

COBIS Poetry Competition 2023/24

A Future to Be Proud Of

Key Stage 3 Runner-up

The Seeds of Tomorrow

Embrace the unknown, with courage and trust,
Hearts full of passion, and spirits robust.
Questions wander freely, answers remain untied,
Through life's moments, I will find my pride.

The intricacy of art, the erraticness of shadows,
A vast tapestry where life ebbs and flows.
Sprouting roots, hope as a guide,
This colossal garden of time, where heart and dreams collide.

The past is a shadow, the present, a chance,
To forge my better future, with every circumstance.
Through troubles and trials, I will find my way,
A future to be proud of, where my dreams hold sway.

In the tapestry of moments, weaving my fate,
My dreams as thread, and hope as the weight.
The patterns created, with every word and deed,
Shape the legacy I leave, as my needle leads.

In the garden of time, I sow my dreams,
A future to be proud of, or so it seems.
Each day is a seed, I plant mine with care,
And nurturing hope, but with the constant need to retouch here and there.

Every sprout that blooms, from every seed I plant,
I'm growing the garden of my future that's bound to enchant.
Encasing my actions, buds of my will,
Seeds which determine the destiny I'm set to fulfil.

In this garden, where hopes take flight,
A legacy blooms, a shared delight.
For not just 'me,' but 'we' in unity,
A cherished heirloom, for our community.

Niranjenna Linganathan (aged 13)
Marlborough College Malaysia