

Concurrent Credit Sociology

2021-2022 School
Year

Concurrent Credit Sociology is the first exposure that many students have to the field of Sociology while others have already taken Intro to Sociology. The class is intended to introduce students to the broad range of topics that Sociology encompasses. Students who successfully complete the course will receive college credit from UAFS (which usually will transfer to other institutions) for Introduction to Sociology.

Information covered in the course is at the discretion of UAFS and the instructor. It includes such topics as:

- Culture, Social Structure
- Individuals in Society: Interaction
- Socialization, Social Groups
- Deviance and Social Control
- Racial, Ethnic, Gender, and Age Differentiation
- Social Institutions (Family, Religion , Education, Polity, Economy)
- Social Change and Issues: Population and Health
