

THE FREWSPAPER

Volume 3, Issue 2

Winter

FREWSBURG CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Slam Dunk Season

For this year's girls varsity basketball, the girls had a 21 to 2 winning streak. They had the best record in school history. They had great chemistry and worked hard together. They had the best record in history. Mr. Collver has played basketball in college at Robert West Land, and has coached for twenty years. The top three best players are Kaitlyn Blanchard, Gabby Uccalono, and Olivia Lynn. Mr. Collver says, "when someone didn't play as well someone always picked up the slack." The team motto would be, do your job. Collver says "if you are doing what you are supposed to do then it's easier for me to see who is not carrying their weight."

Inside this issue:

Pre- Prom	2
Let's Bowl	2
National Honor Society	3
Pets in The Classroom	3
Frewsburg Modified Basketball	3
Advice	4
Staff	4

Winter Pep Assembly

Let's Bowl!

By Jordan Clark, Journalist

This past year, the bowling team had a very strong season. The girls were the 2015-2016 Class D Section VI Runner-ups. The highest average of the season for the girls belonged to Emily Norton, a senior, with an average of 167. She also has the high game, with 246, and the high series with 554. The other members of the team contributed many wins and points. There were two seniors, Maisie Terhune, one junior: Shelby Snow, and three freshmen: Bryanna Warner, Emily Zamborik, and Bridget Ritter.

The boys were 2015-2016 Class D Section VI Championship, and then the 2015-2016 Division 2 Champions. The high average belonged to Josh Snow, a sophomore, with 185. The high game went to Evan Norton, a sophomore, with 269, and the high series went to Josh Snow and Alex Kyler, a junior, with 619. There were three other sophomores, Trent Gray, Caleb Terhune, and Devon Warner. The babies of the team were the two freshmen, Jared Walsh and Malik Williams. Both teams were very dedicated to the sport, and that is the reason they were so successful. Congratulations to the teams on their very strong season this year. We hope you do just as great next year.

Wrestling

By Samantha Burkett

Teamwork was key this year for the wrestling team. Staying focused on the sport and keeping a strong bond amongst the team was something the team worked hard to achieve. They were coached by Randy Spicer, Trevor Spicer, and Devo Aldergrien. The team won an outstanding five matches out of nine. The team worked well together and will excel next year if they stay together. The team bonded well together, which automatically meant for a great season. If you asked who the star player was, the reply would easily have been Preston Rhodes. He was highest in pins, reverses, and essentially all the team's points. Overall, the boys showed great effort and worked hard as a team.

Frewsburg Modified Basketball

By Ryan Schrecengost, Sports Writer

This years Frewsburg Boys Modified Basketball program showed excellent teamwork and steady improvement. The Modified program consisted of an A Team and a B Team unlike last year, where there was an 8th grade team and a 7th grade team. The A team featured Caleb Carr, Jameson Spasato, Zachary Heberline, Braydon Coleson, Peyton Hayes, Leo Diaz, Jackson Yost, and Traden Gray. They finished with a 2 and 12 record, topping Falconer twice. Their first victory was by 16 points (31-15) and their second victory was a dominating 30 point win. They also suffered two heartbreaking losses to Maple Grove losing the first game 31-30 and the second 40-38. They were coached by Mrs. Beaver and Mrs. Moncelli as the assistant coach.

The B Team finished with a record of 1-13. The team members were Skylar Luce, Aidan Cardone, Tyler Eckman, Braxin Constable, Jace

Ormsby, Ian Hayes, Dylan Bandy, Brandon Davis, and Ryan Schrecengost. The team split two games with Falconer, an 18-13 win and a 25-15 loss. They also suffered a close loss to Randolph with a final score of 20-16. The team was coached by Mrs. Moncelli and the assistant coach was Mrs. Beaver. All of the players are looking forward to getting back on the court next year and improve on this years experience.

Survive

Grade 7 Survival Days

National Honor Society

By Kaitlin Franzen, Journalist

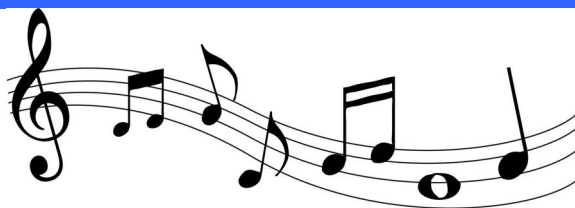

The year of 2015-2016 introduced many new students into Frewsburg's chapter of National Honor Society. This big group of inductees included six from the class of 2016 and fifteen from the class of 2017. This amazing group of students have many plans to raise money for the school and to fund many other foundations. There have already been multiple fundraisers such as hat days and a perishables collection. However, the biggest collection was the penny war started up by Libby Hartley. She was able to raise hundreds of dollars and all of this money was donated. For the student population, honor society has plans for a popcorn day similar to what we, as elementary students, used to experience. Along with the fun school oriented projects, there are many student run projects that are in the process of being put into action. From the usual food pantry help and humane society volunteering, plans to perform a community clean up are being looked at. The goal for this group of ambitious students is to leave a positive impact on the school.

