Foreword

We students of Humboldt High School are proud to be known as the Indians. An Indian symbolizes courage and loyalty, love of outdoor beauty and freedom, and a strong sense of right and wrong. May we, the Indians of Humboldt High School, cultivate within ourselves these qualities. May we dedicate ourselves to the service of these ideals.

When our bones are brittle and our eyes are dim,
When we have reached the slow autumn of our lives,
What picture of gay days at Humboldt will crowd our memories!
Here are just a few.
JOSEPH A. WAUCHOPE
Principal of Humboldt High School

Mr. Wauchope has the qualities which made the sachem of an Indian tribe revered and respected—tolerance, understanding, wisdom, a willingness to serve his people and to meet the changing demands of new times, new exigencies.

"Our Betters"
Humboldt captured a dozen honors during the year 1940-41. Students receiving prizes were Dyer Brogmus, speech contest finalist and recipient of Governor Stassen's fee of last year for the most worthy boy; Margaret Bergh, D. A. R. representative; Ruth Anne Shimota, four-year scholarship at St. Catherine's; Bernice Peschel, four-year scholarship at St. Teresa's; Harriet Harris, College Club essay.

In the field of sports All-City honors were awarded to Rollie Seltz, basketball captain, who made the All-City basketball team for the second consecutive year. Louis Yzermans was placed on the All-City hockey and football teams; Paul Schaefer on the All-City football team; Bob Schaefer on the All-City hockey team.

Art laurels go to Annie Schreiber and Don Nadeau, whose work will be displayed in schools of the state.

Realizing that students do better work when their abilities and likings are considered, the counseling department supervised and checked individual programs, thus eliminating future difficulty. Student applicants were interviewed and part time employment was secured for many young people; vocational advice prepared students for future work.

Activities of the home economics department centered about the dining room completed this year. Draperies, seat covers, and furniture were finished by the sewing classes.

Plans for the speech classes of next year include the use of the recording machine purchased by the P.T.A. Recording of student voices will enable speech defects to be corrected.

Stenciling and stitchery projects were added to the craft curriculum. Articles of craftsmanship were entered in the senior high school art exhibits at the University of Minnesota Gallery and at the St. Paul Library.

Student art was displayed in the school halls, Riverview Branch Library, St. Paul Public Library and at the University of Minnesota Art Gallery. Re-arrangement of seats and erection of new tables facilitated dexterity and skill in art classes.

The commencement program will be different this year. Instead of an outside speaker an original pageant, written by Humboldt students, will be enacted by the seniors.

The purchase of a nickelodeon, installation of lockers in the gym, and refinishing of wood shop benches were but a few of this year's improvements.
Assisting at the center of school life are the office and counseling force. Office girls receive messages correctly and then deliver them. Besides writing excuses, answering the telephone, delivering messages, and taking around notices, (and seeing that they are all signed) the girls must deliver mail, run errands, cut stencils, and run the mimeograph and ditto machines. Purchase orders are written and requisitions typed. To serve in the office a girl must be a senior, be able to type, have a "C" average, a pleasing personality and the habit of promptness.

Filing, typing, checking, writing excuses—the counseling workers are busy under the close supervision of Counselor Miss Hoffmann. They keep the records straight and ready for use at a moment's notice. The ever-ready assistants are quick to respond to any call for help.

Miss Janda won the love and respect of her class long before they became seniors. This year, however, she has made indelible the memory which the class of 1941 will have of her. They can never forget her firm guidance, her presence and help in any emergency or task, most of all, her gaiety and friendliness.

WORKERS

Sharks of Shorthand is the name given to the new shorthand club with Mrs. Ryan as advisor. The club kills the proverbial "two birds with one stone" by providing both entertainment and an added skill in the commercial field. Meetings are held every other Friday.

The duties of library assistants are varied, and include desk routine, mending and lettering, and arranging books, keeping statistics, and finding reference material on different subjects. This year the Phi Sigma Delta Club donated the sum of $12.40, raised by selling second hand books. With this money books were purchased for the library. Some money was also raised for books by having Tag Day in April.

