Choir groups do well at Festival

Congratulations to our Davison High School and Davison Middle School choirs for their excellent performances at District Festival right before spring break.

Both the DHS Varsity Choir and Concert Choir participated, receiving excellent ratings, moving them on to State Choral Festival in May. Varsity Choir received a perfect score from two of the four judges and Concert Choir received a perfect score from one.

Congratulations also goes to Davison Middle School's Cardinal Men, Cardinal Singers, Music Masters and Mezzo Voce on their Festival performances. Each group received first division ratings. Mezzo Voce's rating topped the middle school charts at 115 out of 120!

Davison Community Schools Building Beat

hen it comes to the success of our instrumental and choral musical programs, our student musicians play second fiddle to no one. That is partly due to the fact that, not to toot our own horn mind you, but we have some pretty talented students. DCS is also fortunate to have some outstanding music educators as well. So, in this special edition of the Building Beat, we want to recognize the many reasons our music programs strike a chord with all who have had the privilege to catch a performance featuring our talented student musicians. And, if you haven't had a chance, well, we are hoping that after learning more you will change your tune and see for yourself what all the noise is about.

Making music and "Meeting Mozart"

When the manager of community programs for the Flint Institute of Music contacted Davison High School Instrumental Music Director James Schuster looking for a string quintet, he knew it would be an incredible opportunity for some of his students.

The quintet, comprised of Rachel Glanton (First Violin), Yona Boudagh (Second Violin), Sydney Hall (Viola), Emily Estes (Cello) and Malin Adams (Bass) performed two shows just prior to spring break at the Whiting Auditorium with the Holden & Arts production of "Meeting Mozart."

Schuster said the project took several weeks to prepare and students went through the entire process of makeup, wardrobe, sound checks, dress rehearsal and the final performance. The target audience of this production was more than a thousand kindergarten through third graders from elementary schools in Clio, Grand Blanc, Lapeer, the Flint Cultural Center Academy and a home school coalition.

"These students now have firsthand experience on what professional musicians do as a career," Schuster said.

Three Middle School singers earn perfect scores at Solo Ensemble

Sixteen students from DMS choirs attended Middle School Vocal Music Association Solo and Ensemble festival at Elizabeth Ann Johnson High School in Mt. Morris in February. Ms. Michelle Wilson, DMS Choral Director, said each student represented the district well and many judges commented on how prepared they were! Three students even earned perfect scores!

Participants were: Zaia Carradine, Madelynn Carter, Bradylee Clanton, Abigail Cross, Kevin Doherty, Chloe Foss, Sydney Hamilton, Hailey Harmon, Jayden Henderson, Zhane Jones, Angela Minto, Jacob Ramsey, Lily Surface, Avery Tober and Theodore Usealman.

Instrumental music students qualify for state competitions ...

A last minute schedule change due to a snow day and a power outage did not deter our Davison Middle School student musicians from giving some very impressive performances at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA) District Festival last month.

All four Davison Middle School bands and orchestras received straight Is. DMS Instrumental Music Teacher Brad Davis said they were the only bands at Port Huron Northern to receive straight First Division (Is) Ratings. This is the highest score they can achieve.

“Particularly special was the fact that our eighth grade band had a power outage while being announced on stage,” Davis said. “So, I requested some stand lights from our host and we performed our festival program in the dark—a first for me in 17 years, I don’t know of any other band that has done so. They were so pumped and excited to play in the dark.”

Also performing well at Festival was the Davison High School Concert Band and Wind Ensemble, which performed at Carman-Ainsworth, and the String and Symphonic Orchestra, which competed at Swartz Creek. All of the ensembles received Superior ratings and will move on to the State level at the end of April.

... and end up doing something they haven’t done since 2015

For the first time since 2015, all four Davison High School instrumental music groups—the Concert and Wind Ensemble bands and Strings and Symphonic orchestras—all received straight 1s from the judges at the MSBOA State Festival held on April 26 and 27.

The groups will be competing at the state level this week. Congratulations and good luck to Director Jim Schuster and all of these fine musicians.

DHS junior Dustin White earns spot in All-State Choir

Davison High School junior Dustin White has been selected as a member of the All-State Choir. Dustin will be heading to Michigan State University later this week to participate with other high school students from around the state for the three-day event sponsored by the Michigan School Vocal Music Association.

In December, Dustin, along with fellow student vocalists Laina Owen, Taylor Laine, Asa Corlew, Connor Norman, Caleb Ashley, Kendra Kalfayan and Leah Riley were honored at the Board of Education meeting for being chosen for the State Honors Choir, which performed in January. DHS Choral Director Garth Starr explained that each student had to audition among hundreds of other students across the state.

Dream comes true for DHS student musician and twirler

Davison High School senior Rylee Schlaud has been selected to be the new Feature Twirler of the Spartan Marching Bands at Michigan State University.

