III. PRESENTATIONS

A. Zonda Education - Demographic Study Update

Rocky Gardiner with Zonda Education provided an update on the demographic study the district requested last fall. Mr. Gardiner reported that there were 279 students added this year which represents a 5.5% growth. Zonda reviews deed transactions, home prices, economic indicators, unemployment rates, etc. in their analysis. He reviewed the 23 active housing additions and 3 future divisions in development. The study also projected student density and which schools would be impacted. They are projecting that the district will be at 7000 students by 2029. Dr. Eichelberger said that Zonda Education will assist with redistricting boundaries as new schools are built.

B. Stephen L. Smith Corp. - Bond Financial Presentation

Jordan Smith provided a comprehensive plan for the 2024 Bond Resolution. Dr. Eichelberger also said a survey had been conducted throughout the entire district to rate the priority of district needs. The survey was developed with input from the Superintendent's Advisory Council. The results of the survey and the bond projects were then shared with the community. Mr. Smith said a conservative approach was taken in preparing the bond resolutions to deliver on the goal that there would not be an increase to patrons' taxes. He said the plan is reviewed annually to stay in front of growth patterns in the community. April 2, 2024 is the proposed election date. Board members asked when the construction would begin should the bond pass. Mr. Smith said the first phase of funding would begin June 2024. Dr. Eichelberger said it would take approximately 18 months to complete new buildings once the land is Purchased.

C. Lingo Construction - Construction Presentation

Stan and Jacob Lingo gave an overview of services that a construction management company provides. Some of those benefits include: costs available early in design process, construct-ability determined early in design process to minimize changes, early procurement value, collaborative approach for clarity in schedule, systems and accountability. Construction management fees typically range from 4.5% - 6% of the project budget depending on the size of the project with smaller projects requiring a larger fee percentage. Mr. Lingo said fees would be negotiated with the district.

D. Center for Education Communication - Bond Marketing Services

Kathleen Kennedy with Center for Education Communication provided an overview of bond marketing services that her company could provide to support the districts' regular marketing and communications process. The goal would be to educate the public on the value of a student investment campaign. The Center for Education Communication would provide a comprehensive campaign featuring: theme, logo and content creation, print materials, multimedia materials, advocacy and grass root tactics. They would assist with a voter registration campaign would monitor the campaign to adjust strategies for optimal messaging about the importance of the campaign.
