

Fundamentals of Education

If you are interested in working with children of any age - as a coach, a youth leader, a counselor, a teacher, a future parent, or as part of a future profession that will one day interact with children - this is the class for you! Fundamentals of Education is the class where you get to explore yourself (your learning styles, psychology, and brain development) as well as the learning styles and development of your future students. You will get to work with teachers and students in an actual classroom and you will learn first-hand about the education profession.

Teaching As a Profession I

This class is the second in the Education and Training pathway. During this class, you will get to explore your creativity by planning instruction and by teaching students and evaluating what good teaching looks like. You will get to work with teachers and students in an actual classroom, and you will learn first – hand how to design and teach engaging lessons.

Teaching As a Profession 2

This class is the third in the education and Training pathway. You will expand your knowledge of teaching and learning by studying classroom management and diversity in education. In addition, you will plan your own classroom and school, design your own rules and consequences, and explore what education looks like in other countries. You will put your management and planning skills to the test in actual classrooms, where you will work with teachers and students to build your portfolio of experience.