First row: J. Gibis, M. Jacobs, G. Kane, Miss Bostin, L. Bryczek, A. Levenberg, G. Kelly.
Led by officers, Gene Grieder, Margaret Gesell, Bonnie Baxter, and Audrey Goin, the Junior Class also has the inspiration and advice of Miss Doris Hadlich. The annual Sadie Hawkins' celebration, sponsored by the Junior Class, was a red-letter day at Humboldt. Then, garbed in short skirts and one-strapped overalls, the girls tried to get their man. The Junior-Senior prom, as usual, was the climax of the social year.
Cheerleaders Dalton, Eberlein, Gesell, Janasek, and Wagner steam up the old locomotive.

Crooner Hayes.

Gloria Kelly and Delores Vitally prepare for winter’s windy blast.

Both the orchestra and the band, under the direction of Mrs. Mumm, are noted for their fine work in participating in the various assemblies during the year. Orchestra appearances for the year included playing at the Riverview Commercial Club, Humboldt Vaudeville, Sibley Junior High School, and at "The Imaginary Invalid."

Spring brings the band out from its winter quarters. In striking formations the members march up and down the streets surrounding the school, filling the air with song. The athletic games would be lifeless without the aid of the band.

Front row: A. Silver, G. Grosmark, H. Specktor, H. Blazer, B. Foster, M. Warkentien, B. Peters,
B. Baxter, J. Lindell.
Every day during sixth period melodic strains are heard throughout the building. The choir, composed of over seventy members, and specializing in both sacred and secular music, sang at assemblies, caroled through the halls at Christmas, participated in an all-city choir, and blended their voices at Commencement.

"Oh, come all ye faithful."
A memorable scene from "The Imaginary Invalid." Under the costumes are Bob English, D. Doyle, B. Rabinovitz, L. Young, and B. Marren.

Humboldt's rising young actors produced two entertainments this year. The vaudeville success, "Humb's-a-Poppin'" presented a cast of one hundred. Production managers were Ruby Nickisch and Arthur Hendel. "The Imaginary Invalid," given this year, was a colorful comedy by Moliere. Critics declared it one of the most polished performances ever given at Humboldt. Dorothy Mahoney and Walter Kurtz were student managers.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club meetings are held every other Friday. At the meetings one-act plays are presented, German songs are sung, games are played, and German records are played on the phonograph. Under the supervision of Miss Foerster the club has many entertaining and educational meetings.

LATIN SOCI

The Latin Soci is an organization composed of Latin students under the direction of Miss Clara Iddings. The purpose of the club is to make the study of Latin more interesting by learning other Latin facts not found in the everyday lessons. Club programs include talks on Roman customs, festivals, gods, and famous men. During the year Mythology week was celebrated by discussions of the myths, an Information Please, and a contest.

dent; E. Friant, C. Bovee.

LA CIRCLE FRANCAISE

To learn to speak and understand the French language better, the club conducts itself in French as far as possible. They play games and sing French songs. This active group gave a Mardi-Gas dance and featured the Mayer-ing movie. A Christmas party and similar amusements were carried on during the current year.

LATIN CLUB

First row: D. Gerberding, treasurer; L. Cobb, vice president; B. Crawford, secretary; J. Arend, president; F. Carr, L. Barger, M. Cobb.
HI-Y

Hi-Y has two chapters in Humboldt. With much precision they carry out their two-fold program of fun and service. Meeting every week, the Hi-Y is active in sponsoring dances, helping distribute Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets, and helping pay for the nickelodeon.

SIGMA PHI

Seated: T. Petherbridge, L. Burdick, J. Peterson, treasurer; S. Miles, secretary; L. Young.
Absent: C. Hochmuth, president.
The Girl Reserves flaunt seventy members, whose purpose is "To find and give the best." Planned to fulfill the desires of growing youth for satisfactory living, the Girl Reserve program includes varied activities as making favors for the West Side General Hospital, giving away a Christmas basket, sponsoring an All City Carnival Hop, sewing for Red Cross, a hair stylist and a makeup demonstration at the meetings, ushering at the Women's Institute, attending Hobby House at the Y.W.C.A., selling camp cookies, celebrating the sixtieth anniversary with a birthday party and a ceremonial. In addition they had a hike and initiation party.
LIFE STAFF

Carol, at the engravers exhibits her skill.

