Description of Process for Conducting Classroom Observations, Collecting Evidence, Conducting Evaluation Conferences, Developing Performance Ratings, and Developing Performance Improvement Plans [Section 1249b(2)(e)]

- Conducting Classroom Observations: Observations for administrators will occur in a variety of forms including building visits, that will involve visits during the actual school day as well as visits at various activities and events that are coordinated and facilitated by the administrator and his/her staff. Additionally, administrator participation and engagement in various meetings will also serve as a form of observation.
 - Collecting Evidence: Administrators will submit student achievement data to the Superintendent of Schools as one form of evidence. Furthermore, each administrator will complete a self-evaluation through the Stages, Inc. application. Not only will anecdotal evidence be provided through the self-evaluation process, but individual administrators will also have the opportunity to upload pertinent artifacts into the application for review by the Superintendent of Schools.
 - Conducting Evaluation Conferences: The Superintendent of Schools will meet with each administrator to develop and discuss his/her professional goals. Unless deemed necessary, or requested by the administrator, a final evaluation conference will not occur, but be facilitated through direct feedback provided via the Stages, Inc. application, by the Superintendent of Schools.
 - Developing Performance Ratings: Please see Appendix E regarding Performance Ratings.
 - Developing Performance Improvement Plans: The development of a Performance Improvement Plan or Individualized Development Plan will occur through a series of meetings in an effort to monitor the Individualized Development Plan. The Individualized Development Plan will be developed during an initial meeting between the Superintendent of Schools and the administrator using the template, as provided in Appendix F.

Description of Plan for Providing Evaluators and Observers with Training [Section 1249b(2)(f)]

- Administrators who are being evaluated using the School ADvance Administrator Evaluation System, as well as evaluators who will be utilizing the tool to evaluate administrators, will engage in training provided by designated School ADvance trainers. As of September 12, 2016, Garden City Public Schools is working with personnel from School ADvance to determine dates for training, targeting completion of training by no later than January 31, 2017. Please see Appendix B for more information.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The six guiding principles for designing performance evaluation and feedback systems that support learning, growth, and adaptation were developed by Dr. Patricia Reeves and Dr. George Aramath, based on a two year meta-analysis of the literature on performance assessment and feedback.

The administrator evaluation rubrics were developed by Dr. Reeves and Mrs. Patricia McNeill based on a one-year meta review of extant administrator evaluation instruments and research bases.

The work for both were significantly informed by the work of the Wallace Foundation, including two Michigan based Wallace Foundation grant projects focused on school level leadership development. Dr. Reeves served on the grant faculty teams for both of these projects with the late Dr. Van Cooley and Dr. Jianping Shen of Western Michigan University.

Dr. Reeves and Mrs. McNeill are also experienced school administrators who each served for over two decades as school administrators in Michigan.

ASSURANCES

School ADvance is aligned with Michigan Statutory requirements for Administrator (including Superintendent) Evaluation.

WHO CREATED SCHOOL ADVANCE?

Dr. Patricia Reeves, Patricia McNeill, and Dr. George Aramath are principal investigators and designers of the School ADvance Administrator Evaluation System. Dr. Reeves is an Associate Professor of Educational Leadership and Research at Western Michigan University; Patricia McNeill is the Executive Director of MI-ASCD; and Dr. George Aramath is a doctoral candidate who graduated December 2013 from the Educational Leadership program at W.M.U.

Collaborators on this work include members of the MASA and MI-ASCD staffs, practicing school leaders, higher education faculty in school leader preparation, members of the school boards and principals associations in Michigan, and both in- and out-of-state sources in educator evaluation.

PHILOSOPHY AND APPROACH

The School ADvance Administrator Evaluation System is based on Four Assumptions, which are grounded in the work of researchers in the field of educator performance evaluation:

- The ultimate goal of educator evaluation is to achieve better results for students by fostering improved effectiveness of teachers and leaders.
- New accountability requirements have enormous implications for administrators' expertise—and for the way they do business and spend their time.
- High-stakes accountability must be balanced with ongoing feedback and support for continuous improvement.
- Evaluation should not be something we do to people; rather, it should empower employees to take responsibility for their own learning, growth, and performance.

