Dere Swede:

I just had to write to tell you about myself, (you know I always was good at that). Well, the honorable me is a freshman at Humboldt High School now. Just think of it—if you can—when my ma told that old maid across the alley from us, she threw up her hands and said:

“Well, I'd never a thunk it. Here was me taking her for a little girl right along!”

I entered las' week 'n I've than I did in all the rest of my

There aint had nuf now. She wares glasses wot give a piercing look to her eyes. Don't 'member what color they are but I don't believe there changeable. Well, it wasn't as pleasant as ya mite think of it at first. When I stood in front of her and gazed up to see just how she took it—about my being late, you know. I think this four feet of me shrunked 'bout one had thing fer me—it speeded up How. You see one day I I got to the top and when bell had rung so I had to Miss How's the office lady she's a stringer. About 9 tho', thank heavens for broad as she is tall—well, room for us kids, that's all.

Well, she was just as calm as the waters on a lily-pond on a cool summers day. She gimme my excuse an' a lot of advice besides, which I seen to it that I didn't take much an' then told me to run along to my class.

Rite here an' now I tell you I aint ever going to take her advice. I always did have the takeums ever since I was too old to have the measles, etc. Well, I did jist as she sed—an' run. An' run rite into a teacher. O Swede! I just wish you could lay your lamps on her once. Your vision will never be clear again if you do. Ever since I did I seem to be living in the days of long ago. Not that she ain't a pleasing spectacle—she is. Remember when we used to be wiked kids an' should get spanked for it—an' we'd dream about running away and coming to a nice white house with a green shutter on it, an' with a nice disappointed-in-love-lady inside, who would adopt us rite off? Well, here's our lady. Don't believe she was disappointed an' all that, but she'll do nicely. Say, when she caught me running she sez to me:

"Girlie—here, here goodness me! We don't run like that at Humboldt. We walk around like dignified ladies."

An' say once she got started, she never wound out. She sed this is an institution fer lernin' an' I shud leve my foot-ball tactics on the field an' conduct myself like a lady. Say, she made me feel littler than ever. There ain't much left to us birds after all these techers bawl us out. Guess they think it's fun to scare the wits 'n a years' growth out of us, but I also guess we'll haf to stand for it 'cause they're our sooperiors an' are deserving of our respect. No—Swede, them ain't my own words. Its alrite fer me to use 'em tho cause I'm up here to acquire things, and thems some of the things I acquired alrey.

I'm writing this in the study hall so if ya find a lot of mistakes you'll know its because I was keeping one eye on Mr. Billing. The word that describes him is "mouselike." He is famous for his attacks from the rear. O! I here him approaching now, so I'll have to cut this chatter and be ready for the fray.

I'm awful sorry I can't tell you about the humane beings up here but time is short & valuable.

Hoping to here for a favorable reply—Mrs. Ryan tot me that.

I remain,
Very truly yours,
A HUMBOLDT INMATE

February 22, 1923

I paused in the erection of my aerial and wrathfully surveyed the large elm tree whose towering branches occupied precisely that part of the ether through which I had decided my wire was to run. "That tree is coming down," I firmly declared and determinedly set out after the axe.

I worked hard, the chips flew fast, and before long the great tree came down with a crash. I wiped my brow and with a sigh of relief rested upon my axe, viewing my accomplishment with the utmost satisfaction. A closing of the back door gave evidence of the approach of my father. He started dazedly at the scene of destruction for a moment, and then regaining his power of speech, flew into a violent rage.

"What the—Who the—How the—," he sputtered inarticulately.

A ready tale of complete ignorance of the crime was on the tip of my tongue, but realizing the futility of such a course, and recalling the happy ending of a similar case in the early history of our country, I changed my mind and cried, "Father, I cannot tell a lie. That tree interfered with my aerial and I chopped it down with this axe."

My father's anger was now terrible to behold. I trembled with terror when I saw him pick up the axe and start wrathfully toward me. I shut my eyes. Already I beheld shrieking headlines in the next morning's paper:

A second slam of the door arrested my premonitory meditations. On opening my eyes I discovered that my father had passed me and gone into the house. A few seconds later a rending and crashing noise told me of the destruction of my radio set. Before I had had time to brood ruefully over this sad turn of affairs, my father once more appeared in the yard. He grasped my ear firmly and led me in the direction of the woodshed.

"Father," I cried desperately, "are you not making a mistake. George Wa—"

Here my stern parent interrupted: "By George, you will W-A-H."

Writing An Essay

Did you ever start to write an essay about fifteen minutes before it was due? Well, then you have my sympathy.

Miss Whaley assigns the essay about three days ahead of time so as to give you plenty of time to write a masterpiece. The first two nights the essay worries you about as much as the price of butter in Bulgaria; but the third night you really begin your essay as a serious matter. After supper you get out pencil and paper and start to write; but just at this critical moment Jack calls up and reminds you that Ruth St. Dennis is at the Metropolitan. Consequently, you decide that you will have plenty of time to write your essay when you get home from the show; but when you get home you are too tired to write an essay. However, you still have the third period left the next day.

The scene shifts to “Billing's Rest Room” on the following day. You take your seat as usual; but you are surprised to see that the new girl that is creating such a sensation at school is sitting back of you. Of course, you must let her know who you are. Just to start a conversation, you ask her for some theme paper (your theme-book is full). You soon become acquainted with her, and, as a matter of fact, she gets more attention than your essay. When the period is almost over, you start to write your essay. You have an abundance of good ideas, but you have not time to put them into good English. You finish your essay on time but oh—the mistakes! Maybe you will get a red mark on your essay, but you have become acquainted with the new girl just the same.

Commencement Day

How little did I think to see this day!
Oh, happy were the hours now past and gone—
The days of joy, attaining what I've won!
Through weary months of waiting as I lay
Ill, sad and well nigh hopeless, still a ray
Of sunshine cheered, and then new hope would run;
As in the spring sap awakens to the sun,
Again would sweet ambition come to stay.
At last has come this day of days to me
So eagerly awaited nine long years.
May I from its ideals never stray.
Oh! day of thrills, why dawn thus silently?
Do you not understand my happy tears?
Sing, birds, and usher in Commencement Day.

Beowulf, 1923 Model

James Lackey, the captain of them all, did spake:

"Hosking, be thou speedy, and bid these puny warriors from Mechanics, who are assembled without, come in to see me. Say, moreover, that they are welcome guests to our school. Ay!—our school, the greatest and most renowned learning house on this planet." (Then to the hall door went the mighty Hosking.)

These words he announced:

"My Lord, the Prince of Humboldt, bids me tell you he knows your nobleness. He glories to know that you have boldly crossed the surging Mississippi solely to see him. I say, come hither unto our war hall, most welcome guests, there to attire yourselves in blue and white war-gear."

Behold! Here comes the all-powerful eleven. A brave and famed band of fighters are they. Then great joy was acclaimed by the lusty voiced on-lookers, lead by a fantastically adorned cheer leader, Brant Dunham. Lo, here does issue forth from the opposite end, a host of puny cake-eaters.

Now, Hosking did spy the hateful enemy employing foul methods. He launched out upon the great field of battle and lone-handed thrust his brawny, sinewy hands about the neck of full many a man and flung them headlong into the more.

Now there was one puny opponent who had thrice attempted to hasten hither unto the goal. Just as he was about to tread on ground, tread upon never by hostile feet, Karnstedt rushed with deer-like speed to the hoof of the tawny-naired, frenzied spoiler and on the ground, laid him grovelling much as the wolf drags down his prey.

Now it was well nigh unto the seventh hour and the shade of death was stealing upon the gore-bestained field. The score was even when the sturdy Pickell dashed across the goal-line, thus bringing victory to the worthy players of Humboldt.

