MaKayla Schell: In my free time, I help elderly people and children with no parent figure.

Madison Zimmer: I was the entire LHS Swim team my freshman year, and I lettered. I also do dance.

Lily Leksell: I'm actually good at some things, but you wouldn't know because I'm not a jerk about it (like some people).

“I Leave My...” - Senior Wills

Compiled by Marissa Reither

Brett Beith: I leave my basketball jersey to Anthony Grim.

Isaac Bennefield: I leave nothing to anybody.

Kelsey Benton: I leave my flag to any underclassman on the line.

Madyson Booher: I leave my jersey that I have had since sophomore year to my sister, Reagan Booher.

Cassidy Bowlin: I am leaving my teachers and leaving behind my underclassman.

Jaina Bowmer: I leave my marching folder to Brandon Guthrie.

Reagan Burke: I leave my sarcastic comments for the coaches during basketball season to Amber Sefton.

Kanisha Byler: I leave behind advice for underclassmen.

Justine Claypoole: I leave behind nothing.

Alannah Courtney: I will let Paige and Justine split between all my pens, pencils, and highlighters, and they can fight over my book bag if they want to.

Abby Denzer: I am not going to leave anything behind. I am taking all of the knowledge and lessons I have learned with me.

Billy Devereaux: I leave my title of having the best vehicle in the school to Kyle Uber's BMW with guard rail marks on it.

Kiara Devinney: Senior year is the best year of high school, like everyone says. As I leave behind Michelle Harig, Bailey Popp, and Erika McClelland, I want them to keep the cheer team together next year. Everyone knows these girls to be my “3 musketeers,” and I can't wait to see what they accomplish.

Taryn Dulaney: I leave behind nothing.

Annie Garland: I leave high school awards like honor roll, high honor roll, perfect attendance and getting those sailor 200 tickets. I leave behind the teachers who helped me through school and always having them to talk to about anything and making me feel better and having the confidence in myself.

Lance Geiger: I leave nothing.

Taylor Gerlach: I leave nothing.

Shai Hargrove: I leave my knowledge and strength to any underclassman that may need it.

Joshua Hoobler: I leave my bowling skills to Luke, Carter and Jenna.

Makenna Hood: I leave my sophomore year.

Daniel Hudson: I leave nothing.

Olivia Johnson: I leave my thankfulness to all the teachers, lunch ladies and janitors.

John Kocher: I leave nothing.

Carson Kyko: I leave nothing.

Andrew Lattimer: I leave my job of bothering every teacher to Hayden Reagle.

Lily Leksell: I leave my spot in women's ensemble to anyone who can sing low.

Myka Mathieson: I leave behind my Youngest brother, Chance Mathieson, to achieve great things and have the best time of his life the last 2 years of high school.

Douglas Maxwell: I leave behind 1st trumpet to Carter Williams and 4th to Anthony Grim.

Shane McArthur: I leave good grades, friends and favorite teachers.

Logan McFadden: I leave being a pain in Mr. Bartlett's butt to anyone willing to fill the big shoes.

Nate McIntire: I leave to all the students at Lakeview High School, don't blink. You don't realize your high school career is over until it's over, and don't take anything for granted. Seems like I started 1st grade yesterday. Cherish every moment of your lives, and be kind to each other.

Marissa McLaughlin: I leave nothing.

Emily Michaels: I leave behind my art cubbyhole to Kassidy Glenn.

Trent Milliren: I leave my good looks and brain power to Kyle Uber and Lane Barber.

Claire Oliver: I leave my crazy personality to my sister, Lauren.

Brandon Partridge: I leave my role on the baseball team to Mason Bevan.

Austa Reed: I leave all of my friends and my littlest sister who I wish the best high school experience to.

Marlis Ruediger: I am not leaving anything behind.

Makayla Schell: I leave all the pencils and pens “borrowed” from Danielle Sonthiemer and leave it to Danielle Sonthiemer.

Elise Silloway: I leave my underclassmen friends: I love you guys so much! Thanks for all the fun times!

Senior Wills - Cont'd.

Morgan Snyder: I leave behind my fantastic jokes to Mr. Fagley.

Polina Soldatova: I leave the best years of my life to a school system.

Trevor Steen: To Brandon Guthrie, I leave a spare bumper and duct tape, to Brayden Sample, I leave the pain that is PMEA, and to Kylie "lesser offspring" Steen, I leave you the right to ride the bus every morning.

Hannah Sturgin: I leave the flute section in the hands of Bethany Jessee.

Lauren Turik: I leave my snarky comments to my brother (someone has to carry on the family name).

Victoria Watts: I don't know.

Jeremy Weaver: I leave my looks to Isaac Lightcap.

Rebecca Williams: I leave behind my lunch table to Paige and Gavin because someone has got to keep it going now that Tyler and I are peacing out.

