Ready for Winter Storms?

The 2023 -2024 school calendar has three traditional "no school" snow days built into the calendar, ensuring that students continue to experience old-fashioned snow days.

If there are more than 3 days called off for bad weather, we will move to remote learning days, wherein students will be expected to complete work asynchronously; no one will be expected to have online classes with their peers and teacher. Schools will provide more detail on that later, IF it's looking like we might need to use them. The benefit of using a combination of no-school days and remote learning days is that we can ensure that the latest "last day" of school for the year will be Friday, June 14. Hopefully, this will help all families in planning for summer break.

Please take a look at your PowerSchool parent portal is updated with all of your contact information. This will ensure you receive all of the communications from the district.

We also post no school announcements on New Center Maine, WGME, and WMTW.
