AIG Update

FALL 2023

AIG Department Receives Funding

For the 3rd year in a row, Caswell County Schools' AIG Department received the Community Foundation of the Dan River Region's Keokee Grant. Funding for the project, entitled "I See Me", was used to purchase books with Latin X and African American main characters for each elementary school. The purpose of this project is to encourage a love of reading by having inclusive collections in our media centers that speak to our diverse AIG students and those being nurtured. The media specialists were thrilled to receive these beautiful new books. Students began checking them out as soon as the school year began. We heartily thank the Community Foundation!

It's Not Too Early to Think About Summer STEM Camp at the NC School of Science and Math

"NCSSM offers summer programs for students who are rising 5th-graders through high school seniors. With specialized coursework in areas such as artificial intelligence, biomedical sciences, and engineering, students have the opportunity to engage in real-world, hands-on experiences.."

Both day and residential programs are available and many programs are free of charge. For programs that require a fee, financial aid is available. Applications will be available soon on the NCSSM website.

Attention, Bartlett Yancey Juniors!

Are you looking for a leadership and academic opportunity to add for your college application? Are you interested in learning without worrying about grades or test scores? If so, the NC Governor's School may be for you.

“The Governor’s School of North Carolina is the oldest statewide summer residential program for gifted and talented high school students in the nation. The program is administered by the State Board of Education and North Carolina Department of Public Instruction (NCDPI) through the Office of Advanced Learning & Gifted Education. Each summer, selected students are invited to Governor’s School to help build a learning community during a four-week residential session. Students are encouraged to explore and ask questions, with the purpose of learning for its own sake and discovering new possibilities that complement their high school instruction, without the regular pressures of tests, scores, and grade point averages. The Governor’s School emphasizes collaborative efforts in all disciplines. Students go through a local and state nomination process. Students are selected locally at the district level or at the school level, if at a charter or non-public school. Each district/school has its own process to determine nominees for NCDPI at the state level.”