Physical Training

How many of you readers apprehend the real value of a physical training? Have you ever considered the great and lasting effect this training has on our young men?

What a thrill it is to watch a game! There on the field are the teams, with the one idea in their minds—to win. But, can one team win all the time? Often failure is success, but to overcome failure is a test that is fundamental in the training. Thus a physical training, in teaching the members of the team to play fair, sets their standards for the game of life.

Humboldt always has a man's team, a team that sends forth young men physically and morally fit to take their places in the game of life. Humboldt has its team of athletes, but what Humboldt requires is physical training for all its boys so that each and every one will be fitted with a strong body and an alert mind. For today, the very essence of man's chance is—Is he morally and physically fit?

Therefore, Humboldt should have physical training for all its boys so that when an opportunity presents itself, they will not fall below grade because they lack the surety, confidence and co-operative trust afforded by a physical training.

The Humboldt Student

It is interesting to notice the four different stages through which the average Humboldt student passes.

As a freshman, he is a shy, bashful lad about fourteen years of age. He buys a ticket for every athletic contest because he is afraid to refuse the ticket sellers. He listens attentively to all of Miss Peyton's lectures on dancing. For recreation he plays tag in the gymnasium.

As a sophomore, he wears long pants for the first time and even talks to the girls occasionally. He shows good sense by taking Geometry from Miss Ek. For recreation, he initiates the incoming freshmen and shoots spitballs at the seniors.

As a junior, he pays more attention to the girls than he does to his books. He wears a smart tweed suit with leather buttons, slicks his hair back with "Sta-comb", and oh! how he can dance! Give Caesar the Roman Empire, but give the Junior a ballroom floor.
As a senior, he walks around with a stack of books under his arm and tries to look intelligent. "I know it all"—this is his motto; but he will soon discover that even a Congressman knows more than he does.

Paul Johnson

The Path of Success

Success is like a bright and shining goal at the end of a steep and rugged path. We cannot reach the goal without climbing, and we cannot climb without falling. Hence, if we would succeed, we must rise when we fall; for a successful person is one who has risen once more than he has fallen.

We, the untried youth of America, are about to start on our journey to success. Are we well educated? Have we specialized in the branch of work for which we are best fitted? Are we thoroughly efficient in the profession which we have chosen? Are we physically fit? Are we morally strong? If not, we had better tarry a while longer, for he who travels the path of success must be prepared.

Health, character, and education form the frame-work for our hall of fame. But a frame-work of preparation alone, will not shelter our ambitions from the storms of adversity which we shall encounter in striving for success. In order to succeed, we must be confident of victory. Let us set our eyes on our goal and have faith in our ability to reach it. Let us see ourselves actually filling the position we intend to fill. Let us disregard any thought of failure. If we think success, dream success and anticipate success, we shall realize success.

In striving for success we shall come in contact with two forces, namely, opportunity and failure. If we are prepared, opportunity will aid us, if we are unprepared, failure will overcome us. Opportunities are as numerous as the stars in the heavens, but we cannot grasp them unless we are prepared. What is to prevent us from inventing a machine which will lighten the work of a million laboring men? What is to prevent us from writing a book which will bring cheer to the hearts of the entire world? Opportunities are innumerable. God put them on earth in order that man might succeed.

Failures, like opportunities, must be contended with before we achieve success. If met in the right way, they are valuable experiences which will aid us in the struggle for success. Failure is only Fate's method of preventing the weak from succeeding. If we are knocked down, we must get up and resume the fight. Success comes after many years of painful defeat, tedious labor and concentrated effort. James Whitcomb Riley worked on one story twenty years before he could get a certain magazine to accept it. The world will always make way for the man who is determined to succeed despite failure.

To the young people of America, I dedicate my closing thoughts. We are living in the land and age of opportunity. Europe is contented with the learning of the past; America has yet to produce her greatest literature, her greatest art and her greatest men. This is our task. Towards us the eyes of the world are bent; to us our native land offers the helping hand of opportunity; to us success beckons at every turn. Success is ours for the striving. Today is the day of opportunity, today is the day for action. Forward, O youth of America, forward as opportunity offers.

Paul Johnson

Editor's Note: This is the speech with which Paul Johnson won honors in the district and state contests.

Thirteen
"Daddy Long Legs"

"Daddy Long-Legs" was presented to Humboldt audiences in three performances, a matinee on Thursday, March 1, Thursday evening and Friday evening, March 2.

"Daddy Long-Legs" is a charming play and it was made doubly so by the manner in which it was given. The characters actually seemed to live. Loretta Muehlbauer, as Judy, the heroine, was very appealing and someone remarked after the performance, "She sure can act."

Elroy Isaacson took the title role and he made the part of the man who was both "Daddy" and lover seem very real. Helen Sargent, as "Miss Pritchard," was a very sweet old lady who acted as a sort of go-between for "Daddy" and "Judy."

The part of "Jimmie MacBride", a wealthy college man, was taken by Roy Blume.

"Sallie MacBride" was one of those "nice" girls whom you would want for a friend and Margaret Manz played Sallie's part very well. Mary O'Minsky was "Julia Pendleton", a very engaging little flapper who thought rather too much of herself.

There were many other characters, all of them wonderfully well done and it would fill many pages to sing their praises.

Again we may take our hats off to Miss Graves. Her plays seem to have taken Coue's method—they are "getting better and better" every year.

The Turtle Dove

This is a very interesting and exquisite Chinese play. It is based on the legend in regard to the pattern of all authentic willow plates, and the action takes place before a giant willow plate seven feet high. The plate used in the play was one which Rex Kelly had very expertly reproduced. The costumes corresponded to the blue and white of the plate.

Frances Keller, as the girl on the plate, was very realistic as a Chinese girl and the lover, Rex Kelley, was very well portrayed. The comedy was furnished by the Mandarin, Paul Rom. Other parts were Ralph Hunsaker as the Chorus; Helen Sargent as the goddess of Fate; Esther Graves, Gongbearer and Albin Johnson, Property Man.

This play has been shown at various places outside of school. It shows that the efforts of Miss Graves have been appreciated not only by the students of Humboldt but also by the people of St. Paul, who are interested in real art.

"Two Crooks and a Lady"

The play "Two Crooks and a Lady" was presented in an assembly for the school and was again given the same evening for the parents and the alumni.

Helen Sargent took the part of the paralyzed old lady in quite a wonderful manner. She was not allowed to move even a little finger during the whole of the play which lasted about a half an hour.

Edith Bayard was the maid, an accomplice of a man who intendel to steal the famous "33" a diamond necklace in the possession of the old lady. The man was played by Ralph Hunsaker.

The whole play was very interesting but one especially effective part was that of the torture scene. It was just like the "mellerdrammer" in the movies.

Altogether it was a very enjoyable little play and we can look forward to many more delightful hours, if all Miss Graves' plays are as well done as this one. And they will be, we can always expect that.

Patience

"Patience", our operetta for this year, was given with great success on December 20 and 21. The operetta is a satire on aesthetic culture which was the fad in England about thirty years ago.

"Twenty lovesick maidens" are devoted followers of Bunthorne, a very aesthetic poet; they entirely ignore the Dragoon Guards, of whom they had formerly been quite fond. Bunthorne, who is really a sham, recognizes a dangerous rival in Grosvenor, an idyllic poet. It is most amusing to see the efforts of the Dragoons trying to become aesthetic in order to regain the transferred affections of the maidens. Bunthorne also does a little scheming by which he hopes to win the love of Patience who loves and is loved in return by Grosvenor. Bunthorne finally persuades Grosvenor to cut his hair and become a commonplace young man. When this is discovered by the maidens and Patience, they decide it is quite right to discard aestheticism. Patience accepts Grosvenor, the now disillusioned maidens return to the Dragoons who are delighted with their brides. Bunthorne is left with a solitary lily as his only consolation.

