Security Improvement Projects – Construction Manager at Risk	At Mr. Reeser’s request, Randy Scott, Director of Design & Construction, briefed the Board. K.S.A. 72-1152, et al., Kansas Unified School District Alternative Project Delivery Building Construction Procurement Act, enables school districts to retain a Construction At-Risk Manager on school construction projects. The district intends to design and construct various security improvement projects involving front entrance controlled access remodels, classroom teacher locks, door replacements, intercoms, and code compliance corrections as needed. The CM At-Risk Alternative Project Delivery Method offers some clear advantages on a project of this scope and size, as disclosed in the following state statute requirements for consideration: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · Delivery method will save time and money by enabling construction to start sooner, more effectively stagger work/scope, better plan for lead times and material pricing fluctuations. · Design and construction phases can be overlapped in order to expedite less design-intensive scope, while completing and procuring larger scale scope. · This delivery method will enable us to accelerate the schedule in the interest of more quickly addressing top priority security improvements. · The scope will span across numerous buildings over multiple years. The phasing and coordination will be complex. Engaging both the design and construction team early on as collaborative partners in the development process will help ensure successful project completion. · This delivery method encourages fair competition amongst contractors and provides more bid transparency, while reducing project risk. A public hearing is required before a school board takes action on such a project. The district scheduled a legal notice for publication in The Derby Informer on October 31, 2022, which ran through November 6, 2022. This agenda item provides an opportunity for public comment prior to the Board taking any action. Mr. Reeser (Ms. Hedrick) moved the Board authorize approval to proceed with the Construction Manager At-Risk Delivery Method for security improvement projects at forty-eight (48) sites. The motion passed 7-0.
