Girls Who Code

Girls Who Code club (GWC) helps girls learn the basics of computer science. Women make up a small fraction of the STEM field. GWC aims to close the gender gap in technology, and the change can start with you! Whether you are a pro or a novice, our club has a spot for you.
Girls Who Code creates a community where you can meet girls with similar interests and make friends and connections!

Meetings will be held virtually on Thursdays from 4:15 to 5:15, starting March 21st, and ending on May 23nd. No prior experience required!