We have a ninth period here
It is loathsome, dismal and drear.
The students don't work
Some just sit, while some flirt
And at three-thirty they all disappear.

Us Young Uns

When I reads what's in the papers
'Bout the girls and boys today,
Seems to me folks is worried
Why at home we do not stay.

There is talk about our dressin'
'Bout the clothes we wear today,
'Bout the funny way we're dancin'
Such a shame the foggies say.

But I'm thinking, just a thinkin'
What a funny world would be
If it wasn't for us young 'uns
Full of laughter, pep, and glee.

When I looks into the album
How the world was yesterday,
There aint no use of worrin'
'Bout us young 'uns of today.

Selections from Great Grandmother's Diary

Charleston
April 2, 1775

It is now one by the clock, and I'm shivering with the cold as I sit here and write, but I must put something down to remember this wonderful night by. How foolish!—As if I could ever forget it!

Mistress Ardella Brick gave a ball in honor of her three cousins, Mistresses Beatrice Messenger, Evelyn Honza, and Carol Johnson, who came all the way from England! They were accompanied by their "ladies-in-waiting" who were Lillian Gardner, Esther Graves, and Phillis Gusttetter. Such silks they wore; and their powdered and curled head-dresses were fully a foot and half in height! Sir Roy Blume, a penniless, but handsome young lord, sang for us. (He has a wonderful voice.) He received applause from every one except a few Red Coats, two of whom were Elmer Ozman and Birney Novotny. (I suppose they were afraid that they would get their gloves dirty.)

Had a wonderful time; danced the minuet, reel, and round. Was introduced to Monsieur Louis Ashurd, who was also a guest of honor, and who took me home. He is French. (I'm so glad I know how to talk French.)

Charleston
April 10, 1775

Had a quilting bee at our house. Did not get much work done, because Gladys Hyland, Edith Bayard and Alice Sandean and Yanina Leszinski were teasing Herman Wolfgram. They wanted to know why he didn't join the "Rebel Army." How can he, when pretty Mistress Anne Silver is a staunch Royalist?

Mr. Sumner Sabean, the new school teacher, and his wife, formerly Louise Alcorn, have moved into town. The children say that he is a grouch.

Charleston
April 18, 1775

The most exciting thing has happened! A few of us girls and boys were over to Thelma Blage's house to see Hermangilda Glatzmaier and Rose Bartnof who were visiting her. We were seated around the fire, cracking nuts, and listening to Grandma Getty (the town gossip) relate the latest "scandals." All of a sudden—Ralph Hunsaker burst into the room. "The British" he cried. In a flash the boys were up, and getting ready, while we girls ran about fetching powder horns and muskets. No one spoke—(Grandma Getty was too stunned), although I heard Theodore Schmidt say a tender "Thank you" to Lillian Truhlar, as she handed him the musket with down-cast eyes. As the boys rushed out, we heard commotion caused by the minute men, and far down the road, we heard the faint hoof beats, as Paul Revere and Ralph Hunsaker sped on to Lexington.

The town is all awake. No sleep for me tonight.

Charleston
April 30, 1775

A meeting was held in the town hall to-night. Robert Peabody, the second Patrick Henry, made a stirring patriotic speech. At the end of it he called for volunteers. All the men in the room responded, from a little lad named James Bishop, to toothless Grandpa (Albin) Johnson. George Erickson, James Jerry, Abe Harris, Roy Kastner, and Louis Ashurd were among the first to list.

Forty-one

Charleston
June 16, 1775
The town is upset!
General Bachrack intends to take Bunker Hill. General Herbert Giefer and his men are going up to-night and surprise him. Louis was up to say “Goodbye.” Mistresses Grace Jack, Mabel Krch, and Beatrice Bryan were up here too. They teased me when he had left. What nonsense! Of course I don’t love him, but, I think him—er—nice.

Medford
June 20, 1775
Haven’t had time to write.
The night of the Bunker Hill Battle! Cornwallis and General Norman Born took Charleston. Over half of the houses were burned. Ours was one of them, so Cousin Loretta Muehlbauer and I were sent by stage coach, in the middle of the night, to Aunt Gilbert’s house in Medford. Oh, that awful night ride! We were afraid that any moment we would be stopped by a British guard, and taken prisoners.

Aunt Alice has turned her house into a hospital, although we still continue to live in it. General Giefer, John Holmes, Morris Chase, and William Walker are the wounded soldiers brought from Bunker Hill. We even have four wounded Red Coats here. Their names are: Chester Shultz, George Ablan, David Sullwood, and Brandt Dunham. I always thought red coats were awful; but these aren’t. so bad—in fact, they’re rather nice.

Louis is reported—“Missing.”

Medford
December 4, 1776
Rolled bandages, and bathed wounds all day. The house is full of wounded, and only three trained nurses to do the work. They are: Marguerite Anderson, Esther Signs, and Florence Olson. Of course, Bernice Blomquist, Anna Shakerter, and Mary Wood live near by, so they come over to help. Dr. Jack Hodgson, the famous surgeon is working day and night fighting with death.

Mistress Margaret Manz has organized a band of girls to do work in a base hospital. Among the many girls who responded to her call are: Mary Moriarity, Juanita Mielke, Helen Roddy, and Lillian Schoener. Of course their parents raised a rumpus, for such an organization was hardly ever heard of before; but finally they consented—and the girls are doing wonderful work under the supervision of Margaret Manz and Dr. Jacob Simos.

Still no word from Louis. It can’t be that he is ————!

Medford
February 14, 1777
Benjamin Franklin, Louis Hosking, and Marshall Blomquist were sent to France for aid. Gertrude Lechtman and Florence Swanson, who live in France, sent me a letter telling how grandly the three were received in Paris.
Medford
May 10, 1777

The British, under command of Gen. William Dannovsky and Loyal Johnson, are invading South Carolina. Even now they are within a few miles of us! All the men that were left in town, even boys, old men, and some wounded, have joined Elroy Isaacson's Brigade, otherwise known as "Elroy's Men." Some of the well known leaders are, James Jordan, Lawrence Freudenberg, Marlin Hansen, and Joseph McDonald. They are on their way now, to surprise the English at Boston.

The American Camp, in command of Paul E. Johnson, is situated within ten miles of here. The soldiers are in rags, and their ammunition is nearly gone. Margaret Keitel, Edith Larson, and I were to the camp this afternoon. We brought them some clothing, food, etc. Captain Johnson confided to us that if the British advanced, the Fort would have to go; because their stock of ammunition is so low. To be sure, they had sent a man, Ensign Edgell, down the river to a little town, Rockwell, to see if he could get a message to Gen. Erick Quam in Roxbury, but his chances are small.

Arnes Kellegren and Marguerite Lambrecht are sitting in my room now. We have the wounded all ready to move, in case the British advance. There is a fire in the fire-place—but my teeth continue to chatter. I wish Marguerite would stop looking out of the window.

Medford
May 14, 1777

Our house was captured by the British last night. What a time we had in smuggling the wounded to this deserted house in the woods. The British did not tear down the house as is their custom, but they are using it as their quarters, and it is rumored that they have a few American soldiers as prisoners there.

There is a terrible noise down stairs, I must run down and see what the trouble is.

Later—Leona Mayerhoff gave Walter Schwandt the wrong medicine; but it couldn't have been very strong, because he isn't dead. Sarah Goldberg, Jennie Cohler, Katherine Goodman, and Ethel Gotlieb are molding candles, so must send Gladys Kellerman, Maria Korfage, and Glenna McManus to relieve them.

