

Principles of Health Science I

This course is an introduction into healthcare pathways exploring key foundations of healthcare including the human body, medical terminology, medical math, healthcare systems, teams, roles, as well as legal, ethical and cultural applications into healthcare.

There will be a combination of written assignments, research, analysis of data, and hands on application (CPR, First Aid, HIPAA, and other hands on skills).

+ Could this be YOUR future? +

Take the class!