LIFE STAFF

Under the watchful eyes of Miss Kees, a book of high school memories is prepared amid trial-and-error confusion, haste, and brain-searching. Writing stories, checking proofs, identifying pictures, getting ads, planning the dummy—all these are tasks of a Life staff member. The flashing of a bulb in any section of the school proves that the Life staff photographer is on his toes gathering material for Humboldt's annual.

In recognition of their hard work and their high scholastic record, sixteen members of the Life staff were invited to join the Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists. They were Richard Ruh, Robert Ramstad, Gertrude Johnston, Violet Peterson, Lorraine Casby, Betty Chandler, Evelyn Coleman, Ruth Anne Shimota, Dyer Brogmus, Audrey Hurley, James Ridley, Carol Pierce, Elaine Wilson, Hilmer Frank, Phyllis Petermann. Members since last year are Clark Tyler and Ruby Nickisch.
ART CLUB

To learn new art methods, get acquainted with famous painters and their works, and to develop the social side of the student—these are the purposes of the Art Club.

One of the informative demonstrations was given by Mr. Edmeyer on the silk screen process, while the most important trip was to the Picasso exhibit at the Minneapolis Institute of Art, after which reports were given.

Besides these, there were trips to Walker Institute of Art, the art room at the St. Paul Public Library, the St. Paul Gallery and School of Art, parties at Christmas, and an outing at the end of the term.

A student art exhibit in the main hall of Humboldt this spring won high praise.
The Big Four among girls' social clubs are Phi Sigma Delta, Nezods, Sub Deb, and Theta Sigma Gamma.

To prove their aims are fun, service, duty, Phi Sigma Delta conducted a school bookstore and with the proceeds added seven new books to the library. In addition, there were parties and a popcorn sale to pay for a lake outing. The advisor is Mr. Rock.

Nezods have piled up fifteen years of service for others and themselves. Samples of their duties are the decorating of the school Christmas tree, and the selling of carnival capes. A Nezod birthday celebration is always memorable.

For the Sub Debs and Thetas service and recreation are the thing. They make scrapbooks for sick children and find recreation in hikes, horseback riding, or sleigh rides.

All these clubs assist at the annual May festival.

The Humboldt chapter of the Junior Red Cross was one of the first to contribute dy-dee bundles for Britain's infants. Some members spent hours wrapping bundles and typing at the main headquarters. The rest of the club knitted sweaters, socks, and mittens for Greece. Humboldt placecards and menus brightened the Thanksgiving dinners of veterans at Fort Snelling. Thanksgiving baskets were collected and packed by our chapter with the co-operation of the student body.
Victorious in the first two games of the season, the '40 football squad was unable to win a conference start. Ralph Engebretson, who replaced Claire McMann as head coach at Humboldt, was forced to mold his squad almost entirely from green material.

The unquenchable fighting spirit of the eleven asserted itself in the dogged resistance they put up in the face of certain defeat from heavier, more powerful, and far more experienced teams.

Sparking his team by brilliant offensive and defensive play, Captain Louis Yzermans proved a mighty bulwark to the opposing teams. Outstanding also was the play of Gappa, Reed, Moreno, the Schaefers, English, and Heuer.

BASKETEERS

A high scoring cage machine that refused to acknowledge defeat defended Humboldt laurels during the 1940-41 basketball season.

At the end of the regular playing season, the squad, ably, effectively, and efficiently guided by Coach Isacksen, had tied with Mechanic Arts for second place in the South Division. Having vanquished Mechanics in a post season battle, they earned the right to compete for the city title. Here they were overpowered by Johnson, but staged a comeback against the Marshall quintet to capture third place in the final standings.

Rollie Seltz, captain and All-City forward, was outstanding throughout the year with his consistent floor play and deadly shooting.

Harold Yahanka, who received honorable mention on the All-City squad, Wally Erickson, and Dick Furey also contributed much to the unexpectedly successful season.