Medford
June 1, 1777

Stanley Ballard, Henry Krch, and Louis!—are being held as prisoners in Aunt Gilbert's house. General Louis Nicklason and other British officers are making merry, so Helen Sargent, Sarah Kuhn, and I are going to see if we can sneak into the house and set them free while Louise Pallas and Gertrude Signs are going to Elroy Isaacson and his men for aid. Oh! I'm so excited. I wonder how Louis will look. What if we are caught!

Later: It worked. They're on their way to Concord.

Medford
June 5, 1778

France sent aid.

Gen. Lafayette, Major John Godbout, and some of their followers who are:
Leslie Randall, Sam Sabean, and Isadore Peretz drove the English from Medford, and Charleston. Such rejoicing!

Charleston
December 30, 1783

War is over at last.

There has been much sorrow, but there is only joy now. All the residents of Charleston are back again—that is, nearly all—except the Brave who died for our country.

Families are reunited, while wedding bells peal merrily. Chester Shultz sailed home to England with Mistress Ethel Thomas as his wife. "Second Patrick Henry" is running for Congress with the aid of his wife, formerly Carol Johnson. Louis Hosking came home last month with the prettiest French bride, but Marshall Blomquist is not coming back with his bride, because he prefers the French court to Concord.

Ardella Brick and Dr. Hodgson were married to-day. I was "Maid of Honor" while Louis was "Best Man", although we too, in a few days, will be "bride and groom."

GENTLE HINT

He: "I trust I am not tiring you with my presence?"
She, (sweetly): "What presents?"

HAPPY DAYS

Jim Jerry: "Yes, Pershing and Wilson are great men, but I think Lincoln and Washington are the most interesting and lovable characters in history."

Herbert G.: "Why?"

Jim: "Because they were both born on holidays."

"In one way the auto is far ahead of the airplane."

"How's that?"

"Well, if anything goes wrong with the auto, you can always get out and push."

Marshall: "Do you like the modern dances, Miss Peyton?"
Miss Peyton: "No, I consider them only hugging to music."

Marshall: "And you dislike — — — —"
Miss Peyton: "I never did have any ear for music."

The musical appreciation class being told to illustrate various songs by common things, submitted the following:

1st. student—apple—Apple, Blossom Time.
2nd. student—clay pipe—I’m Forever Blowing Bubbles.
3rd. student—flowers—For me and my gal.

The Funny Side of Life

Isn't life funny? If you don't believe it, read this. If you do, don't bother. For instance, one day at Humboldt:

In the study hall I noticed that Esther Signs has had a "son" stroke and has been compelled to wear glasses as a result. Having nothing to study, (so I thought then), I went back to Mr. Billing to get my Booster ticket for the Central-Humboldt game. He had been stewing about the size of the gym and when I asked for the ticket he boiled over. "The saints preserve us! We're in an awful pickle. If anymore want tickets, there will be an awful jam."

In expression, Miss Graves said to Burtis Mears, "Do you know Poe's Raven?"

Startled, Burtis asked, "No, what's the matter with him?"

Miss Ek asked Elwin Romnes to give a practical example of the axiom: Things equal to the same thing are equal to each other. Romnes thought a while, then said, "A poor lesson is better than nothing. Nothing is better than a good lesson. Therefore a poor lesson is better than a good lesson." His reasoning was so excellent that she gave him a ten, and the class passed out.

In study hall, that Freshman, Stephen Kane, was just recovering from a test. When I asked him if he got all the questions, he said he hadn't had much trouble with the questions, but he hadn't gotten the answers. Resolved: some of these Frosh aren't as dumb as they look.

When I finally reached the lunchroom I heard Miss Hoffman say, "This steak is like leather and the knife is dull." Mr. Wauchope quickly suggested, "Why not strop the knife on the steak?"

Miss Donahue asked Coach Wachter why it was that baseball players took up two bats just before their bats when they only needed one. "Well," he said, "The weight of the two combined makes one seem so much lighter." While speaking he took two biscuits from his tray and put one back.

One of the school police boys in trying to quiet the boys in the gym said, "You know the loud talker is generally an ignorant person." A brainy Junior replied, "Well, you needn't yell so, I'm not deaf."

Down near the hall door (you know the place) I heard a girl, I think it was Della somebody or other, say, "I'll marry you on one condition." And he answered, "That's all right. I entered high school on four."

Having enough of that, I went to English. Miss Whaley to Beatrice Messenger, "How much time did you spend on this essay?" Beady replied, "One hour—railroad time." "What do you mean by railroad time?" "One hour counting stops and delays."

In Biology, Mr. Ramstad in the course of the lesson said, "Now class, name some of the lower animals, starting with James Bishop."

I spent eight periods waiting in the Latin room for the game. In the middle of my nap I heard Robert Boyle say, "The principal parts of the word flunk are flunk, flunkere, faculty, flunkus." Just as I was about to agree with him the bell rang and I elbowed my way into the gym.

There Central—well—this is a good place to stop telling that life at Humboldt is funny.

Synopsis

From one standpoint athletics enjoyed a more successful season than for a few years past. This is due to the good support of the Booster Club. By a system of reduced prices, devised by this club, more students were able to attend the games. Much praise is due Mr. Billing and Roy Kastner for their efficient work.

Football was somewhat disastrous. The team failed to win a game, but ended the season by tying Hudson in a thrilling contest.

The basketball team showed flashes of form and were in the running for the championship.

Hockey was the most successful of all. The team managed to beat M. A. H. S., which was the Twin-City title holder. In all, Humboldt won five, tied one, and lost three games.

Baseball prospects are bright. With eight letter men to work with, Coach Wachter should have a formidable nine.

Football
M. A. H. S.

Again Humboldt was out-weighed, but not out-fought. The opening plays of the game found the Black and Gold forwards charging through the Trainer-line and throwing their backs for losses. The tide changed as the larger Mechanic men wore down our team.

Ballard and Hosking were the Humboldt stars, while Kline, Rosen, and Wagner were best for the Blue and White.

JOHNSON

For the first time in our history Johnson defeated Humboldt. The game was hard-fought from the beginning to the end.

In the second quarter, Romnes made a beautiful drop-kick from the twenty-yard line. This was Humboldt’s first and last twenty-yard line score of the season. Hosking, who was shifted to half-back through Krch’s illness, was again the star of the game; while his team-mates Lackey, Pickell, and Ballard also played well. Kaufman, Marsh, Smith, and Wilson were Johnson’s heroes.

CENTRAL

Although beaten badly by Coach Buser’s Central Team, Humboldt put up a plucky fight in their first game. Outweighed by a big margin, but not out-fought, is the tale of the game waged on a muddy field.

The great showing made by Louis Hosking was the surprise of the game. He figured in every play and was Humboldt’s star on the defense. Ballard also starred in this capacity, while Krch and Grassenger were the main offensive cogs. Reardon, Falk, Jansen, and Golzbach were Central’s luminaries.

In the last game of the season Coach Wachter’s Orange and Black showed great improvement, and held the Hudson team to a scoreless tie. Lackey, Karnstedt, Bishop, and Ballard starred.

After the game, James Lackey was chosen to captain the ’23 team.

Hockey, at Humboldt, is gradually rising out of the depths of athletic gloom. This year our boys made a gallant stand in the boys’ high school race and before another season passes they should be sitting on top of the local puck world.

With the aid of the Riverview Rink, thanks to Mr. McGowan, the team developed into a serious contender for the city title. Not only was the team better this year, but attendance at the games also improved wonderfully. This is the big reason that the Black and Gold “Shinny Artists” fought to the very limit. Twice it was necessary to play twenty minutes extra before a decision against them could be made.