The School ADvance System holds to Ten Core Values, which we believe hold up through many perspectives—community, board, administrator, teacher, student. Those Ten Core Values are the following:

1. Growing capacity for better student results
2. Two-way dialogue and interaction
3. A grounding in research supported practice
4. Self-Assessment and reflective practice
5. Authentic feedback

Appendix A

6. Growth targets that really matter
7. Personal ownership
8. Context, conditions, and student characteristics
9. Multiple sources of data/evidence
10. Student results

Moreover, the developers have identified six research-aligned principles and critical elements that must be part of any comprehensive educator evaluation system for teachers and administrators.

As a result, the School ADvance Administrator Evaluation System is:

1. Authentic, using evidence-based practices to achieve better student outcomes
2. Professional, building personal commitment and efficacy for growth and improvement
3. Purpose Driven, focused on measurable improvement targets for student success
4. Adaptive, fostering self-assessment, reflective practice, action research, and innovative methods of improving student results
5. Evidence Based, data informed, using multiple sources of qualitative and quantitative data tied to student achievement and evidence-based practice including achievement and observation data
6. Inclusive, serving all, with alignment between student, teacher, administrator, and district improvement goals

By incorporating these elements, School ADvance can assist teachers, administrators, and boards of education in answering the three important questions regarding their own work:

- Where am I right now in my learning and performance?
- Where should I focus next to learn, grow, and improve?
- How should I proceed to reach that next level of performance?

SUMMATIVE RUBRICS For PRINCIPAL Evaluation by Domain, Factor, and Characteristic

The Summative Rubrics provide administrators and their evaluators with a condensed version of the Formative Rubrics for either the principal or central office/superintendent evaluation (see School ADvance Administrator Evaluation User Manual). This set of Summative Rubrics is organized around the four practice domains (Domains 2-5) and eight practice factors for the principal evaluation framework and provides statements that capture the major elements of each characteristic in collapsed form. The Summative Rubrics match directly to the School ADvance performance evaluation framework and formative rubrics for either the principal or central office/superintendent position. The summative statements can be used as the basis for the summative performance assessment and the Formative Rubrics can be used for formative assessment work (e.g. self-assessment, conferencing and dialogue, observations, evidence portfolios, etc.) and to provide clarity for developing performance improvement or personal growth plans.

Each item in the Summative Rubrics collapses several characteristics listed within the Formative Rubrics for each of the performance factors. Because the descriptors are collapsed, users should refer back to the Formative Rubrics when there is a question about what a Summative Rubric item means or what might be observable or documentable evidence for that item.

NOTE: There is no Summative Rubric needed or provided for Domain 1–Results

*This approach allows the district to establish student achievement targets for each school based on the student achievement data for that school. Targets can be set around fixed student achievement levels, annually adjusted student achievement levels, and/or fixed or annually adjusted levels of growth in student achievement. Additionally, this approach allows the district to combine the student achievement target goals with target goals pertaining to the percentage of teachers and/or students who meet those targets. In this fashion, the above rubric can be customized based on the student achievement status of each school and/or the teacher performance status of each school.

This approach allows the district to establish and specify what national, state, and local assessments will be used for each school or program level based on that school's student achievement profile, the school curriculum, and the status of teacher performance.

This approach allows the district to establish both student and school process/program improvement targets based on the principal's school improvement plan based on a combination of student achievement, school process data, student engagement, attendance, behavior, perception, and other data as appropriate and available to monitor progress on the school's improvement plan.

Explanations of Page 1 asterisk items for District Results

*This approach allows the district to establish student achievement targets for the district and each school based on the student achievement data for that school! Targets can be set around fixed student achievement levels, annually adjusted student achievement levels, and/or fixed or annually adjusted levels of growth in student achievement. Where possible, School AAdvance recommends that student achievement targets be set around individual student growth using a robust statistical algorithm that accounts for variability in student and other factors. This may require technical assistance through a qualified statistician or the purchase of data analysis services through a qualified source. Additionally, this approach allows the district to combine the student achievement target goals with target goals pertaining to the percentage of teachers and/or students who meet those targets. In this fashion, the above rubric can be customized based on the student achievement status of each school and/or the teacher performance status of each school.

This approach allows the district to establish and specify what national, state, and local assessments will be used for each school or program level, based on that school's student achievement profile, the school curriculum, and the status of teacher performance.

This approach allows the district to establish both student and school level process/program improvement targets based on the district's school improvement plan. This approach also allows the district to use a combination of student achievement, school process data, student engagement, attendance, behavior, perception, and other data as appropriate and available to monitor progress on the district's improvement plan.