Michael Wood: I leave behind awesome teachers.

Dylon Wright: I leave nothing.

Kenny Yarnell: I leave my great analysis of basketball games to Christian Dosch.

Madison Zimmer: I leave the title of "Theatre Diva" to Devin McIntire.

“If I was in your Shoes...” - Advice to Underclassmen

Compiled by MaKayla Schell

Cassidy Bowlin: Always do your best and keep a smile on your face!

Dylon Wright: Do not slack off on your assignments.

Jeremy Weaver: Keep your nose to the grindstone!

Lauren Turik: Push yourself even when you think you can't do it. You won't regret it in the long run!

Shane McArthur: Stay on top of work and get great grades.

Alannah Courtney: Find something you love to do in high school, whether it's a sport, art, band, color guard, choir, a club or anything else. Having that one thing you love, makes it easier to get through high school.

Shai Hargrove: Do your work and if you need help, then just ask. Always remember that even if you don't have a teacher for a class anymore, you can still visit them. I promise you they love to see you!

Polina Soldatova: Learn things to gain knowledge for yourself not just to pass a test.

Austa Reed: It really does go fast, so enjoy your time with friends and don't take school for granted!

Rebecca Williams: Get your homework done and make smart decisions :)

Olivia Johnson: Do not judge a book by its cover; live life to the fullest!

Claire Oliver: Don't cut the corner in the hallway when walking from the opposite direction... please please please.

Logan McFadden: Have fun and stay smart ;)

Daniel Hudson: This is just a small part of your life. Don't stress over all of this too much, because most of it won't even matter the minute you graduate.

William Devereaux: Enjoy what you have while you have it.

Kiara Devinney: Senior year is it. You don't realize it at first, but it will hit you when the “last” starts. Make the best out of your high school years and just be you. High school is usually when you start to find yourself, and you'll become something amazing!

Carson Kyko: Work hard, dream big.

Morgan Snyder: Enjoy every second of high school; don't take advantage of anything.

Jaina Bowmer: Seriously enjoy it while you have it; I didn't get to enjoy the last bit of what I had, and I wish I would have cherished it more.

Madyson Booher: Never take a day in high school for granted, because you never know when it will end.

Kanisha Byler: Be yourself and do your best!

Lily Leksell: You're not cooler than anyone; don't act like you are.

Hannah Sturgen: Do not let people hurt you over their words; they do not define who you are.

Madison Zimmer: Stop caring about what people might think. Do what you want to do, not what everyone else thinks you should do.

Kelsey Benton: Keep your head up and march to the beat of your own drum; petty people aren't worth your time of day.

Annie Garland: Keep trying your hardest and doing your best! Enjoy high school and all the memories while they last. High school flies by fast.

Kenny Yarnell: Find something you're passionate about and let no one get in the way of making that your life.

Joshua Hoobler: Embrace the moments because you'll never get them back again.

John Kocher: You never know what could happen, so cherish every moment.

MaKenna Hood: Be YOURSELF no matter what the situation is.

Justine Claypoole: Don't be afraid to try new things and talk to new people. Try your best in your classes. It gets stressful, but if you fall behind, it isn't going to be any easier.

Nate McIntire: Act like everyday is your last.

Emily Michaels: Do what your teachers tell you to do... Make sure to stay on task, so you can get stuff done.

Marlis Ruediger: High school is just a stepping stone.

Abby Denzer: Your life is just beginning...

Brett Beith: Cherish every moment, and work hard in school!

Trent Milliren: Don't take anything for granted; it goes by fast!

Myka Mathieson: Never take the easy way out. The more you do now, the better off you will be in the future!

Advice to Underclassment - Cont'd.

Taryn Dulaney: Keep your head on straight and focus on what is important. The better your grades, the more opportunities will come your way!

Isaac Bennefield: High school does end; be ready!

Douglas Maxwell: Sometimes you actually need a study hall.

Elise Silloway: Don't wish it away. It'll be gone before you know, and you'll have to start "adulthood" which isn't what it's cracked up to be.

Victoria Watts: Do what you gotta do, no more no less.

Michael Wood: Keep doing your homework!

Brandon Partridge: Have fun with your friends while it lasts.

Reagan Burke: Make all the memories you can with your friends while you still have time.

Marissa McLaughlin: There is a time to have fun and a time to sit down, shut up, and do your work. Learn the difference, and you will thank yourself later. Also, don't forget to try new things; you may find a new passion or a hidden talent you didn't know you had.

Taylor Gerlach: Work hard to balance school work and your social life. School will help develop your future, but your friendships will enrich it!

Trevor Steen: Never be afraid to try something you never have done before. That might be what you fall in love with.

