualified for the city golf finals. Stan Tyler and Bob Backlund represented Humboldt in the city singles tennis tournament at the Dunning Courts. Prospects for both teams look good, due to the returning veterans and added new material.
The Rooters’ Club is an organization formed by Humboldt girls to promote school spirit. Members of the club are enthusiastic basketball and football fans who attend games regularly. A basket social dance, sponsored by the club was given on April 26. Money raised through this dance was used to give a banquet, honoring boy and girl letter-winners. Officers of the club are Jackie Warnloff, president; Mary Clare Hughes, secretary; and Beverly Tidemann, treasurer. John Neihart is adviser.

Cheerleaders

Track

Although losing much of its talent through graduation the previous year, the '45 track team placed third in the city meet. Coach John Neihart was well pleased with the marked improvement due to gruelling hours of after-school practice.

Outstanding members of the squad were Phil Speigler, Capt. Morris Herstein, Lyle Nelson, and Jack Alberg of which Speigler, Herstein, and Alberg qualified for the State Track Meet.

A promising season is forecast this year because of the many returning lettermen.
