THE LATEST HAPPENINGS FROM CHESTER CHARTER SCHOLARS ACADEMY TO YOU

Reason to Celebrate

The newest addition to the CCSA Campus, the Math and Special Education Wing, is officially open for learning. While the space has been in use since the start of the school year, a ceremonial ribbon cutting event was held on November 9 to celebrate the accomplishment. Linton Stables, who spearheaded the expansion, alongside Mandy Kennedy and the rest of the facilities committee, spoke about how this space came to fruition – from temporary modular units to a beautiful, colorful hallway that looks like it always belonged. The wing added an additional 9 rooms, specifically for math and special ed intervention. We are proud to add this new wing to the ever-growing list of achievements made possible through donor support.

A Family Affair

CCSA's annual Family Math & Literacy Night took place on November 16. The mission of the evening was to provide families with better understanding of the methods and means used by teachers in the classroom so that they, too, can implement the strategies at home. The festivities featured reading and math games for all grades, as well as a winter coat giveaway sponsored by Autodealers CARing for kids and Springfield Ford Lincoln.

Fall Festivities

The first trimester showcase performances of the 23/24 school year were a resounding success. CCSA's largest dance class yet – 28 middle schoolers – took part in a beautiful jazz performance set to Amanda Gorman's children book "Change Sings". Theatre teacher, Jasmine Seapoe, accompanied the dancers with beautiful vocals throughout the show. The students, directed by dance teacher Christina Brown, brought Gorman's words of unity, change, and togetherness to life through movement.

The fun continued with an entertaining Lip Sync Battle put on by 5th grade theatre students. The goal of the performance was for students to gain confidence, master the art of stage presence, and achieve first-hand experience in the planning & preparation that goes into a theatre production. With an audience of their peers and parents, groups of students performed songs by Jackson 5, Nicki Minaj, and Soul For Real.

Bravo to all the performers and teachers involved in the mesmerizing productions.