Fifty-five

In the first regular encounter of the season Humboldt covered itself with glory by defeating Mechanic Arts 2-0. It was the only high school, excepting Eveleth, that beat the Blue and White boys who were runners up for the state championship.

The loss of William Parker through ineligibility was a great setback to the team, but Elmer “Lefty” Geiger filled his place in great style.

Captain Elwin “Doc” Romnes was the bright light of the hockey firmament. Aside from scoring more goals than any other player in the high school league, he proved to be the best stick handler and back checker in the circuit. Henry Wagner, right wing, was next to Romnes in brilliancy. He had everything necessary to make a good wing mate for the versatile “Doc.”

The defense was ably taken care of by Elmer Carlson and Ernest Kruel. The only spares we had this year were Leslie Randall and Dave Adams. These two filled positions in a fine manner.

All the boys except L. Randall and Novotny, who was goal guard on the sextet this season, will be back next year. With the same loyal support of the student body and their own determined efforts, the team should “bring home the bacon.”

M. A. H. S. vs. HUMBOLDT

The Black and Gold opened the season by surprising their most optimistic followers in defeating Mechanic Arts 22-10. Humboldt out-played the Trainer team in every department, and began to draw away from her opponents; and had the game well in hand at the last whistle. Although the game was the first of the season, the Humboldt team passed and shot accurately, a rare feature in early season games. Strauss and Levy played well for Humboldt.

CENTRAL vs. HUMBOLDT

Humboldt showed a complete reversal of form from that shown in the first game in losing to Central 26-4. Humboldt could not get their team-play started. They passed and shot below their usual standard, losing many chances to score. Central, playing a fast game, soon had the contest well in hand. Orenstein, Krch, Pickell played best for Humboldt, while Sommers was the Central star.

JOHNSON vs. HUMBOLDT

In a close and hard-fought game, Johnson nosed out Humboldt by the narrow margin of four points. Humboldt held her own valiantly, carrying the fight to the Maroons. During the game, Humboldt collected nine field goals to Johnson’s seven; nevertheless, Johnson, through consistency from the foul line, kept in the lead. The final score was 20-24, in favor of Johnson’s champions.

CENTRAL vs. HUMBOLDT

A large crowd turned out to see Humboldt lose to Central on our homecoming day. By losing this game, the Orange and Black lost their last hope for the championship. Humboldt fought furiously to win, and held the Centralities to a 7-7 tie at the close of the first half. However, in the second half, Central scored goals with rapidity, and the final score found Central winning 23-8.

JOHNSON vs. HUMBOLDT

Humboldt closed a fair season by losing to Johnson 25-9. The team, as in preceding games, played a better game of basketball in the first half than in the second half. The first half ended 9-5, but Johnson, in the next period, piled up 16 points to 4 for Humboldt, winning the game 25-9. By defeating Humboldt, Johnson won the City Championship for the second consecutive time.

Football
Lackey, Ballard, Hosking
Louis Hosking, Humboldt's star tackle, was awarded that position by the Dispatch-Pioneer Press, on the All-City second team. Hosking was a hard fighter and was one of the bright spots on our team.
James Lackey and Stanley Ballard, tackle and end respectively were given honorable mention.

Basketball
Levy, Strauss, Erickson
Sam Levy, the midget basketball star, won a forward berth on the Daily News All-City team. He won his spurs through his uncanny eye for long field baskets, and his ability to keep cool. Levy was in the fight of every game and did much to put pep into the boys. He will be out for basketball next year, and undoubtedly will develop into a bigger star than this year.
Strauss, captain-elect for the '24 campaign, was placed at center on the Daily News second All-City team. Strauss' playing, especially in the Mechanic Arts game, was of high order.
George Erickson, captain of the '23 team, was given honorable mention by the Dispatch-Pioneer Press sport experts for his stellar work.

Hockey
Romnes, Novotny, Wagner
For the second time in two years, Elwyn Romnes, the Humboldt hockey flash, was chosen for the All-City team. This season, "Doc" was the most brilliant performer in the City High School puck chasing loop. He skated faster, shot harder and handled the puck more cleverly than he did last winter. If Romnes continues to improve, as he has, watch his smoke.
Novotny, the veteran goal guard of the hockey squad, was given that position on the All-City second team. His guarding throughout the year was noticed by Humboldt's opponents to their despair.
Henry Wagner, a newcomer on the hockey team, was given honorable mention.

The Rah Rah Club
The Rah Rah Club is a group of bullying boys organized for the sole purpose of tantalizing cake eaters. It is an organization of the Athletic boys of the school who believe in having their hair cut instead of bobbed. They do not believe in bell bottomed trousers and certainly try to make life miserable for the boy who wears them.
They pick on a poor, helpless, good-for-nothing cake eater and are sometimes so rough that they step all over his nice shiny patent leather oxfords and get them all dirty. They muss his hair so badly that he has to stand before a mirror for a quarter of an hour readjusting it and the risk of being late for his next class.
The purpose of this club is to promote the general welfare of the school's athletic teams so that when the call for football comes, a healthy boy who should be on the field will not be sitting in the grandstand because his dress won't allow him to put on real clothes and go on a mother earth diet once a week.
Yours for a spatless football team,
James Lackey

Humboldt Civic League

It isn’t everybody who can get into the Humboldt Civic League. Having money and being able to pay dues has absolutely nothing to do with it. You might be able to pay the dues of all down town clubs and still Humboldt Civic League would exclude you. Membership in that League is bestowed, not purchased, and is conferred only on those who have performed some constructive service for the good of the school.

As for being allowed to do special work for the league, such as getting out and digging to provide landscape gardens for the school, it is necessary to have a scholarship record with very few flaws. It is an exclusive club; its pass word is “service”; its purpose is to develop responsible citizens. The League is in its second year.

Interior activities include watchfulness and care of school property, neatness and courteous treatment of one another.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES

We, the students of the Humboldt High School, in order to form a more perfect union of those students who appreciate neat and clean surroundings, artistic and beautiful grounds, systematic and orderly habits among fellow associates, a courteous attitude of one toward another, and a desire to do one’s own share to accomplish that end, rather than to delegate that obligation to another, to establish—an atmosphere of refinement and culture at all times, such as one expects of educational institutions of this type, to insure—such domestic tranquility as will abolish as barbarous such out of date practices as those commonly known as “hazing”, to provide for—the common defense against the tendency to do less than one’s very best, to promote—the general welfare, to improve the standards of both conduct and scholarship as a basis of good citizenship, to make secure—the blessings of liberty and educational advantages, made possible by the sacrifice and foresight of our forefather, to those students who are to follow us here in later years, do ordain and establish this organization to be known as the “HUMBOLDT CIVIC LEAGUE.”

(decides upon all matters of policy and expenditure)

The formal garden at the front of the building was planted by the students and really exceeded expectations in beauty and growth. Iris, canna and foliage plants, petunias and hollyhocks in a succession of bloom was most gratifying.

Pupils built a new garden bed at the rear of the school about seventy feet long by two feet high with cobble stone trim, retaining wall curved in graceful lines. This is prepared for spring.
Acknowledgments

Have you ever seen a worthy enterprise at Humboldt that did not have Mr. Nash's support? He has contributed a whole hedge of white perennial phlox to our garden which is planted in the row at the side of the building and front yard. We say: "Thank you, very much," to Mr. Nash for this permanent improvement.

Excavations on the east side are made for a hedge of spiraea and four apple trees which are to be planted in the spring.

