

ACCESSIBILITY POLICY

Accessibility Standards for Customer Service

Purpose

Albert College is committed to providing services that are free of barriers and biases to students, parents/guardians, the public and staff. Albert College strives to ensure that key principles of independence, dignity, integration, equality of opportunity and diversity are reflected and valued in the learning and work environments. Albert College strives to provide an environment in all of its facilities that builds independence, dignity and respect for students, parents/guardians, the public and staff.

General

Albert College has a small constituency group and is only open to the public in a few instances per calendar year. All efforts are made to accommodate our customers on an individual basis as each situation arises. Staff members are trained to assist with any disability that may be encountered.

Albert College is made up of a series of buildings with construction dating back to 1923 and up to 2003. The most recent constructions have clear physical accessibility while the older building has received some modification over the last 15 years. As such the College has several areas that preclude a physically disabled person from access. Our Maintenance Repair and Refurbishment Plan contain several items that will enhance accessibility to the areas that have the most public use.

Definitions

The following definitions are used in describing the procedure in providing services to members of the community.

Customer is any person who applies to the College and that person's family.

Assistive device is any device used by people with disabilities to help with daily living. Assistive devices include a range of products such as wheelchairs, walkers, white canes, oxygen tanks and electronic communication devices.

Barriers to accessibility mean anything that prevents a person with a disability from fully participating in all aspects of the services of the school. Examples include a physical barrier, an architectural barrier, information or communication barrier, and attitudinal barrier and a technological barrier.

Albert College Policy

Accommodation is a means through reasonable efforts, of preventing and removing barriers that impede individuals with disabilities from participating fully in the services of the school.

Disruption of service is any disruption to a physical service such as repairs, maintenance, replacement or removal that will require a person with a disability to seek alternate means to access a facility.

SCHOOL EXPECTATIONS

The College will make all reasonable efforts to ensure that all policies, practice and procedure are consistent with the principles of independence, dignity, integration and equality of opportunity to all with particular attention for person with disabilities.

The College will welcome all members of the school to its facilities by committing staff and volunteers to providing services to incorporate measure that include, but are not limited to, the use of assistive devices and service animals.

To ensure greater awareness and responsiveness to the needs of a person with disabilities, the College will provide appropriate training for all staff who deal with the public or other third parties on behalf of the College.

Training will be provided to all staff and, when appropriate, to volunteers. As new staff are hired, the training will become a component of their orientation training and will be provided within a reasonable timeframe.

The College will ensure that its policies and procedures related to the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 are made available to the public and will also ensure there is a capacity to provide communication about these policies and procedures in a format that takes into account a person's disability.

When services that are normally provided to a person with a disability are temporarily unavailable, a disruption of service notice will be posted at the site and on the College's website.

In order to monitor the effectiveness of implementation of the Accessible Customer Service Standard, the College will develop a process for receiving and responding to feedback. Information about the feedback process will be readily available to the public and will allow people to provide feedback using a number of methods.

DISRUPTION TO SERVICE

When those facilities or services are temporarily unavailable or if they are expected to be temporarily unavailable in the near future, a notice of disruption of service is required. Generally, this special notice is not required when there are disruptions to all of the College's services, such as a major storm or power outage. However, if the disruption has a significant impact on people with disabilities, a notice of the disruption should be provided.

The Head of School and the management team and/or their designate will ensure that the user of the College's services are notified when there is a disruption in services that may have an impact on access to services by people with disabilities.

SERVICE ANIMALS

The College allows for all service animals in all buildings. This requirement applies to only to those areas of the premises where our alumni/students/parents customarily have access and does not include places or areas of the school where the alumni/students/parents do not have access.

A service animal can only be excluded from access to the premises where this is required by another law. Examples include: the Health Protection and Promotion Act and the Food Safety and Quality Act. The former Act prohibit service animals in places where food is prepared, processed, or handled (e.g. kitchen of Junior and Senior Schools, and EPLC classroom). Service dogs are permitted where food is served (e.g. Ackerman Hall, Great Hall and EPLC Classroom).
