HUMBOLDT LIFE

Humboldt High School

St. Paul, Minnesota

Foreword

To all Humboldt students of yesterday, today, and tomorrow, to all who love or will love our school, we dedicate this book. Its theme is Our School. Its melody, now merry, now serious, is the song of classroom, shop, and hall, of aspiration and accomplishment.
Oh, Humboldt, our Alma Mater, always we’re true;
So let come whatever matters,
we’ll fight for you.
In sunshine or stormy weather,
you’ll never die;
You’ll always be dear to me,
my old Humboldt High.
Presenting
From Dawn to Date
With a Humboldt Student

Ho Hum! Do I have to get up? Seems like I just went to bed.

A dollar, a dollar, a laggard scholar! What makes you come so soon?
Classes are the orthodox program of the day. Here, a science class listens.

Over the horse in gym.

Food always tastes best, stolen between meals and between classes.
After school? Everyone belongs to some club.

Supper, and then Labor. A theme? Or math?

Study? Not on Friday night! Say, I've got a date!

LET COME WHATEVER MATTER
The Junior-Senior Dance

was held on May 29, in the St. Paul Hotel's Mirror Room. Leading the grand march were the junior president, Roy Haas, and the prom queen, Gloria Patten. Following with their guests were junior vice-president, Raymond Alt; general prom chairman, Dan Doyle; Secretary, George Watters; treasurer, Arlene Harder, and the senior officers. Prom committee heads were Loretta Hauck, Richard Brack, Dan Doyle, Beatrice Bauer, Phyllis Petermann, Shirley Sax, Ruth Ann Shimota, Mildred Maher, Georgette Birch, Arlene Harder, and Elaine Lynch.

Everyone looks forward to the annual Sadie Hawk-in's Day in the spring, sponsored by the junior class. The Hick Day assembly, featuring outstanding local talent, and the dance, at which everyone dressed as "Dogpatch" citizens, made the entire affair a memorable one.
"What's This?"

asks a stranger entering room 210 any day during sixth period. Sprawled on tipped chairs in one corner, Walter West and Jimmy McCorkhill are frowning in an attempt to express their ideas. Miss Kees' head may be buried in a drawer. The Nickisch sisters, with a million things to do, hurry about; Frances Eakin, Beatrice Weschke, Margaret Wood, Lorraine Schanno, and others confer on clever captions for the seniors. But in spite of the erratic manner in which they work, the LIFE staff managed to produce a yearbook of memories, which they present to you.

Discussion Serves

to promote interest in a thorough investigation of school problems. Humboldt boys have no manners, say the girls; boys complain of the girls' gossiping; the technique of study is discussed. That is why the Forum, a debating club, is popular with everybody. Mr. Christensen, Mr. Rock, Miss Hoffman, and Miss Ostergren take turns in supervising meetings. Officers are William Anderson, president; Irene Fisher, vice-president; Margaret Wood, secretary; George Broderson, treasurer; and Francis Eakin, publicity.

The Call for Help

by Mr. Wauchope, Mr. Rock, and Miss Ericsson brings a quick response from members of the Office Staff. The ever-ready assistants rush through the halls with notices, prepare the absentee list, and answer the telephone. All members are required to know typing and shorthand in order to do the office work efficiently.

Friendship

Through Understanding

is the motto of the Junior Red Cross, the largest youth organization in the world. Humboldt’s chapter has been active in the annual Red Cross Membership Drive, and in preparing Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets. Anyone interested in this most necessary club is urged to attend the meetings by the officers, president, Margaret Wood; vice-president, Margaret Kron; and secretary, Irene Seidl. The adviser is Miss Gertrude Chapin.
Mais Oui!

The French Club, reorganized this year after several years of inactivity, is alive and growing. Members discuss French customs and sing French songs. Miss Blanche Bigue directs this group of French students. Officers are Marjorie Due, president; Charles Peluso, vice-president; Carley Bovie, secretary; Gertrude Johnston, treasurer; and Ruth Ellen Dodge, publicity manager.

Sprechen Sie Die Deutsch?

If not, you won’t understand a word at the German Club meeting held bi-monthly during the advanced German Class. The meeting and entertainment afterward is held entirely in the German language. In this way, members learn to use the language conversationally. The club is under the guidance of Miss Alma Foerster. Officers are James McCorkhill, president; Dorothy Hutter, vice-president; Lissy Rosenblatt, secretary; and Eugene Wagner, treasurer.

