Dan Meers Speaking at Convocation

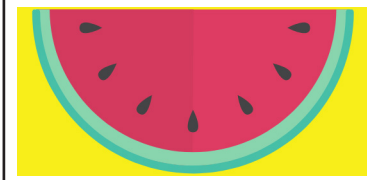

The suit Dan Meers wears to work most days is unlike the suit a lot of men wear to their jobs - it has a tail! Dan, aka KC Wolf, is used to performing in front of large crowds, but he also speaks in front of them (without the furry suit 😊). Mr. Meers will be sharing the wisdom he has gained during his mascot career (which has spanned over 30 years!) with teachers and staff at our Back-to-School Breakfast and Convocation on Tuesday, August 15.

Pardon Our Dust - We're Making Improvements!

Heavy trucks have been a constant on campus this summer with all of our construction projects. For a while, HVAC units lined our parking lot and cranes could be seen popping up over our rooftops. Improvements to the elementary meant days without air conditioning, gas, or water. While all of the underlay work is done, and most of the turf has been placed, there is still fencing, concrete work, and finishing touches to be made around our track, football field, and softball/baseball diamond. We appreciate everyone's patience as crews work to ensure completion prior to our first home games.

FREE meals for kids under 18 continue through Monday, August 21!

Meals are served at middle school cafeteria and must be consumed on-site.

Breakfast: 7:30am-8:30am & Lunch: 11:00am-12:30pm

Want to know what's on the menu? Check it out at holdenschools.org/foodservice.

We are excited to partner with community members and local churches again to provide basic school supplies FREE for all of our K-8 grade students - one less expense for our families as we head back to school! Specifically we would like to thank Andie Smith, our District Social Worker, for her coordination of this effort, which is a huge undertaking. Also, we appreciate Megan Gillette, Jill Carver, Rose Hill Baptist Church, and multiple additional anonymous donors for their generosity and dedication to the success of all Holden Eagles.
