

1ST SIX WEEKS STANDOUT PERFORMERS

Miriam Liserio – Maintenance Department Secretary

Ms. Liserio has been an integral part of the district for 15 years as the secretary for the Maintenance Director. Her exceptional organizational skills and strong work ethic are evident in her everyday work. She has been doing an outstanding job, especially in these times of understaffing. Ms. Liserio has been handling all the workload for the five (5) Maintenance Supervisors, which includes entering daily purchase requisitions, distributing purchase orders, handling credit card purchases, and processing purchase orders and credit card purchases for payment. Her communication skills are exceptional, allowing her to maintain a good relationship with the director, supervisors, technicians, central office staff, vendors, and more. Her competence and knowledge have made her the MVP of the Maintenance Department.

Transportation Department-

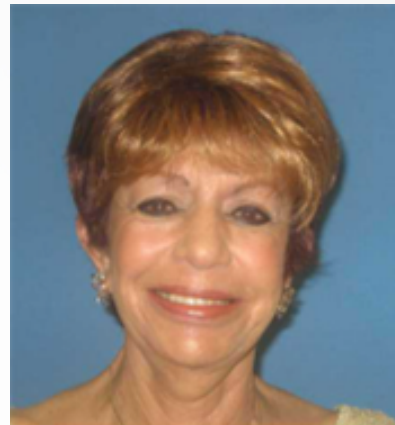

Adolfo Garcia, Isidoro Pacheco, Hector Cortez

When the going gets tough, the tough get going! Hats off to three outstanding heroes at the PSJA Transportation Department for going above and beyond the call of duty. Isidoro Pacheco, Hector Cortez, and Adolfo Garcia put their carpentry and roofing skills to work, building a nifty structure to house an ice maker. Thanks to their go-getter attitude, all PSJA employees can now enjoy some cool drinks. We tip our hats to these problem-solving geniuses who used their expertise to make their colleagues' lives easier.

Roman Morales -Property Management Department

Mr. Morales has exhibited his reliability by taking on additional responsibilities and performing them with utmost proficiency. He works efficiently with his colleagues to ensure that all tasks are completed accurately and on time. His eagerness to assist wherever needed demonstrates his unyielding commitment to his job. Mr. Morales' dedication and commitment make him an invaluable member of the property management team.

Mariana Romero- Property Management Department

With years of dedication and a heart full of helpfulness, she's always ready to tackle any task. She went above and beyond to make sure that everything was wrapped up perfectly before the school year ended. Thanks to her impressive know-how and wisdom, the department was able to breeze through the finish line.
