

RECEPTION STAFF's BOOK RECOMMENDATIONS

Some of Ms Hayward's favourite books to share

- 'Owl Babies' by Martin Waddell – Meet Sarah, Percy and Bill as they wait Mother Owl to return from her night hunt. Lots of lovely phrases and refrains to be repeated and joined in with as the story unfolds. What do you know about Owls? What can you find out about them?
- 'Mr Gumpy's Outing' by John Burningham – Mr Gumpy goes on a boat trip with some rather unruly animals. What do you think happens next as each animal joins the boat?
- 'Tilda Tries Again' by Tom Percival – Tom Percival has created a whole range of books connected to feelings. They are all superb. Tilda learns how not give up in the face of a challenge.

- 'Somebody Swallowed Stanley' by Sarah Roberts – Stanley is no ordinary 'jellyfish'! A lovely book that allows young children to begin to understand the significance of plastic pollution in our oceans.

Some of Miss Everett's favourite books to share

- 'The Gruffalo' by Julia Donaldson & Axel Scheffler – go on an adventure with Mouse as they take a walk through the woods. Lots of lovely rhyme to notice and comment on in this book.
- 'The Large Family' series of books by Jill Murphy – Join The Large family, a family of elephants as they face a number of challenges in their busy daily lives.
- 'What the Ladybird Heard' by Julia Donaldson & Lydia Monks – the smallest and quietest creature of all – the ladybird - saves the day in this fun packed story. There is also glitter on every page. You have to love a bit of glitter!
- 'Aliens Love Underpants' by Claire Freedman – watch out for your pants as the aliens descend to Earth on the lookout for pants of all shapes, sizes and patterns!