Louis Kadas, one of our former pupils, contributed about 250 choice plants for our school garden and we take this opportunity to thank him for his generosity and loyalty to his school. This spirit has always been characteristic of Louis. Humboldt Civic League is glad to thank him for his kindness.

The paper sale will be treated elsewhere in this annual but we cannot refrain from expressing our appreciation to Miss Doherty for her kindly interest in our work and success in conducting the paper sale which added so materially to our funds.

We also say thank you to Miss Regan for providing the dainty curtains in our lunch room.

Mr. Boyer has been most helpful and never fails to provide drawings and blue prints to further the good work. We thank him for his co-operation.

Mr. Spencer has contributed a number of apple trees to be used on the boulevard at the east side of the school.

Sun Dial and Bird Bath

Every garden plot of consequence must have a bird bath and sun dial placed somewhere in the lawn area. Jack Hodgson is busily engaged in preparing the preliminary scale drawings after which he will make the moulds and castings for them. The cement and washed and sifted sand are ready for the final work. Jack has considerable artistic ability and we are awaiting the formal unveiling of these works with much interest.

Bicycle Racks

To accommodate the large number of students who use bicycles in going to and from school, the Civic League requested materials with which to construct a suitable rack to which their wheels might be attached during school hours. The piping has already arrived and when the ground is sufficiently thawed the cement bases will be laid and the rack constructed.

Playground and Athletic Park

The preliminary work in making a choice of sites for a proposed Playground and Athletic Park was the special work of Ernest Hadlich, secretary of H. C. L. Much time was spent in research work and collecting data needed to form a working basis for presenting the problems to the proper city authorities.

Ernest Hadlich, Ralph Hunsaker, Marguerite Anderson, and Ardella Brick presented to Mr. H. C. Wenzel, Commissioner of Parks and Playgrounds, the formal request of the H. C. L. for the block to comprise the playground and received encouragement in that the proposition was acceptable. At present, funds are not available and may not be until the bond issue for that purpose is passed.

Ernest and Ralph then presented the blueprint plans and the formal request for the Athletic Field to Commissioner L. R. S. Ferguson of the Department of Education who agreed to give the matter his consideration. Commissioner H. C.
Wenzel later announced the members of an advisory board for his department and we were delighted to find that Carl Dreves of the Class of 1908, H. H. S., was one of the members. Ernest and Ralph met him by appointment at the Athletic Club and presented the plans to him and we are very grateful for the progress made in this matter through his efforts. The playground will probably be specifically designated in the bond issue when proposed so that when it passes the playground will be a certainty.

Ernest presented the matters of Playground and Athletic Field to the Woman's Civic League who have pledged their support to the project and presented the request that they convey their approval to the proper city departments.

Mr. W. J. Hadlich, President of the Riverview Commercial Club, made a fine plea for these projects before the Alumni at the Home Coming Banquet held at the School; he urged the support of the Riverview Commercial Club in furthering this cause to a successful conclusion. We are very grateful to Mr. Hadlich and appreciate the value of his help and interest.

Events leading up to the request by the Civic League to have the building redecorated and woodwork refinished, constituted active attention to neatness, refraining from marking the walls and other inexcusable bits of destructiveness which had from time to time been in evidence.

When sufficient co-operation has been indicated to warrant it, the League pledged its support in keeping the building in good shape and asked for the repairs above named. Mr. George Gerlach responded very generously with a promise to redecorate but was not quite sure that funds would be available for refinishing desks.

We are very grateful to Mr. Gerlach for his kindness and will do all that is possible to keep things in good order. Mr. Gerlach is also to be gratefully remembered for providing care for our garden during the summer.

Commissioner L. R. S. Ferguson has made this work possible by supplying the equipment necessary to accomplish this work. We express our appreciation to him at this time.

The Student's court with its probation officers, etc., was designed to care for cases involving any breach of civic rules. Where real trials are lacking they hold a moot court each term. These trials are conducted under the direction of the Law Student's League.

Ninth Period

It is ninth period. Ah! can you not picture the glee of the demons of torture as they watch the agony of the cursed souls as they work in that too familiar hall?

Look! Over there we see a person who seems to be in great torment. Now he beats upon his head with clenched fists, now he strokes his hair feverishly but never does he glance at the books at his side. Poor soul, he is suffering the tortures of General Mathematics.

But what is this? One of the boys has jerked a watch from his pocket. He shouts "Three-thirty." There is much scrambling. There are several cries not unlike the war cry of an Indian. Then—the silence of the tomb descends once more upon an empty hall.

Dramatic Club

This year the Dramatic Club is divided into Sub-Dramatic Clubs, each expression class being self governed. Each organization plans its own work. All of their meetings are strictly parliamentary.

This is most clearly understood by a description of a meeting of one of these classes. In this particular club they were studying pantomimes. The subject of the pantomimes was "eating."

The President opened the meeting and the minutes were read and accepted. The program committee announced the assignment for the next day. The critic made her report. The work of the critic is very interesting. Following is an example from Lois Ludden's note book. Lois is an expert critic.

"The pantomimes were all very good. Some showed a great deal of thought on the part of the student. Although there seemed to be a tendency among all to drop the silverware, talk down to the floor instead of up to the waiter, to forget to chew, and to pick up a glass of water in one's fist as if it were no bigger around than a quarter."

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Graves and was automatically adjourned when the bell rang.

Another class is studying the manipulation of the puppets and marionettes. They are going to make the puppets themselves and also write their own plays. Someday we shall see the result of this interesting study in an assembly.
The Public-Speaking class will of course develop some great orators and, by the way, speaking of orators Humboldt has a fine one.

Paul E. Johnson was sent to participate in an oratorical contest at the Gloria Dei English Lutheran church, under the auspices of Gustavus Adolphus college. We are proud to say that he won and he was sent to St. Peter to compete in the state contest, where he won second place.

The Dramatic Club in every way has been a success and we hope that the future holds as many interesting features as we have enjoyed in the past.

Humboldt Art Club

This organization, though small in numbers, is one of the better known organizations at Humboldt. It was organized in 1918 for the purpose of boosting the school in the advertising field. They make the cartoons and posters that give publicity to the athletic and dramatic events.

The work, as we all know, is of high grade, for only those who have excellent artistic ability are admitted to membership.

"It pays to advertise" is the motto of the Club but instead of boosting themselves they boost the school.

The officers are as follows:

Osmund Franz - - - - President
Elroy Isaacson - - - - Secretary
Miss Stuff - - - - Club Adviser

Other members are, Jack Hodgson, Sam Sabeau, John Hoye, Noland Franz, and Sylvia Arnowsky.
Orchestra

At the play, operetta, and assemblies the school enjoys the good music presented by our own orchestra. The orchestra was first organized eight years ago. Since then it has thrived exceedingly well under the able direction of Miss Donahue. If it grows as much in the next eight years as it has in the past we might expect to hear a Humboldt Symphony Orchestra. Although Clifford Bell is an alumnus, on special occasions he helps the orchestra with his Trombone. The whole school certainly appreciates the work of Miss Donahue and each individual member.

The members of the orchestra are as follows:

- Piano: Florence Olson.
- First Violins: Catherine Morgan, Lillian Hajek, Frederick Raddatz, Abe Jerry, Marshall Blomquist, Alfred Thom.
- Second Violins: Clifford Born, Irving Farsht, Sam Hershstein, Jake Dolinsky, John Connolly.
- Viola: Sydney Goffstein.
- Bass Viol: Chester Schultz.
- Cornet: Ben Kaplan.
- Trombone: Clifford Bell.
- Horn: Osmund Franz.
- Clarinet: Herman Lavin.
- Drums: Robert Corniea.