They Aim to Please

do helpful Library Staff members, by checking books, filing cards, maintaining order, and aiding Miss Bastin in her daily tasks. To do library work, one must have a high scholastic average, and be accurate and neat. Through the work of this group, new books were purchased by funds obtained from the sale of special "Humboldt" pencils.

Money left by the class of '39 was given to the library fund. It was used to purchase books of plays for the English 2 classes.

It's Greek to Us

but we guess it's Latin to them. The club, officially known as the Latini Socci, is directed by Miss Clara Iddings. The twenty-four members are led by Joan Arend, president; Ruth Eggers, vice-president; Margaret Bergh, secretary; and Robert Ramstad, treasurer. Social life of the club includes parties and an annual picnic.
Strike Up the Band

for more school spirit at pep fests, assemblies, and games. With Mrs. Mumm directing this group of horn-blowers and tuba-tooters, their practice every day during fourth period has made them a well-coordinated and truly musical group. The perky drum majorettes and marching unit captured first place in the Carnival school parade.

At the annual school police picnic June 5, the band, as usual, will play in competition with other high school bands.

On the Up-Beat

to success is this year’s orchestra directed by Mrs. Celestine Mumm. A skilled organization, it is in demand for both in and out of school programs. Whether they accompany singers or tumblers or present arrangements all their own, they perform with ability.

Blessed With Song

are the members of Mrs. Mumm's choir, Humboldt's active mixed chorus. A small group during the fall semester, they have increased to a choir of over seventy voices. Specializing in both sacred and secular songs, they gave a much-praised spring concert, sang over the radio, and furnished entertainment for assemblies as well as for many other occasions.

The Play's the Thing to the Little Theater Group, who cast, act, and produce plays throughout the year. Members are responsible for the entire production, from advertising to drawing the curtain. The very successful plays presented this year were "Early To Bed, Early To Rise," and "The Phantom Tiger." Any one interested in the production of plays may join. Officers are Charles Peluso, president; William Anderson, vice-president; Margaret Wood, secretary; and Ruth Eggers, treasurer. Mrs. Frances Heller is adviser.

Check Your Coat?

Seems to be the watchword of the Hi-Y Club, Humboldt's only active boys' organization. Their activities, besides checking at dances and plays, include sponsoring sunlight dances, sleigh rides, and skating parties, attending state and regional Hi-Y conferences, and varied service projects. Officers are president, Bill Anderson; Vice-president, Vic Weber; secretary, Jack Finnegan; and treasurer, George Broderson. Mr. Walter Rock, Mr. Ellery, and Mr. Christensen serve as advisers.

Halt!

An enthusiastic branch of the National Girl Reserves exists within the premises of our school, lads. So right-about face to the sixty-five members who keep things jolly with their dances, hikes, parties, and picnics. This year they exceeded themselves with the aid of Hi-Y members and other branches of Girl Reserves, in presenting an All-City Penguin Hop. Officers are Laura McAndrews, president; Lorraine Steinbrenner, vice-president; Georgiann Seekins, secretary; Irene Dwyer, treasurer; Dorothy Close, Inter-club Council member. Mrs. Frances Cochran is adviser.

Hold that Pose
and thus with a quick click of the shutter, the ever-active Camera Club members preserve the fame of the school. President Don Wright, vice-president Jim Okey, secretary-treasurer Clark Tyler, and other members enjoy many educational trips and interesting activities. Most popular of all was the dark room technique. Seriously, the big event this year was the trip to Pako, one of the largest developing concerns in the Twin Cities. Miss Mary Dodge is their adviser.

Paints and Palettes are in evidence at the Art Club meetings held every Tuesday afternoon after school hours. The members attended a series of art exhibits in the Twin Cities, and several teas given by the St. Paul School of Art. Mr. Richard McKenney is their efficient helper and kindly critic. Art Zander is president, Carsten Johannsen is vice-president and treasurer, and Betty Gautschi is secretary.

Fun - Service - Duty

is the motto and purpose of the Phi Sigma Delta, Humboldt’s newest club. The girls sponsored a successful second-hand book store between semesters for the benefit of the library. Patricia Wall is executive head of the club and Phyllis McGoon her assistant. Ruth Ann Shimota, Ersal Baxter, and Muriel Schultz are secretary, treasurer, and publicity manager respectively.

For Fourteen Years

the principles of service for others as well as for members has been followed by the Nezods, a club of a dozen girls. Activities such as decorating the school Christmas tree, selling carnival capes, and holding progressive dinners are included in the Nezod calendar. Meetings are bi-weekly at the girls’ homes with the hostess as the presiding officer and Lois Backlund as treasurer.

