The magic and spectacle of the Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade is coming to Centennial Elementary School.

WHAT: Centennial Thanksgiving Parade
WHEN: Tuesday, November 21 at 9:20 a.m.
WHERE: Centennial Elementary School, 4201 25th Street South, Fargo

Centennial Elementary School’s fourth graders are bringing the glitz and glam of New York City all the way to their own school building as they hold a mock Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade on Tuesday ahead of Thanksgiving break.

Instead of snaking its way through the busy streets of Manhattan, Centennial’s procession of about 100 fourth graders will make its way through the school’s hallways and each of its classrooms.

Students have spent class time crafting their own miniature floats or balloons for the parade. They found inspiration by watching clips from previous Macy’s parades and studied how the real floats are made. Given the freedom to create whatever they wish, the parade will feature recreations of students’ favorite movie and television characters, animals, or whatever else their imaginations could dream up.
