Message from the Superintendent

Dear Rebel Nation,

It's hard to believe another school year has come to a close. Thank you to everyone who took the time to celebrate our Class of 2023, we wish our recent graduates all the best as they embark on this next chapter.

When students return in the fall, there will be some new faces to welcome them back. We've hired several new teachers, as well as a new elementary guidance counselor. Along with some new faces will be some familiar ones, with new homes. In addition to moving a few teaching positions around, we have also realigned our building administration staff.

In the fall, Crestview Elementary will welcome former middle school principal, Mrs. Allison Lemaster. Mrs. Lemaster has been with the district for twelve years and has served as the middle school principal for seven years. Mr. Timothy Pancake will leave the elementary and take over as the principal of Crestview Middle School, Mr. Pancake has been with the elementary team for four years. At the high school level will be Mr. Gregory Woolman. Mr. Woolman served this past school year as an assistant principal for both the middle school and high school and has taught in the middle school since 2012. Mrs. Laura Nappi will shift gears as she returns to the role of Athletic Director for the district. Mrs. Nappi has been with the district since 2013 and served as the high school principal for four years.

As the 23-24 school year starts we will also have some traffic pattern changes to announce, as we near our official groundbreaking this fall. Please stay tuned for further updates as we enter into this exciting phase of construction.

Take time to enjoy summer break with your family and friends, we look forward to seeing you in the fall!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads 'Daniel C. Hill'.

Daniel C. Hill, Superintendent