Quill and Scroll

initiated eleven new members into the Humboldt Chapter in April. The Quill and Scroll is an international honorary society for high school journalists. To become a member one must be in the upper third of the class, and must have done outstanding journalistic work. Dorothea Van Zinderen is president, and Miss Dulcie Kees, adviser. A pow-wow is the last social meeting of the year.

New members this year are: Lorraine Hauser, Ruby Nickisch, Lovell Nickisch, James McCorkhill, Walter West, Clark Tyler, Mary Jane McMonigal, Betty Kindgren, Dorothy Seidl, Beatrice Weschcke, Francis Eakin.

The Senior Girl Scouts

are responsible for the pre-prom dancing class held twice monthly for both boys and girls. They participate in all activities sponsored by the St. Paul and regional councils, and have sleigh rides and parties. The president is Beatrice Weschcke; secretary, Rosemarie Hable; treasurer, Elaine Wilson; and adviser, Miss Bigue.
Honors and Innovations

The harvest this year of honors won by Humboldt and outstanding work accomplished includes so many items that only a sampling can be given. The counseling department, besides giving individual help to all students who need it, has so expanded its scope that it has become a part of the life stream of Humboldt. This year the following activities were added: a study of the success of Humboldt graduates at the University and colleges; a follow-up of all “left” students; collection of bulletins from colleges, universities, training schools, etc.; assembling of data on vocational training and opportunities; preparation of senior applications and teachers' appraisals for the Junior Employment Bureau; cooperation with such welfare agencies as the Clothing Center, Ancker Hospital, and the Wilder Dispensary.

Newest opportunity at Humboldt is that offered by the vocational homemaking department, open to both boys and girls. The work next year will differ from regular home economics courses in that a student electing the course will be required to enroll for two years of homemaking. Students extend their class room work into the home by completing three school term projects. One is carried on over the summer. Teachers make home visits to assist students with their projects.

The art department reports the following. Each month the fine arts department of the Public Library sends a framed reproduction of a well-known modern art painting. Three print collections of modern art, advertising prints, and art analogies have been sent from the University of Minnesota Art Library. These services acquaint students with modern works of art.

Wood carvings made in art classes were loaned to Washington and Marshall High Schools for display in their art room. They were also displayed in the office of the Division of Art at the Court House.

Charmed by pictures of Humboldt wood carvings in Design Magazine, a collector of American wood carvings, living in Connecticut, wrote asking for a carving typical of Minnesota.

Art students and their friends have been collecting Rap-in-Wax coupons, the money from which will be used for such equipment as tools and art books.

Among students winning individual prizes or honors were Margaret Wood, D. A. R. representative; Mary Jane McMonigal, four-year-scholarship at St. Catherine's; Carsten Johannson, Safety Quiz; Betty McClelland, College Club prize essay; Norma Penschuck, 1939 Dramatic Award. In the Y. M. C. A. hobby show Richard Huerta won two first awards and one second; Gladys Schmoll, two firsts; and Elaine Youness, a second.

Walter West, baritone; Eugene Greider, violin; Laura Wolter, soprano; and Dick Whitbeck, trumpet, were soloists at the National Music Festival held May 16, 17, and 18, in St. Paul.

At the Winter Carnival the Humboldt marching unit won first place and the drum majorette, third place. Forty-nine students won certificates or pins or both in Gregg contests.

In shop Martin Valencour made a tap wrench suitable for exhibit purposes. Robert Foranson, William Lenk, Gilbert Dunn, and Marlowe Bullis are making drill presses. Alvin Falteisek is making a lathe.

To augment their meager stock of books the library sold tags and books. Miss Ethel Graves gave a complete set of Mark Twain. The 1939 class donated twenty-two dollars to the library.

Benches in the woodworking rooms were equipped with new vises this year. Repair of the electric blueprint machine enabled students to make approximately 150 blueprints for the school.

On the Up and p.

Yeeow!!
Led to surprising victories by a desire to give Coach Clair McMann a championship in his last year of conference coaching, the '39 Indians gave Humboldt football fans their most exciting and satisfying season since 1931. Losing only to the powerful Washington team, they ended the season tied for second place.

Captained by “Dutch” Weber and Gene Hauck, and sparked by the brilliant backfield work of Bernie Kessel, Art Guertin, Don Corcoran, and others, the team defeated South St. Paul and Central by a total of 71 points to nothing. These triumphs were the most decisive in a combined total of over seventy-five years of competition.

