Explorer Academy students will each be given a signed copy of “Always Bee Yourself Unless it’s Halloween” by Summer Breeze on Thursday and will have time to read it together. The book will be incorporated into the school’s literary instruction.

Breeze, a North Dakota native now living in Utah, is a friend of the family of an Explorer Academy student. The author asked the family to nominate a school to receive a donation of signed books and the family nominated Explorer Academy.

“Always Bee Yourself Unless it’s Halloween” features the author’s own dogs as they try on a variety of Halloween costumes in hopes of finding the perfect one in time for trick-or-treating. It explores the theme that it is always acceptable to be yourself, no masks required, unless it’s Halloween. The book has been featured on multiple Amazon New Release Best Seller lists.