Andrew Lattimer: Uninstall social media.

Lance Geiger: Stay ahead of your work.

MaKayla Schell: Join clubs in which you have a common interest and shared values with other students. Don't be afraid! No one is better than you. Don't be afraid to talk to people and develop friendships :)

"In Ten Years, I'll Be.."

My Most Embarrassing Moment

Compiled by Haven Patton

Cassidy Bowlin: Being Mrs. McKay's only freshman and not knowing anyone

Jeremy Weaver: Riding the bench like it was a bucking bronco

Lauren Turik: The time I fell on the track when I was running with little kids at the elementary track meet we hosted Alannah Courtney: Any time I thought someone was waving at me in the hallway, but they were waving at someone else behind me instead. It's happened way more than I would like to admit throughout the years.

Shai Hargrove: I don't know, but whatever I may have done was either in Mrs. Baun's room or Mr. Cumpston's room

Rebecca Williams: When I fell down the stairs

Olivia Johnson: Talking about adult things are not school subjects

Claire Oliver: The day Mr. Bartlett gave me a double parking violation, and I cried

Logan McFadden: Falling in the hallway 3 times within 5 minutes on crutches

Daniel Hudson: That one time between August of freshman year and May of senior year

Kiara Devinney: My most embarrassing moment in high school would have to be when I fell cheering at a basketball game on the court and at a football game on the track in front of many people.

Morgan Snyder: Tripping up the stairs one too many times

Madysen Booher: Catching pizza rolls on fire in the lunchroom, and the school smelling the rest of the day

Madison Zimmer: I split my pants in the lunchroom before first period one morning. Either that or when I had laryngitis during The Addams Family.

Annie Garland: Always tripping and falling over myself on the stairs in front of everyone

Kenny Yarnell: Getting a 68 in woodshop, brutal

Joshua Hoobler: Probably being spoken to a lot of times

MaKenna Hood: My junior year getting called to the office

Justine Claypoole: Falling on the sidewalk in front of everyone coming off the vo tech bus

Nate McIntire: Falling twice coming from second at Myrtle Beach

Emily Michaels: My freshman year I was walking up the steps and fell right in front of a bunch of seniors. My sister being one of them, was at the top of the stairs laughing at me. After, she did come help me pick up my things, but she told me she wanted to give me the full freshman experience first.

Marlis Ruediger: I do not know; I block out moments like those.

Abby Denzer: I embarrass myself everyday

Brett Beith: Ripping my pants in Ms. Cebula's class

Trent Milliren: When I tripped everyday going up the stairs

Myka Mathieson: Falling out of my chair during lunch freshman year

Taryn Dulaney: Always laughing uncontrollably with Kiara in the middle of anatomy class

Isaac Bennefield: Not knowing where to run in the XC meet

Doug Maxwell: Never running under a 20 minute 5k

Elise Silloway: Hmm, no one saw, but I came out of the bathroom and my dress was tucked into my spandex, and Mrs. Uber saved me, thanks Mrs. Uber!!

Victoria Watts: Getting caught cheating and then getting out of it

Michael Wood: Having Tyler as a friend, you never knew what he was going to do.

Brandon Partridge: Falling while on crutches freshman year

Reagan Burke: Having to play games with my brother in front of the whole school during a pep rally

Marissa McLaughlin: During senior night for band this year, I tripped and took a big tumble right before we stepped off on the field.

Taylor Gerlach: Wiping out while doing Anchors at Meet the Sailors my Freshman year

Trevor Steen: Having to perform at the Olweus assembly with the choir.

Andrew Lattimer: My hair

MaKayla Schell: Running into the wall to tell a story. Ms. Peach and Mr. Herrick saw it on the cameras.... They called me down to watch it repeatedly while laughing.

One Final Note

By Mr. Cumpston & Mr. Minch

This year's Lakeviewer Staff was exceptional. Our students came into the class with little experience in journalism, video production, multimedia production, and layouts. This crew has been exceptional. From Mr. Minch and Mr. Cumpston, great job, Lakeviewer staff! Farewell to our seniors, who have been a vital piece of the publication this year: Abby Denzer, Bailey Kasbee, Andrew Lattimer, Dylan Mamula, Alissa Slater, Makayla Schell, Marlis Ruediger, and our layout editor, Claire Oliver.

FOR ALL READERS: The final video publication that the Lakeviewer has published this year is a send off. Many of the teachers never had the chance to say goodbye to our students. We didn't know when we left on March 13th that we wouldn't see our students again in school. We put together a send off video for the graduating class of 2020. Click on or scan the QR code below to be directed to YouTube and enjoy!! The Class of 2020 Senior Slide Show is also accessible by QR code, as well.

Seniors, best of luck in all things. Underclassmen, we are looking forward to seeing you all again in August.