"This has been my ultimate dream and goal since I started competing when I was 8 years old and discovered the position existed," Rylee said. "After my audition the coach called to extend the offer to me. We had just left campus so my mom pulled over and as soon as I hung up I started sobbing and hugged my mom."

Rylee was selected from a multitude of candidates who submitted video applications from all over the United States.

"This is a huge accomplishment from a young lady who has worked extremely hard for this honor," said Instrumental Music Director Jim Schuster.

The Spartan Marching Band Feature Twirlers are one of the visual sections in the marching band that performs during pregame, halftime and postgame. The twirlers come from all over the country and are considered some of the most talented performers both on the field and in competition. During every performance, the twirlers proudly continue carrying out traditions from the 1970s while also incorporating the most current twirling trends and tricks to visually complement the theme of the show played by the Spartan Marching Band each week.

"Becoming a feature twirler is a several month process that requires sending in a video highlight reel, as well as a resume and letters of recommendation," Rylee said. "From there I was selected for an in-person audition where I performed two prepared routines, an impromptu on-demand routine, and an interview. I will not have to audition for the spot again."

Rylee fulfilled a lifelong dream after being named as a Feature Twirler for the Spartan Marching Bands.

Rylee's talents as a musician and twirler came together at a young age. At the age of 7, she began twirling through DCER classes at Great Lakes Twirling Academy. It was also the year she started competing.

“Ever since then it has been nothing but countless hours in the gym, time spent traveling to my private coach in Birmingham almost every week, and traveling all over for competitions,” Rylee said. “Baton is an all-in sport so my parents have sacrificed a lot to get me to this point.”

Rylee joined the orchestra as a fifth grader and began playing the violin, an instrument she continues to play today. Once she became a high school freshman, Rylee joined the marching band and has served as a twirler every year.

“I am super involved in instrumental music at DHS,” Rylee said. “I have been in the chamber orchestra, symphonic orchestra, and pit orchestra all four years, except when COVID cancelled our musicals for two years.”

Whether she is twirling out on the field or competing at a tournament, Rylee said there are definitely some nerves that accompany each performance but she has learned to trust in her training and tries to just have fun.

Rylee plans to major in human biology and, as of right now, hopes to become a sports medicine physician and work with sports teams.

“None of this would have been possible without the support of my family, friends, and even some teachers, especially Mr. Schuster,” Rylee said.

Mezzo Voce choir performs with adult choir that includes DHS alum

The Mezzo Voce choir traveled to Rochester Hills in December to perform in a concert with the Choral Artists of Michigan, a professional adult choir. They performed two pieces alone, and with the CAM they performed the first movement of Vivaldi's Gloria and Sing We Now of Christmas with an oboe solo by Lily Roof, former Davison student, now a freshman at the University of Michigan for oboe performance.

Mezzo Voce is directed by Davison Middle School Instrumental Music Teacher Michelle Wilson and Davison High School Vocal Music Director Garth Starr.

Mezzo Voce is an Honor's Choir for students in grades sixth through eighth. Auditions are normally held in September. Students rehearse weekly after school on Wednesday from October through March. The choir performs in concerts and at choir festival and participates in a workshop at Eastern Michigan University.

First chair in All-State Ensemble for DHS junior

Davison High School junior and student musician Quinlan Bollwitt had an amazing achievement this school year. He was named as a first-chair bassoonist in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's All-State Orchestra.

Quinlan performed with the All-State Orchestra in Grand Rapids in January.

Congratulations to Quinlan!

Student musicians perfect their craft

Beginning in kindergarten, Davison students are introduced to the world of music. From learning how to keep a beat to recognizing a rhythm to playing recorders and ukuleles, our elementary music teachers provide the basics (and more) in music introduction.

Beginning at the fifth grade level, Davison students have the opportunity to choose from band or orchestra. There are opportunities to perform in show choirs. Student musicians continue to grow and hone their craft each year as well as develop friendships and a camaraderie with fellow musicians and vocalists.

We would like to recognize our outstanding music teachers for encouraging our students as they pursue these arts: Elementary music teachers Lauren Rhoads (Central Elementary), Ellie Carter (Gates Elementary), Lisa DuPrey (Hill Elementary), Robin Odglen (Siple Elementary) and Michael Romanik (Thomson Elementary). Our fifth through 12th grade teachers include: Susan McMartin (Band/Hahn), Kaitlynn Klann (Vocal Music/Hahn), Brad Davis (Band/Davison Middle School), Russell Matthews (Orchestra/Davison Middle School), Michelle Wilson (Vocal Music/Davison Middle School), James Schuster (Instrumental Music/Davison High School) and Garth Starr (Vocal Music/Davison High School.)