Music in the Air

Music and memories seemed to be the theme for the 2015 winter concert at Frewsburg Central School. Jazz band performed first, followed by Concert band. Both bands, directed by Alicia Laska and student teacher Brooke Skiba, performed a total of nine songs. Jazz band showed everyone their musical talent with "Jammin with Charlie" and "Buffalo Head" by Sorenson and Pearson, "Jump Jive an' Wail" arranged by Roger Holmes, "Silent Night" arranged by Cndy Clark and Paul Clark, and finally "You're a Mean One, Mister Grinch" by Alber Hague. Concert band also had a unique mix with "An English Christmas" by Clare Grundman, "Hungarian Dances No. 5&6" by J.

Brahma, "Ukranian Bell Carol" arranged by James D. Ployhar, and "Sleigh Ride" by Leroy Anderson. With a range of Christmas music from the classics like sleigh ride to the more modern White Winter Hymnal the Winter concert had a beautiful mix of both. As tradition has it, senior chorus performed first. This large group of students sang their hearts out. The group was able to bring back Cody Hiller, an amazing violinist who graduated from Frewsburg, to play in the song "Closer to the Flame" by Boersma, Fettke. With Hiller also came a group of guest percussionists from Fredonia College who aided us in "Betelehemu" Arr. By Brooks. The final product of both songs were wonderful. Once senior/mixed chorus left the stage, Omega chorus was left to perform their music. It was an emotional finish for the smaller chorus as they performed That's Christmas to me. As they sang, a screen was lowered and baby pictures of each of the singers with their families during Christmas appeared. Many in the audience shed tears by the end of the song. This will be a concert that will be impossible to forget in Frewsburg for many years to come.

Pets in the Classroom!

By Jordan Clark, Journalist

cently, Mrs. Harris's classroom has gotten two new visitors. Guinea pigs! Their names are Ted and Fred, and the kids absolutely love them! Mrs. Harris got these guinea pigs from a teacher's grant called 'Pets in the Classroom.' The grant supplies students with pets to teach them social skills. Student Zachary Poncharik told me that they taught him many things, but the biggest thing was the responsibility. The kids take amazing care of these pets. They feed them, give them water, and play with them. Destinie Cappadonia even gives them haircuts! When there are breaks, the kids take them home to care for them there. On top of the responsibility, the pets teach these kids independence. They learn what it will be like when they are out of school.

"They teach us life skills," Another student, Melissa Antill, told me, "They teach us what life will be like." The kids have researched the proper way to train and teach these guinea pigs. The pets also help to calm the children, especially when they've had a bad day, or if they just need to relax. This classroom has had guinea pigs for eight years, but these two are new this year. They seem to be very well adjusted and taken care of. I don't think these pets could have found a better home, or children who could love them more! I'm sure if you stop by this classroom, Mrs. Harris would be sure to let you take a peek at them!

Advice:

A Pinch of Positivity

Here's a helpful piece of information everyone can use: saying one nice thing to someone affects them more than you can understand. Here's an example: an opinionated, strong willed person who always speaks their mind is called negative and rude. They are constantly wary of what they say because they don't want to be seen as rude, or wonder what others are thinking of them. There are reasons that people are they are, and a person may not be negative if you don't treat them negatively. When you place a label on someone, it's hard for them to ever be someone else. Just because you think that person can be negative, that doesn't mean that they are. When it comes down to it, everyone knows how to treat others; but if someone is treated poorly, chances are they are going to treat others just as poorly as they are treated. Our personalities and actions are all built off other' opinions of us, and I think everyone can do with a little less negativity in our lives.

FREWSBURG CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Frewspaper

Staff

Lisa Burns, Advisor
Kaitlin Franzen, Editor in Chief
Anna Smith, Chief Financial Officer
Jordan Clark, Chief Copy Editor
Caleb Barber, Layout Editor
Samantha Burkett, Writer
Jocelyn Estabrook, Photographer
Lindsey Hartley, Writer
Maddie Huggins, Photographer
Tyler Ridout, Photographer
Ryan Schrecengost, Sports Writer

Bailey South, Writer and Photographer

Anna Torres-Carvella, Writer

Special thanks to the following who make this all possible:

Administration

Danielle O'Connor, Superintendent

Bill Caldwell, Middle/High School Principal

Ann Morrison, Assistant Middle/High School Principal

Board of Education

J. Eric Wright, President
Thomas Fenton, Vice President
Janet Black
Chad Chitester
Jason Ruhlman
Lauren Greenwood
Randall Wiltsie