The Booster Club

Humboldt is indebted to Mr. Billing for the wonderful idea of a Booster Club. The club was organized at the beginning of the hockey season for the purpose of boosting athletics. The school realized the necessity of a larger attendance at the games both from the rooting and financial points of view.

The club, which has two-hundred and thirty-nine members, helped to increase the school's interest in hockey this season. It also helped in bringing out large crowds to the basketball games. Besides this it gave the regular athletic fans a chance to purchase tickets at reduced prices.

_Seventy_
Humboldt Radio Club

Here we have a "live wire" organization. It is truly an active organization dealing with the interesting subject of Radio. The club holds its meetings weekly on Wednesday evening in Room 23.

If by chance you should attend one of the meetings, you would find it very interesting and instructive. Each member is given a special topic to look up and report on at the next meeting. He consults magazines, the library and people who have knowledge about his topic. When the time comes he gives his topic before the club. Thus, instructive talks are given for the benefit of all present.

The club gave a Radio dance in February, the proceeds of which were used in purchasing additional Radio equipment.

The school has a very efficient and up-to-date transmitting and receiving set. The official call this year is 9TU. Louis Hosking is the licensed operator for the school. Mr. Powells is the faculty advisor of the club which now has fifteen members. The officers for this year are:

- Louis Hosking - President
- Edward Clark - Secretary
- Lawrence Freudenberg - Treasurer
- Mr. Powells - Club Advisor

H. A. F.

The H. A. F., a poster club of this school, was under the supervision of Mr. Boyer, whose time would not allow him to continue the leadership. Under him the organization turned out many good posters for the last two terms. The members of said organization wish to thank him for his leadership.

The organization is now under the supervision of Miss Stuff, art director. The members also wish to extend their thanks to her for taking over the organization so it can continue its work. The picture of the club could not be taken for "The Annual" owing to the club's uncertainty of leadership. The club is now on a good working basis and is now prepared to be Humboldt's poster artists.
The Hi-Y

The Hi-Y organization at Humboldt is not altogether a new organization. It did not become well organized until this year. The Hi-Y Club consists of Junior and Senior Boys. The purpose of the organization is to maintain and extend a high moral standard throughout the school.

The meetings are held regularly every Tuesday night at the St. Paul M. E. Church. Elroy Isaacson is the leader of the Humboldt Group.

Once a month all the Hi-Y Clubs of the city meet at the Y. M. C. A. Supper is served and after that a program is given.

The club at present numbers thirteen members.

S. O. S.

The S. O. S. club is composed of twenty-nine very wide awake senior shorthand students. Their officers are:

- Beatrice Messenger: President
- Mary O’Minsky: Secretary
- Hermangilda Glatzmaier: Treasurer

Meetings are held on the first Monday of every month and a short interesting program is given.

The S. O. S. presented a playlet “Diogenes Looks for a Secretary” in the Assembly Hall on the evening of February 8, for the present members and those alumni who took shorthand. The play was a great success and the performance was repeated for disabled soldiers at the Aberdeen Hospital.

Sociedades Latina

Have you had two terms of Latin? If so you are advised to go to Room 7 on the first and third Tuesday of each month. There you will find a peppy club presided over by President Paul Johnson. The other officers of the club are, Frances Keller, Vice President; Lorrain Fales, Secretary; Eunice Ryan, Treasurer.

At the club’s meetings contests are held, Latin poems are given and Latin songs are sung. Occasionally the club is treated, by the advanced Latin students, with a playlet.

Although the only way in which the school as a whole has heard of them has been by their posters on the bulletin board. At the time this goes to press the club has planned to give the school an assembly in the form of a movie.

It is hoped that the club will continue next year as the peppy Latin Club of Humboldt.

March 9—Miserable day. T-E-S-T-S Galore.
March 12—The fatal day. Report Cards. Many hearts made sad.
March 13—Everybody busy. Renewed efforts made to study, after some glimpses at the report cards.
March 14—Our dignified and celestial seniors began passing around their photographs. Many good transactions made.
March 16—The two-red-mark roll posted. Ninth period not received with any joyous shouts.
March 20—Great acrobatic stunt performed at recess. Ralph Hunsaker walked up and down the bannister.

Juniors

The Junior class circus was held April 12. Gaily colored posters announced the coming of the great attraction. The class hired Dingling Brothers circus for one day. Along the walls of the gymnasium there were fortune tellers, a Chamber of Horror, and many other booths. There was a niggerbaby's alley, a few clowns, a Live Stock exhibit and a fishpond. There were many side shows such as: Seven Wonders of the World and Snake Charmers. In among the audience were a few policemen acting for the Police Court. A main attraction was the Organ-grinder and his monkey. When the circus' delights were progressing smoothly with its operations, a cake was auctioned. The main attraction was Susie's Band. Through the greatest efforts of Miss Heineman the class was able to charter this band. This circus was an original idea worked up by the Junior class. All those

The following committees served for a Junior-Senior: Invitations: Frances Keller, Doris Hadlich; Music and Programs: Royce Pember, Cleopha Smith, Marion Whaley, Mae Rom; Decorations: Joseph Armstrong, Lorraine Fales, James Lackey, Margaret Blanford; Refreshments: Etta Messenger, Frances Hadlich.

_Refreshments_: Etta Messenger, Frances Hadlich.

_Freshman-Junior Party_

The freshman-junior skating party was held at the Riverview rink in January. The freshmen and juniors combined to make a large enough crowd to charter the rink. The freshman boys and girls showed great skill on the blades as they even beat the junior boys and girls at falling. On the whole the party was a great success.

_Junior-Senior Ball_

The J. S. was held with much pomp and splendor at the Masonic Temple, May 29, 1923, the day before Memorial day.

_Junior Informals_

The Junior Informals scheduled for March, at Mr. Wachope's request were postponed. The first informal was held April 5, 1923 and continued every Thursday thereafter until the Junior-Senior Ball.

_The Life of the School_

_Officers:_

President—Royce Pember—Career is only begun.
Vice-President—Raymond Schmidt—Just plain Ray.
Secretary—Frances Keller—A name that everyone knows.
Treasurer—Lorraine Fales—She never fails to collect dues.

_Hallowe'en Party_

The Junior class gave a Hallowe'en party in the gymnasium, October, 1922, and invited the seniors. The party started with dancing at 3:00 p.m. and ended with refreshments at 5:30 p.m. The tables were trimmed with black and orange crepe paper. Carved pumpkins stared at the dancers as they sailed over the floor, to the tune of the piano. The walls were decorated with cardboard witches and cats, the baskets and backboards were trimmed with Hallowe'en trimmings. The corners of the gym were hidden by large groups of cornstalks. The refreshments consisted of cider and crisp brown doughnuts. The party was a great success as even the freshmen could be heard next day discussing the wonderful decorations, and the possibility of having one as good as it.

The seniors were well convinced, as they strolled homeward, that the Juniors were really "the life of the school" after all.

_Senior Party_

The seniors gave a party in the gymnasium shortly after the junior's wonderful Hallowe'en party. Two tables were trimmed in orange, for the refreshments. The party opened with dancing and closed with the same. Frappe' was served between dances.

_Seventy-eight_
Freshmen

The freshmen arrived upon the scene last September; organized a peppy Freshman class with Miss Ek as class advisor.

They held their first class meeting October 19, and elected the following officers: Joe Rom as their efficient president. Thomas Finley was elected vice president. Nellie Petrovski won the place of secretary. Amanda Beggs was elected treasurer, and she has filled the place satisfactorily.

The second meeting was held in November. A party was planned for November 20.

Informal reception for the new freshman was given February 5.

Freshman-Junior skating party was held, at the Riverview Rink, February 8.

Freshman class meeting February 9.