At a farewell assembly Don Corcoran spoke for the team in presenting “Mac” with a brief case and a white football bearing signatures of all the players. Plunging Bernie Kessel and fleet-footed Fred Silvis were honored with berths on the mythical all-city grid squad. Louis Yzermans was elected captain for 1940.
A coach's dream came true in the 1939 Harding game. The diagram shows the "perfect play," in which the entire Harding team was either blocked or out of the play. Art Guertin carried the ball for sixty-five yards to a touchdown.

Playing a colorful, smooth, and entertaining game of basketball, the 1939-'40 Indian cagers, led by the extraordinary shooting and floor play of All-City forward Rollie Seltz, gave their followers a thrilling and interesting season, finishing in sixth place in the new ten-team conference.

The efficient and effective leadership of Coach Roy Isacksen was largely responsible for the team's success, and the ball-handling and teamwork of Seltz, Hauck, Booher, Kessel, and Steele racked up the points that won games. On a pre-season road trip the team won at White Bear and Granite Falls, and lost by only three points to the strong Willmar quintet.

The "B" team, unusually successful, lost but one game, and that by a one point margin to the more experienced Central team.

Icemen

With a few veterans of the 1938-'39 conference race returning, Coach McGrath led a team largely composed of first-year men and inexperienced newcomers through a fast, thrill-packed season, finishing in sixth place. Playing their home games at Baker rink, the team was loyally supported and encouraged by the student body.

Individual stars on the squad gave promise of a winning combination, but the necessary teamwork was lacking. The smooth passing and stick-handling of Paul and Art Guertin, Bob and Paul Schaefer, Jenny, Deusterman, Chadegg, and others, provided the scoring punch, while the goal was efficiently guarded by Tom Mooney and Don Fehrmann.

Splash Happy

Captained by Robert Mason, and coached by Mr. John Ryan, the 1939-40 swimming team, with no credit and little recognition from the student body, persistently trained for and energetically competed in meets at the Central Y. M. C. A. pool. Although the season was unsuccessful in point of meets won, it showed the sportsmanship of these unsung heroes in fighting for their school with little or no acknowledgment of their efforts.

Exact timing, a perfect sense of balance, smooth muscle coordination, and perseverance, all collaborate to produce a body capable of such intricate maneuvers as the front flip, the kip, the swinging double cut off, and many others, equally difficult. After hours of practice under the patient leadership of Mr. Clair McMann, the tumblers perfected the difficult routine, exact in every detail. Praises come from many sources as a result of their commendable work.

A typical month for the tumblers was May with performances at Hamline University, the Y. W. C. A., and the Baker playground.

Strikes to Spare

Careful not to overstep the foul line, and aiming straight for the king pin, girl bowlers can be found once a week at the St. Matthews bowling alleys. Trying their skill and luck with a thirteen pound ball keeps the girls in trim. Although they do not score a perfect three hundred, they enjoy the social as well as the competitive and athletic phases of their club. Miss Kees is adviser; Dorothea Van Zinderen is president.

Racquet Smashers

The Humboldt tennis team began the 1940 season in surprisingly successful fashion. Composed of Leonard Schmahl, Arthur Paape, Richard Ruh, William Wrede, and Henry Mattaini, the team had by the first of May won thirteen consecutive matches, six of them over South St. Paul. Wrede and Ruh, Schmahl and Pappe, play the doubles matches.
Tomboys

The G. A. A. is the feminine counterpart of the more noted boys' athletic teams. Hikes, swimming, and other forms of exercise all merit points which count toward an "H" or an "All City" letter. It is on Friday afternoons that these girls invade the gym and are supervised in their activities by Mrs. Tierney. Irene Fisher is president.

Apple Slappers

A season full of close games, skillful pitching, and smooth fielding rewarded the patient training given the 1939 baseball team by Coach Roy Isacksen. The tight pitching of Roger Quehl, John Anderson, and Duane Smith kept opposing batters guessing, while alert infielders and ballhawks in the outfield cut down base hits. Complete co-operation at all times accounted for the team's success, and they look forward to a winning season in 1940, playing their home games at the remodelled and greatly improved Baker field.

Cinder Fellas

With such dependable cindermen as Dick Cordes, Fred Silvis, Gordon Smith, and Dale Morrill returning from the 1938 squad, together with several promising newcomers, Coach Clair McMann and the '39 track team entered a closely contested battle for the conference championship with bright prospects.

They were victorious in two out of three meets, and in the finals for the city meet they qualified ten men. An unfortunate misunderstanding of the time prevented Humboldt from competing in the annual contest, but the judges allowed Silvis, Cordes, and Smith to enter the state meet despite their absence.