HOCKEY

Hard skating and clever stick-handling intermingled with bruising body checks characterized the play of the '40-'41 hockey team. The agile puck chasers, under the guidance of Coach Engebretson, fought determinedly throughout a thrilling season, finishing in fifth place with but a few points separating them from the conference leaders.

Louis Yzermans, All-City wing, was the prominent figure in the scoring drives, while goalie Don Fehrmann, with skill born of long practice, warded off the opponents' attempts to score.

TUMBLING

Captained by Vic Weber and directed by Mr. Peller, the tumbling team by their determined efforts won the respect and admiration of all who witnessed their performances. Patient and persistent practice on the high bar, horse, and parallel bars turned a group of inexperienced tumblers into seasoned veterans. Composed mainly of juniors and sophomores, the squad, which placed sixth in the City and seventh in the Northwest meet, looks forward to next year with great expectations.

SWIMMERS

To us water is merely something to drink, but to the swimming team it proved to be a battleground. In weekly meets at the Central Y.M.C.A. pool, the well-trained squad of swimmers and divers fought off the onslaught of other schools. Sportsmanship dominated the actions of the team, for although the goddess of victory smiled on them only once during the season, defeat served merely to heighten their enthusiasm and increase their competitive spirit.

Jim Rembold was captain and Mr. Ryan was coach.

Seated: R. English, S. Wentz, B. Montgomery, M. Friel, secretary; L. Burdick. Absent: C. Hochmuth, president; A. Bleedorn, vice president; Mr. James Peller.

THE RIFLE CLUB

Competition with other schools is the main purpose of the Rifle Club. Target practice every Thursday at Como is made possible by the St. Paul Rifle Club. To raise funds to purchase new guns, the club sponsored a sunlight dance in the school gymnasium.

FENCING CLUB

To get students interested in fencing and also progress as a social group is the two-fold purpose of the Fencing Club. At their meetings, held every Monday night, they receive fencing instructions. A girls' drill team was formed. A roller skating party was sponsored by the club at the Oxford roller rink.
BOWLING

Sportsmanship and competition enter into the bowling held at St. Matthew's bowling alleys. The girls in the club find it a good way to keep in trim and enjoy it. Using a 13-pound ball, they try to get their scores up. They enjoy the social as well as the athletic aspects of the club.

The Girls' Athletic Association has worked out an extensive program of athletics designed to foster a spirit of sportsmanship and an enthusiasm in girls' athletics.

By participating in sports such as basketball, volleyball, tennis, dancing, bicycling, ping-pong, hiking, the girls may win points. The total of 750 points entitles them to a high school letter, and an additional 500 points wins a city letter.
Bill flies through the air with the greatest of ease.

DIAMOND DEMONS
Under the able leadership of Captain John Anderson, the baseball team during the season of 1940 was extraordinarily successful. Their sparkling style of play, coupled with a will to win, drove them to the championship of the South division. The patient training of Coach Roy Isacksen bore fruit in the skill with which Art Guertin and Bob Kaschke slammed out hits. Just as important was the fine defensive work of Nentwig, Paul Guertin, and a host of others. It is most regrettable that in the playoff with Washington for the city title, they had the misfortune of being defeated.

TRACK
Long days of gruelling practice climaxed by bitter defeat was the lot of the track team during 1940. Their valiant efforts to win the meets were frustrated as they saw the representatives of other schools breast the tape a few inches ahead of them or toss the discus a greater distance. Fleet Fred Silvis, captain, and Ted Van qualified for the finals in the City meet. Their success rewarded the efforts of Coach Bernie Wolcyn, for Fred placed third in the 220-yard dash and Ted was third in the high jump.

RACQUETEERS

Overwhelming all but one of their opponents, the tennis squad of 1940 enjoyed a victory-sprinkled season. The netmen began their string of conquests by defeating South St. Paul and Faribault.

At the end of the conference race, the team was deadlocked with Central for leadership of the South Division. After a stubborn battle, Central emerged the victor in a playoff tilt.

Art Paape, captain, placed second in the city high school singles tournament and Mattaini was third.