Booster class meeting March 16.

A committee of thirty-one selected to secure new members.

Prize offered for most memberships:

The freshman who secures the greatest number of members receives his dues for the four years of high school.

The result of this announcement was very successful up to date.

Sophomores

President—Chester Oberg—He never forgets the dignity of his office.

Vice President—James Peiper—Small of stature, but big in achievements.

Secretary—Margaret Nebel—A neat, trim, business like little lady.

Treasurer—Marian Freeman—A gracious lady to whom business comes first; play, second.

Last but by no means least the pupils of the Class—they work hard—make fine records—add to the good in every enterprise in which they participate—keep social activities in the background—know real value of school work.

The class at one of its business meetings voted to have each member submit a design for a class pin so that there will be no hurry when they are seniors. They also voted to have a class song, written by and for the class. The sophomores have only parties of such nature that each pupil may participate.

The Christmas party was not held on account of other uses for the gymnasium at that time.

Miss Theresa B. Peyton, Sophomore Class Adviser.

Record in Typewriting

In the typewriting Department students are working for the awards given by the various typewriter companies for speed and accuracy in typewriting. Violet Provo has the highest record won, a silver pin given by the L. C. Smith Brothers for writing 50 words a minute.

Miss Hart: "Is it true that you leave your typewriter and go when the 12:15 bell rings, even if you are in the middle of a word?"

Louise A.: "Certainly not. When it gets that near to lunch time, I never begin at all."

TESTS

Now I lay me down to rest
For tomorrow I have a test
If I should die before I wake
Thank goodness I have no test to take.

Eighty-two
The teachers, Miss How and "Old Joe,"
Are making our intellects grow,
At least so they'll say, if you ask them some day.
But for me, I can't see it so.

Found on Mr. Powles' Desk
O! Chemist of skill, investigate
And answer this quiz of mine.
I think I know where Carbon-ate
But where did Io-dine.

Miss Whaley
With gracious ways and dark eyes true,
In every way she's smiling through,
   Her best efforts gives
   Each day that she lives,
That's Miss Whaley; I love her, don't you?

Mr. Billing
There is a teacher named Billing
His discipline certainly is killing,
He glides up and down
His nickname's "bloodhound"
To dismiss you he always is willing.

Miss Ek
There is a young teacher named Ek.
In Geometry she's very sleek;
She gives us long lessons,
We do them in sessions,
And to her Jim Lack is no sheik.

Miss Doherty
Miss Doherty has a little Ford,
It's good enough for any lord.
Into it she springs
When the noon bell rings,
And it starts of its own accord.
Mr. Powels
Mr. Powels our Chemistry man
Is also a radio fan.
He made his own set
And sold it at net
Now equal this man if you can.

Miss Fanning
There was a popular teacher named Miss Fanning
While way down in Texas was planning
To get rid of the pests
By five minute tests
And thus do away with June canning.

Lunch Hour
With Apologies to Longfellow
Between the fifth and sixth periods
When the day is beginning to lower
Comes a pause in our day's occupation,
That is known as the Luncheon Hour.

There's a sudden rush from the stairway
A sudden raid through the halls
As if by care ungarded,
We sometimes run into the walls.

I hear in the halls above me
The patter of heavy feet,
The sound of lockers that are opened
And voices loud, but sweet.

As I watch, I see in the hallway,
Descending the broad hall stair,
Gay laughing boys and giggling girls
Devoid of any care.

Don't think, Oh gay Lunch Hour,
Because you delay so long,
That we grow weary of waiting
For the welcome sound of the gong.

We all shall love you forever,
Yes, forever and a day,
Till our lunch boxes crumble to ruin,
And moulder in dust away.

Anna Silver
H. H. S.

The Seniors, proud and very haughty,
Stand up so firm and strong,
They're never, never, never, naughty.
They've been here, Oh, so long.

The Juniors have their little airs,
Their whims and mischievous moods.
But torture for the poor one's hair
Who dares to call them boobs!

The Sophomores are a jolly lot,
They sing and laugh all day.
So very brilliant they are not
They're far too fond of play.

The Freshies are the dearest things.
Their faces glow with pride,
To think that here, a while at least,
Their good fortune is to 'bide...

So now the classes do you see,
The little and the great.
Alumni all some day they'll be,
Unless they hinder Fate.

Theo. Smith: "I don't think I deserved a zero on that paper."
Miss Doherty: "You didn't, but I couldn't give you less."

Gladys K.: "Somehow, I can't get this through my head."
Miss Peyton: "Well, you'd better get it in first."

George drops a dime and Herman steps on it.
Herman: "Now what do I represent?"
George: "Woolworth."
Herman: "Why?"
George: "Nothing above ten cents."

Miss Chapin: "Sam what do you do when you come across a poem you don't like?"
Sam: "I don't read it."
Mr. Powells: “Grace, what is AS2?”
Grace Jack: “I-I have it right on the end of my tongue.”
Mr. Powells: “Spit it out, it’s arsenic.”

Teacher: “Who can name one important thing we have now that we didn’t have one hundred years ago?”
Any Senior: “Me.”

Elmer Carlson: “Teachers are worse than the immigration authorities at Ellis.”
Jim Lackey: “How come, Swede?”
Swede: “They have swiped the slogan, ‘They shall not pass.’”

I
There’s a certain clique at Humboldt
And when in the halls there’s a tumult,
They say they are popular,
But no one knows what they are
This “popular” clique at Humboldt.

One is called “Della” who is dark and fair,
Another is Gladys, with golden hair,
Beady is another who seems never at ease—
But nothing compared to one called Louise
Who, when around the boys
She’s a regular tease.

II
Since I have “finished” the girls
The boys will come next.
They are quite fair,
And not like most of their sex.

There is Jack who is clever,
But uses his brains (?) never!
And Sam who is “keen”
And also quite lean.
He is quite smart,
But, has he a heart?
Then there is Sumner
Who makes a good judge,
But Walter is different,
Well—because he’s not such.

Now that I’ve “done up”
The whole bunch of them
Won’t they be mad, and say—“Ahem”?
The Popularity of Star Brand Butter is the best proof of its Superiority. More than two and a quarter million pounds were sold in the Twin Cities last year.

Ask your grocer.
BUTTER that is properly made does not turn strong in a few days! It is the presence of poor cream in the butter or the omission of pasteurization that causes it to turn so quickly.

Our precise methods of manufacture have practically eliminated this common complaint. Only one pound is returned to us out of each three thousand pounds we sell, and some of these are obviously the result of exposure to foreign flavors in the domestic refrigerator.

STAR BRAND BUTTER
is nearly 100 per cent satisfactory

Reproduction Plus

Buckbee Mears' concern, in producing a plate, is not merely to slap a piece of copper onto a wood block, rush it over to the shipping clerk and then get a special delivery invoice into the mails.

Their idea in an engraving is to make it so that it will truly reproduce your product just exactly the way it looks to you—and then to finish up by adding a bit of charm and beauty for good measure.

Yes, sir, you will get REPRODUCTION PLUS when you order printing plates from

The increasing demand for better mountings has prompted the establishment of an up-to-date Jewelry shop, specializing in mountings of every description, together with the modernizing of old jewelry.

An unusual variety of ring mountings in 18K White Gold and Platinum await your inspection. They are very reasonably priced, from $7.50 upwards. Your diamonds are reset in these mountings in your presence.

Have your old wedding ring modernized by covering with white gold or platinum, to match your new diamond mounting. Our process neither harms the wedding ring, nor changes the inscription on the inside. The cost is reasonable.

We also manufacture class pins and medals in our modern shop. Estimates and sketches gladly furnished.

Your inspection and inquiries invited.
